

State Baptist Parley Stated

2-Day Conference to Start Here Monday.

Delegates from 400 churches will attend the Indiana Baptist convention Monday through Wednesday in the First Baptist church.

The state Baptist pastors' conference also will meet Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning and the Indiana Woman's Baptist Mission society Tuesday morning in the First church.

The Tuesday evening session of the convention will be in charge of Baptist laymen of the state and a chorus of laymen will sing. Chauncey E. Brockway, an attorney of Sharon, Pa., will give an address on "A Layman Looks at the Jobs Men Want." In the afternoon, the Rev. C. D. Strother of New Albany will speak on "Our Post-War Task."

Atwater in Charge

Dr. C. W. Atwater, host pastor, is in charge of local arrangements. Details regarding the use of the church will be handled by Jesse C. Moore. The committee on registration and credentials includes Mrs. Wilbert Barber, Mrs. William Burnhardt, Mrs. C. H. Shaw, Mrs. E. E. Mitchell and the Rev. George T. King. Mrs. Herbert E. Hinton is head of the reception committee and Mrs. A. E. Hoy will preside at the information desk. Donald Tooley is chairman of public relations.

Miss Leah Blanche Edgar of East Chicago will address the pastors' conference Monday afternoon. Tuesday morning, Dr. J. C. Masses of Winona Lake will speak on "The Baptist Heritage, a Trust." Dr. J. F. Rake of Evansville will talk on "Christ, the Chief Cornerstone," and Dr. J. Marion Smith of Muncie will preside.

Mrs. Mitchell will preside at the mission society meeting; Mrs. Paul E. Dorsey will lead the singing, and Mrs. Fred Crostree will play the organ. Mrs. W. H. Dillard, newly elected president, will give the address. Others on the program are Mrs. J. Hinton, Mrs. H. E. Drake, Mrs. J. P. Overtree and Mrs. Randall T. Capen.

Christian Science Lesson Announced

All Christian Science churches tomorrow will study the lesson-subject, "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

The golden text is "O, Lord My God, I cried unto thee and thou hast heard me. O Lord, thou hast brought up my soul from the grave: thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit." Psalms 130: 2, 3.

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Bible calls death an enemy, and Jesus overcame death and the grave instead of yielding to it. He was 'the way.' To him, therefore, death was not the threshold over which he must pass into living glory." P. 39. "Jesus' dead was for the enlightenment of men and for the salvation of the whole world from sin, sickness and death." P. 45.

GOVERNOR TO TALK AT OPEN-AIR RALLY

Governor Schriker will address the open-air, family rally day service on the lawn of the Broadway Methodist church tomorrow at 9:30 a. m.

Officers and teachers of the school will be installed by Dr. John F. Edwards, pastor, at the 10:40 service. J. Curtis Weigel is general superintendent of the school. Each officer and teacher will be presented with a scholarship to the national mission for Christian teachers.

Power Blackout Threatened By C. I. O. in Northeast Ohio

CLEVELAND, Oct. 7 (U. P.).—The imminence of a paralyzing power blackout, which would shut off electricity in 350,000 homes, cripple Cleveland's electrically-operated transportation system and halt production in several hundred war plants, threatened northeastern Ohio today.

As 1770 C. I. O. employees of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. voted "to strike or not," United Utility Workers union officials refused to reveal strike plans "until the opportune moment."

The strike vote call, made by the union on Sept. 7, resulted when the regional war labor board rejected a labor-management proposal to raise employees' wages 7 cents an hour.

The C. E. I. plants in five counties—Cuyahoga, Lake, Geauga, Ashland and Lorain—supply 90 percent of the light and power to greater Cleveland and northeastern Ohio homes and factories.

Strike balloting began at 12:01 this morning under the auspices of the regional national labor relations board and will continue until 6 tonight.

A total of 131 towns will be affected by the strike should it materialize, company officials said, with Cleveland—the nation's fifth largest city—scheduled to be the hardest hit.

LODGE SUPPER SLATED

The bond committee of Alfarata council No. 5, Degree of Pocahontas, will hold a pitch-in-supper at 5:30 p. m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Zella Delashmitt, 1639 Park ave.

Architect's Drawing of Proposed Church Here

The architect's drawing above shows the proposed Catholic church of early American design, and adjoining buildings, to be erected at 38th st. and E. Forest Manor ave. The Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Indianapolis, recently purchased the 11-acre tract at that address for the erection of a church, school, rectory and teachers' residence. The proposed buildings will front on 38th st. and stand about 180 ft. from the thoroughfare. Architects are D. A. Bohlen and Son, 1001 Farm Bureau building.

Trio to Represent Local Lutherans at Convention

Dr. Homer E. Turney, president of the Indiana United Lutheran synod, Dr. R. H. Bentling and O. K. Jensen will represent the denomination's churches of this community at the convention of the United Lutheran church in Minneapolis Wednesday through Oct. 17.

Dr. Bentling is the pastor of St. Mark's United Lutheran church, one of 10 of the denomination's churches in Marion county. Mr. Jensen is a local layman.

Results of the Lutheran World action campaign, whose goal is $1,315,000, will be reported at the convention. Since last year's fund was over-subscribed, it is expected that the goal for 1944 will be attained. The money will be used to meet the emergencies arising out of war. These include the rebuilding of missions, aid to the ministry to service-

Dr. Laubach To Be Heard

Famed Educator to Address Mass Meeting Tuesday.

Dr. Frank C. Laubach, who is internationally known for his work among the illiterates of the world, will address a mass meeting in the Second Presbyterian church Tuesday at 7:45 p. m.

Dr. Laubach, Congregational missionary, is sponsored by the ecumenicity committee of the church federation in co-operation with the council of churchwomen, the Missionary Education Institute and the United Christian Missionary society.

The speaker developed his simple method of teaching illiterates while working among the Moros of the Philippine islands. His system brought such phenomenal success that he has extended it to India, Africa, Ceylon, Turkey, Malaysia, Mexico and South America.

Dr. Laubach picks illiterates at random from street or field and teaches them to read in an incredibly short time. Some have actually learned to decipher the printed page in less than an hour while others take a day or several days.

The time required to teach an illiterate to read usually depends upon the I. Q. of the pupil and how complex or difficult his native language may be. Dr. Laubach says. The Laubach method, however, has been tested and found pedagogically sound by Columbia university educators. It has been applied to about 80 languages and dialects.

Dr. John B. Ferguson, chairman of the sponsoring committee, will preside, and Dr. Jean S. Milner, host pastor, will give the scripture reading and prayer. Prof. Charles F. Hansen will play the organ and Maurice Nord will sing. Deacons of the Second church will serve as ushers.

DR. SIDNEY HARRY WORKING IN SOUTH

Dr. Sidney Blair Harry, pastor of the Meridian Heights Presbyterian church, is spending October in Columbia, S. C., ministering to service men in connection with the First Presbyterian church.

Dr. Harry is sponsored in the work by the Presbyterian War-time commission. During his absence, the Rev. Harry E. Campbell will occupy the Meridian Heights pulpit.
