Rasmussen-Glossbrenner Vows Are Read

MISS CATHERINE MATILDA GLOSSBRENNER, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Daniel I. Glossbrenner of Oaklandon, became the bride of S. Sgt. James W. Rasmussen, U. S. M. C., in a double-ring ceremony this afternoon. The vows were read at 3:30 o'clock by Dr. Jean S. Miller, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church. The bridegroom's parents are Lt. Col. and Mrs. Alvin C. Rasmussen.

The garden at the Glossbrenners' Rainbow farm provided the setting for the wedding. The couple exchanged vows before a natural circle of pyramidal arbor-vitae trees. The background was centered with urns of marguerites, geraniums and flame azaleas. Mrs. Dan W. Flickinger, pianist, played.

The bride was escorted by Edward Pairan Cooke in the absence of Col. Glossbrenner, who is serving overseas. She chose an off-white, sheer net gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, fitted shirred bodice, long tapering sleeves and a full double net skirt. Double ruffled panels accented the skirt and extended around her train. A heart-shaped tiara, edged with seed pearls, held her imported, fingertip length illusion veil. She carried valley lilies tied with rosettes of forget-me-nots and sweetheart roses.

Couple Will Live in North Carolina

THE ATTENDANTS WERE GOWNED in off-white marquisette frocks made with sweetheart necklines, fitted bodices, three-quarter-length sleeves, full skirts and sweep trains. Mrs. Walter A. Vonnegut, matron of honor, and Miss Patricia Rudolph, bridesmaid, carried arm bouquets of blue corn flowers, ranunculus, red geranium blossoms and marguerites caught with bows of emerald green ribbon. They wore small clusters of matching flowers in their hair.

Carl Maetschke Jr. served as best man. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Glossbrenner chose a brown crepe dress worn with stephanotis and camassia blossoms, and the bridegroom's mother was in aqua crepe and her flowers were stephanotis and Finch roses.

After a reception on the lawn, the couple left for a wedding trip. The bride wore a brown and white ensemble with brown accessories for traveling. The couple will be at home temporarily in Cherry Point, N. C., where Sgt. Rasmussen is to be stationed. The bride attended Rockford college and the bridegroom attended Rose Polytechnic institute.
