Catalonia in Open Revolt, Spanish Republicans Claim

By UNITED PRESS

A Spanish Republican broadcast from Southern France said today that Catalonia and other parts of Spain were in "open revolt" against the Franco government, but Madrid reported regular army troops had broken the only known uprising in the Aran valley.

The broadcast was recorded by FCC monitors soon after a United Press dispatch arrived from Madrid quoting Spanish sources as acknowledging that Spanish Maquis for a time had held the Aran valley in Catalonia, but asserting that the situation had been "definitely restored."

"Help the forces of the glorious guerrilla fighters for the reconstruction of Spain," the spokesman said. "Rally Catalan forces quickly. Rally and fight!"

Symbolic of Revulsion

The speaker asserted that Cuba, Colombia and Uruguay had broken off diplomatic relations with the Franco government.

"This action is symbolic of the revulsion and horror felt through-

'Voice of Charm' Comes Home

Maxine, Indianapolis girl "with the voice of charm," applies her lip rouge before an appearance on the Circle stage.

Maxine Defies Doctor's Order In Filling Engagement Here

Indianapolis is having a chance to see its own Maxine on the stage of the Circle theater because "the velvet-throated songstress" believes in the actors' creed, the show must go on.

When the day came for Maxine to leave for her engagement here she was in bed ill in Florida, recuperating from influenza and on doctor's orders was to remain there.

"But I'm so proud to be from Indianapolis, I just couldn't miss the chance to come back," she said.

So Maxine Moore, whose mother, Mrs. Bertha Moore, resides at 601 Buchanan st., got out of bed, made a quick trip to New York to get her winter wardrobe and was in her home town Friday for the opening of the show to which she had been looking forward so long.

Absent Five Years

She has been away from Indianapolis five years, during that time singing with Ted Lewis, doing concert work in New York and singing in the role for which she is so well known, that of the Maxine of Phil Spitalny's all-girl orchestra on "The Hour of Charm" program.

Miss Moore became the Maxine of "The Hour of Charm" quite by accident. She heard Spitalny was looking for a new Maxine and as an audition paid $100 her friends encouraged her to sing with him as a lark.

She made arrangements to see Mr. Spitalny and when she met him said, "My name's Maxine. I'm a contralto." Spitalny liked her and "The Hour of Charm" had a new Maxine. The Indianapolis girl, who attended Shortridge high school, Butler university and the Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music, became "the girl with the voice of charm."

She was with Spitalny two years and since then has been touring the country. She has appeared on 250 camp shows and if her doctor permits, hopes to go to the South Pacific theater.

Maxine likes the theater, but radio is still her first love and she plans to go back into radio work in February. Until then she will continue to tour the country, going from here to Atlanta, Ga.

British Trap Threatens
60,000 Germans in Holland.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS,
A. E. F., Paris, Oct. 24 (U. P.)—Berlin reported that American reinforcements had moved up to the Aachen front for a new Rhineland offensive expected soon.

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS,
A. E. F., Paris, Oct. 24 (U. P.)—The British 2d army cracked into the German anchor bastion of 's Hertogenbosch, key to the main escape routes for 60,000 to 70,000 enemy troops in southwest Holland, today and front dispatches said resistance appeared to be crumbling.

Troops and tanks fought into the northeast outskirts of 's Hertogenbosch, 62 miles northeast of Antwerp, during the night and soon after dawn reached the canal running through the city proper. Two other columns were within three miles or less of the city from the east and south.

United Press War Correspondent
Ronald Clark reported from the front that the Germans apparently were preparing to abandon the city despite their stubborn resistance on its approaches. No large numbers of German tanks or anti-tank artillery have been observed in the area.

Fall Expected Soon

(A. B. C. correspondent at the front said the fate of 's Hertogenbosch "well be decided today."

The Canadian 1st army again sealed the entrance to Beveland and Walcheren islands in the Scheldt estuary with a drive across the escape railway and highway west of Woensdrecht, bottling up the enemy garrisons. The Canadians once before severed the escape lines.

To the southeast, Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's 3d army doughboys were revealed to have captured three-quarters of Maizières Les Metz, five miles north of Metz itself, in a 17-day room-to-room battle.

workers and citizens of all classes that ousted the 108-day-old Ponce government.

The enraged populace stormed the homes of several Ponce supporters and destroyed them. Among the buildings attacked were those owned by Luis Mendizabal, president of the legislative assembly; Julio Quinones, a 250-pound woman known as "La Maciste" and one of the closest collaborators with former President Jorge Ubico; and former Police Chief Gen. David Ordóñez, who now is in exile at San Francisco.
