

PARIS 'PURIFIED' OF NAZI FRIENDS

Dr. Carrel, Scientist, and Others Accused of Collaboration.

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
United Press Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Aug. 29.—French patriots, rapidly "purifying" Paris with the dismissal or arrest of alleged collaborationists including Actor Sacha Guitry and Scientist Dr. Alexis Carrel, prepared today to proclaim the formation of the fourth republic and organize new French divisions to aid allied forces in Europe and Asia.

Guitry, also well-known as an author, was among eight prominent Frenchmen arrested for having been too friendly with German authorities during the occupation.

(A Paris broadcast, recorded by F.C.C. monitors, said that De Gaulle and members of the government would review a parade of American troops along the Champs Elysees through the Place de Concorde today.)

Worked With Lindbergh

Carrel, former research biologist at Rockefeller institute in New York who with Charles A. Lindbergh developed a mechanical "heart," was dismissed from his public functions under the "purification" program of Valery Radot, new minister of health. The 71-year-old scientist was a director of the Vichy foundation for the study of human relations and head of the Carrel Institute.

The arrest of alleged collaborationists was in line with a proclamation by Marcel Willard, secretary general of justice, calling for "immediate punishment of traitors and profiteers of defeat" and promising that "all guilty persons must be unable to do any further harm and unable to escape the fate they deserve."

As patriot forces cleansed Paris, George Bidault, president of the council of resistance, announced that the fourth French republic would be proclaimed soon in a solemn session at city hall celebrating the restoration of liberty in France.

Two Words Are Added

Significantly, two words have been added to the slogan of the third republic: "Liberty, Equality, Fraternity"—on the official newspaper of the forces of the interior. Added words are "or death."

An officer attached to the staff of Lt. Gen. Pierre Koenig, military governor of Paris, disclosed that plans were being made to recruit several divisions to reinforce the new French army. The units will consist of volunteers, he said, and will be furnished with the most modern equipment.

In connection with this disclosure, the daily newspaper, France, said a French expeditionary corps in North Africa was preparing to go to the Far East to aid in the war against Japan and help recapture French Indo-China.

Mobilization Not Planned

Koenig's staff officer said a general or partial mobilization in France was not contemplated because sufficient equipment and armament is not available.

The labor commissioner's office revealed that more than 2,500,000 Frenchmen are in Germany—more than 1,000,000 war prisoners, 850,000 drafted laborers and 700,000 political deportees.

Paris was turned over to Koenig at a simple, informal ceremony at the historic Invalides, near Napoleon's tomb, yesterday when an American general in command of military forces, handed the French resistance leader a sealed letter.

The American officer will remain in Paris as a representative of the supreme allied commander and would immediately assume full military control of the city if the situation warranted it.

City Considered Safe

The French capital was considered safe from any German counter-attack, as enemy elements have been cleared completely from the north and northeast environs and only a few scattered artillery units still were fighting in the northwest. For that reason it was turned over to the French to govern.

Complete arrangements have been made to handle the food situation, which although a formidable problem, was not considered desperate and no serious shortages are expected. Parisians were told, however, to make every effort to live on present stocks until the end of the month.

$131,307 POSTED BY ACCIDENT DRIVERS

Indiana drivers involved in automobile accidents have already posted $131,307 to cover damages under the motor vehicle safety responsibility law passed last November.

The figure was released by Don F. Stiver, director of public safety, and represented the 32 per cent of those involved in accidents who did not carry insurance.

All persons not owning insurance are required under the law to post negotiable security but the state assumes no responsibility for the collecting or awarding of damages.

ECONOMIST AT I. U. TO AID COSTA RICA

On sabbatical leave for the next four months to assist the Republic of Costa Rica in the development of a price control system, Dr. C. L. Christenson of the Indiana university economics department will leave for that country today.

Dr. Christenson will go to the Central American republic upon its request and through arrangements made by the U. S. department of state and the OPA, with which he was connected during 1941-43. Dr. Christenson taught at Lewis Institute, Chicago and Hamilton college, N. Y., prior to his association at Indiana university.

Rooftop-Hungry Raccoon Worries Denver Residents

DENVER, Aug. 29 (U. P.)—Inclusive residents of Park Hill, exclusive Denver residential section, hoped tonight that at least one of their numerous plans to capture the "coon" would be successful.

The goon is—or at least the folks think he is—a raccoon with a warped sense of humor. Also a warped appetite. He likes to eat the shingles off house tops for a midnight snack, and that keeps folks awake. Besides that, it's expensive. The latest development in the case of the rooftop renegade, who has wrecked the tops of a dozen homes, is the placing of a price on his head.

L. C. Cook, clerk at the Capitol Hill precinct police station, offered a reward of $5 for the capture of the outlaw. He said he would like to see "the little varmint" captured alive so he could tame it for a household pet.

An elaborate array of booby traps has been set for the midnight marauder. The traps range from an old-fashioned apple box job, with a mechanism to spring the trap on the quarry, to an entire garage, which has been rigged up with an impromptu trap door with baited trigger.
