IN the football pick 'em league look for another clean sweep by the Hoosier Big Three this week, Indiana over Nebraska by a wide margin, Purdue over Iowa Preflight and Notre Dame over Dartmouth. . . . The contest at West Lafayette is expected to be most interesting.

In Western conference games, Illinois over Iowa, Michigan over Northwestern and Ohio State over Wisconsin. . . . The Wisconsin-Ohio State fracas stacks up as a rousing affair.

In other major college tilts, Annapolis Navy over Duke, West Point Army over Pittsburgh, Yale over Columbia, Cornell over Colgate, Georgia Tech over Auburn, Minnesota over Missouri, California over College of Pacific, Tennessee over Florida, Georgia over Kentucky, Tulsa over Texas Tech, Louisiana State over Texas A&M, Randolph Field over Texas Christian, Maryland over West Virginia, Rice over Tulane, Texas over Oklahoma, Michigan State over Kansas State.

MICHIGAN crossed up Minnesota last Saturday by throwing only one pass the whole afternoon. . . . The Gophers were really hopped up to defeat the Wolverines, but it didn't turn out that way.

Statue Planned for Annie Oakley

PLANS for the erection of a life-size statue to the memory of Annie Oakley (Laura Moses), internationally famous marksman, are under way at Minster, O.

Interested in the project are the Grand American Handicap association, the American Rifleman Publishing Co., Sportsman's Revue Publishing Co. and a number of individuals.

A memorial shaft was erected in 1936 to the marksman, 12 miles southwest of Minster, O., along U. S. Route 127. . . . According to John H. Moses, the shaft was not erected at her birthplace but at the homestead of her mother, where Annie passed most of her early years.

IT was to raise money to pay off the mortgage on her mother's property that the "Moses girl" became a hunter and proficient with a rifle. . . . Her accuracy was recognized at nine.

At 15 she met Buffalo Bill and toured both America and Europe with him. . . . She broke records for 17 years.

Minor Leagues Announce Meetings

FOUR leagues, three of them not operating since the war began, have announced meetings to plan for the 1945 season.

The annual gathering of the board of directors of the American association will be held Sunday, Dec. 3, at the Schroeder hotel, Milwaukee. . . . The league's constitution provides that the annual session shall be held in the pennant-winning city, and Milwaukee was selected for that reason.

The Texas, which sat out the 1943 and 1944 seasons, will consider resuming operations at a meeting to be held in Dallas, Tex., Oct. 21. . . . The annual session of the Sally league is scheduled for Nov. 5. . . . A special meeting previously was held at Augusta, Ga., Sept. 17, to talk over returning to active status next season, but action was postponed.

A session of the Pioneer league, which also suspended, has been called by President Jack Halliwell for Nov. 12, at Pocatello, Idaho.

IN the 1920 world series between Cleveland and Brooklyn, Clarence Mitchell, Dodger pitcher, batted into five putouts in two tries at bat, a triple and double play. . . . The triple play was unassisted by Bill Wambegans, Cleveland second sacker. . . . In the 1925 series, Roger Peckinpaugh, Washington shortstop, made eight errors.

Randolph Field Fliers Loom As One of Great Texas Teams

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 12 (U. P.).—The Randolph Field Fliers, latest in a long line of superlative football teams in Texas, may go down as one of the greatest of them all, their supporters insisted today.

Even for enthusiastic Texans that is saying a lot, because the state traditionally produces at least one great team every year. However, in this current wartime season no other eleven hereabouts appears capable of topping the Fliers, who have an awesome collection of ex-collegiate and pro stars from every part of the nation.

Already, the promoters of the Houston Oil bowl game are seeking to line up a New Year's day game between the Randolph Fliers and the Second Air Force Superbombers, who lost their first game in two years last Saturday. At Dallas, the trend for the Cotton Bowl game appears to favor a match between Randolph and the Southwest conference champion, despite the fact that the Fliers already have beaten two of the top contenders, Rice and Texas.

Proof of the strength of the Fliers is the fact that they could lose an all-round backfield ace like Glenn Dobbs and never miss him. Dobbs, who first gained notoriety at Tulsa, and who sparked the Fliers through their successful 1943 season, now is starting with the Superbombers, but he isn't needed at Randolph.

Key man with Randolph now is Big Bill Dudley, all-America back for Virginia in 1941 and all-pro for the Texas Longhorns, who may have things easier from now on in the drive to their third straight conference championship, gained a "moral" victory over Randolph last week by scoring a single touchdown in the 42-0 defeat. Previously, Randolph had defeated Rice 59 to 0.

Next on the list is Southern Methodist which opposes the Ramblers in a game at San Antonio Saturday night. Randolph is expected to hand the unbeaten Mustangs the same kind of a beating administered to the others.

Other games on the program Saturday include Oklahoma against Texas at Dallas in the annual "cow-country" classic, Texas A. & M. vs. Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, La., Norman Naval vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville, Ark., Texas Tech vs. Tulsa at Tulsa, Okla., and West Texas State vs. Amarillo A. F. at Amarillo, Tex.

At Greenville, Coach Raymond (Gaumy) Neal of DePauw said three regulars, injured in the Northwestern game three weeks ago, will be ready for full time duty when the Tigers meet undefeated Miami, O., Saturday. Fullback Jim Stauffer, and Guards Eldon Wright and George Babine will start against Miami as DePauw tries for its first win of the season, Neal said.

Coach John Magnabosco of Ball State, preparing to open an abbreviated football schedule Saturday against Central Normal, was on the "walling wall" saying that his starting backfield will average 135 pounds and his line average only a few pounds heavier. The game at Muncie will be Normal's third, Normal lost to Wabash's "Bs" and last Saturday tied Franklin.

Women Turn in 2 More 600 Series in Bowling League

With men bowlers failing to produce their usual Wednesday night scoring feats, feminine pin-smashers topped the spotlight in last night's league sessions.

Although the Indianapolis league was in session at Pritchett's none of the 12 teams were able to produce a 3000 total and only one individual, Earl Goodhue, reached 650. Goodhue just did make the mark with 213, 242, 195-650 for Connie Funeral home.

Paul Clark proved the big gun of the evening when he turned in 220, 221, 233-674 for the Matrix team of the R. C. A. league, rolling at Fox-Hunt. Gene Zweissler continued his heavy scoring with 210, 220, 227-657 in the American Legion loop at the Pennsylvania.

Members of the Johnson Coal Co. Women's league at Fox-Hunt were the outstanding scorers of the evening. Two 600 series were turned in, five were over the 550 mark and 11 topped 500.

Gertrude Bradley posted her second 600 series of the season when she cracked the maples for 200, 182, 223-615 for Red Rock. Tillie Kugel posted her initial 600 series hitting the mark on the nose with 201, 191, 208-600 for Gold Medal Beer. It was the 13th and 14th 600-series turned in by feminine pastimers in league play during the current season.

Those topping 550 in the Johnson circuit were Dorothy Berkesop 590, Patty Striebeck 587, Bertha Urbancic 573, Ruth Krefel 568 and Judy Hindel 560.

If enthusiasm means anything, Ben Davis high school's football team should go places this season, for the Giant gridders really take their daily practice sessions seriously.

Ohio State Meets Badgers In Big Ten Feature Battle

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (U. P.).—Led by five veterans carrying a two-year-old grudge, Ohio State's football team shoved off for Madison, Wis., today in quest of revenge.

Wisconsin and Ohio State, both undefeated, clash at Camp Randall Saturday in the Big Ten's top game and it was there—in 1942—that Wisconsin defeated Ohio State, 17-7, in one of the hardest-played games of that season.

Coach Harry Stuhldreger had his greatest Badger team that year, led by All-American End Dave Schreiner and the "three H's," Marlin (Pat) Harder, Elroy (Crazy Legs) Hirsch and Mark Hoskins.

The Buckeyes arrived in Madison undefeated and on their way to a Big Ten championship and national glory, but when the smoke had cleared from Camp Randall, Wisconsin had climbed into the conference lead with a 17-7 victory won on the scoring drives of Harder and Hirsch.

Buckeyes Won in 1942

Carried along by the smashing drives of halfback Paul Sarringhaus and fullback Gene Pekete, however, Ohio State went on to win the Western Conference title and the nation's No. 1 rating as the lowly Iowa Hawkeyes disposed of Wisconsin and its championship ambitions, 6-0.

Five members of that 1942 championship team, ends Jack Dugger and Cy Souders, tackle Bill Willis, center and Capt. Gordon Appleby and halfback Les Harvorth, are expected to start against Wisconsin Saturday. All seniors now, the veteran quintet started another title drive at Ohio State last Saturday when the Buckeyes defeated Iowa, 34-0.

If it hadn't been for Iowa's star-

Orioles Take Series Finale Before 23,536

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12 (U. P.).—The Baltimore Orioles of the International league held the 1944 little world series title today, defeating the American association playoff winners, the Louisville Colonels, four games to two in the annual minor league classic.

Winners of the International league pennant during the regular season and also of the post-season playoffs, the Orioles defeated the Colonels 5-3 in the sixth game of the best-of-seven series here last night before 23,536 fans.

The Birds came from behind with three runs in the seventh inning, paced by singles from the bats of Bob Latschaw, Frank Skaff and Sherman Lollar and two Louisville errors for their margin of victory.

Colonels Take Early Lead

The Colonels had taken the lead in the second inning when they tagged Baltimore starter Stan West for two runs.

Both clubs used three pitchers with Ambrose (Bobo) Palica getting credit for the victory and Oles Clark suffering the loss. West, Sam Lowry and Palica collaborated on a seven-hit hurling job while their mates tagged starter Mel Deutsch and his successors for 10 safe blows.

The Colonels narrowly missed at least a tie in the ninth inning when, with two down and a man on base, Nick Polly hit a ball into the left field stand that was foul by inches.

Senior Golfers Name Officers

The Indiana State Senior Golfers' association held its annual championship tournament at Broadmoor yesterday and elected officers for the 1945 season at a banquet last night.

Frank H. Davis is the new president; J. D. Allen, first vice president; E. S. Trimble, second vice president; H. G. Veneman, secretary-treasurer, and C. H. Roberson, statistician.

William Atteberry became 1944 club champion when he carded a 78. He was awarded the George Ade cup. Jack Carr, defending champion, won the W. A. Kennedy cup when he posted an 80 in Class C for players between the ages of 50 and 60.

Allen's 80 was low gross in Class B competition, that included members between 60 and 64 years of age. Winner in Class A, for players 65 years of age and over, was Henry Simon with an 83.

An 84-14-70, turned in by H. E. Lollar was good for the E. B. Bobbitt award for low net score in all classes. Frank W. Young received the Manning cup, awarded to the golfer showing the most improvement during the season.

Williams Wins

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 12 (U. P.).—Holman Williams, 158, Detroit, outboxing his opponent with left jabs, won a 10-round decision over Little Tiger Wade, 160, San Francisco, in a dull main event here last night.

who leads the Buckeye scorers with three touchdowns. . . . Small, speedy, and elusive, Janekko has done his scoring on "spot" substitution and evidently is scheduled for that role the rest of the season.
