'Rebecca,' Diana Barrymore Please English's Audience

By MILDRED KOSCHMANN

You've seen the picture and perhaps even read the book. But you'll still enjoy the stage version of Daphne Du Maurier's "Rebecca."

At least that is how local first nighters felt last night in the performance of the interesting drama at English's.

The play features a trio of fine actors—Bramwell Fletcher as Maxim de Winter, head of the great estate of Manderley; Diana Barrymore, wife of Mr. Fletcher on and off the stage, and Florence Reed as the sinister Mrs. Danvers, a personal maid of the first Mrs. de Winter.

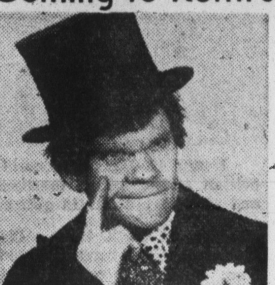

The entire action takes place in one hall at Manderley and doesn't show the mysterious wing of the mansion which faced the sea, the

At English's

Bruna Castagna Concert Sunday

Bruna Castagna, leading contralto of the Metropolitan Opera association, will appear in a concert at 3 p. m. Sunday at English's. The program is one of the Martens series. Tickets, which were issued for the concert Nov. 5, which was postponed because of the illness of Mme. Castagna, will be honored, Gladys Alwes, in charge of tickets, said.

The two remaining concerts in the Martens series will feature Robert Casadesu, pianist, Feb. 11, and the Don Cossack male chorus Feb. 28.

For an extra concert not in the Martens series Miss Alwes will present Fritz Kreisler, violinist, at the Murat theater Jan. 28.
