

PLAN DIPLOMAS FOR VETERANS

School Heads Open Way to Complete Courses Interrupted by War.

A new program for the counseling and guidance of returning veterans and civilians has been started in the Indianapolis public high schools under the direction of H. L. Harshman, assistant superintendent in charge of extended school services. Services planned to meet the needs of veterans and civilians for vocational and educational guidance and training to cope with post-war problems were outlined at a meeting of Mr. Harshman with J. Fred Murphy, director of the schools' counseling service, and Emmett A. Rice, director of special youth services.

One of the problems to be met is that of high school boys who entered the services before graduation and, while they wish to complete the required credits for a diploma, are too adult to enter regular classes.

A survey made by Mr. Rice covering 285 of the boys who left school before graduation showed that half of them had completed more than 50 per cent of the work needed for a diploma. The survey also shows 38.4 per cent of that group to be above average in their class work. On the basis of this survey it is believed that more than half of the some 600 boys who left school before graduation would wish to complete the course.

EDUCATOR LAUBACH BOOKED FOR OCT. 10

Dr. Frank C. Laubach, internationally known for his campaign against illiteracy, will speak Oct. 10, in the Second Presbyterian church.

Dr. Laubach, who employs a simplified method of teaching, has carried his campaign to the Philippines, Mexico, India, Africa, Central and South America and the West Indies.

The invitation to come to Indianapolis was extended to Dr. Laubach by the ecumenicity and world service committee of the church federation and Dr. John B. Ferguson, committee chairman. Others co-operating in the meeting are the council of churchwomen, the missionary education institute and the United Christian Missionary society.

Give New Courses At Central YMCA

THREE NEW courses in personnel and office management, welding, and chemistry opened last night at the Central Y. M. C. A. night school. Enrollment will continue through Monday with the new courses and classes in public speaking and salesmanship still open for registration.

The Y. M. C. A. school's faculty has been completed as follows: Paul Carmichael, commercial; Fred Pierpont, social sciences; Alfred K. Jones, public speaking, salesmanship and English; Gladys Tyndall, mathematics; Claude Tyndall, Latin and English; Ralph Wolverton, chemistry; Louis Lukenbill, personnel and office management; C. J. Miller, welding; Celia Galvin, tutor in elementary subjects, and Dan Ehalt, director of the school.

Both grade and high school classes are being conducted this year.

DOG RIDES PATROL WITH OWNER TO JAIL

Corky, a little wire-haired terrier, followed his master into jail yesterday.

He rode the patrol wagon and refused to get out when policemen gave him a shove.

Robert Johnson, 43, of 1645 Churchman ave., was arrested on charges of drunkenness at East and Washington sts. Corky insisted on going along and jumped into the patrol wagon.

But the little terrier wasn't permitted to go in the cell.

He waited patiently in the turnkey's office at the jail . . . that is, until they chased him out.

Corky was running east through the alley near the jail . . . maybe looking for another entrance to the cell, when police last saw him.

MONTY AGAIN WEARS SWEATER LOST IN '40

LONDON, Sept. 20 (U. P.).—Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery again is wearing the brown pull-over sweater he lost in the retreat from Belgium in 1940.

When the Germans chased the British from Louvain, Montgomery lost most of his kit.

The monks at Louvain found the sweater and saved it in the hope Montgomery would come back.

Veteran Gets 1st Allowance Check

LESLIE D. ANDREWS, a 46-year-old veteran of both world wars, has received the first readjustment allowance check for unemployed veterans issued in Indiana. The check was received from Everett L. Gardner, director of the state unemployment security division.

Mr. Andrews, who served for 20 months as pharmacist's mate in the navy, goes to work today in Shelbyville. During the last war he was in the army, serving 18 months overseas.

Mr. Gardner said that a total of 88 ex-servicemen had filed readjustment allowance claims last week.

32.50

When we speak of Alpagora . . . we use "DOUBLE TALK" in the right way—IN YOUR WAY!

You get in these Coats a "DOUBLE
DENSITY" in the fabric—"DOUBLE
DENSITY" means PLUS warmth—it means EXTRA wear—it means EXTRA depth and the feeling of luxuring—it means extra VALUE! And yet . . . the ALPAGORA is very light in weight . . . extremely comfortable and agreeable to the body.

Alpagora Coats . . . are tailored with a quality thoroughness—they have that certain something . . . called (for the want of a better name) . . . EXPRESSION!

Alpagoras are known to Millions of men
through the columns of your favorite magazine (and through the announcements of merchants in Metropolitan areas.)

Alpagoras are known to hundreds of thousands through the fine, enduring service
. . . that they are giving season after season.

They're ready for you, Sir!

Drop in—when you can—you'll enjoy a "close up" of (and being in) America's favorite coat!
