

Congress Gives Final Approval Of 6 Billions For World Bank

BRETON WOODS UP TO TRUMAN

Senate Debates Loans by Export-Import Bank.

WASHINGTON, July 20 (U. P.)—The house today completed legislative action on a bill authorizing United States participation in the international bank and stabilization fund contemplated under the Bretton Woods fiscal agreements.

Only Mr. Truman's signature on the bill remains to make this country the first nation ready to join the proposed $8,000,000,000 monetary stabilization fund and the $9,100,000,000 international bank of reconstruction.

The U. S. would put a maximum of nearly $6,000,000,000 into the two funds.

Export-Import Debate

The senate passed the bill late yesterday by a vote of 61 to 16.

As soon as the bill was received by the house today, Chairman Brent Spence (D. Ky.) of the banking committee, asked the house to accept three minor senate amendments. The house agreed without a dissenting vote.

The senate meanwhile began debate on another phase of the administration's international economic program—a bill to give the Export-Import bank an additional $2,800,000,000 for its lending operations. That bill already has been approved by the house and the senate is expected to pass it without change.

Bretton Woods, in effect, is a global plan designed to aid in the reconstruction of war-torn Europe, development of backward countries, and elimination of "economic gangsterism" from the international trade of the peacetime future.

Interim Lending

The world bank will make and guarantee loans for reconstruction and development. The fund will stabilize currencies and work toward removal of barriers to "business-like" world trade.

Because the world bank cannot begin operating for another year or 18 months, the government wants the American export-import bank enlarged to do the job until then.

Foreign Economic Administrator Leo T. Crowley told the senate banking committee earlier this week the additional $2,800,000,000 will be spent this year, with probably as much as $1,000,000,000 going to Russia. The rest would be used for loans to other needy European countries.

The bill also would replace the present 11-man board of trustees with a bi-partisan five-man board, headed by Crowley.

In addition to provide a bank advisory board whose members also will make up the national advisory council for the Bretton Woods institutions.

Capehart and Willis Vote for Fund Plan

Senators Homer E. Capehart and Raymond E. Willis of Indiana both voted for the Bretton Woods proposals.

ROSENBERG RAPPED BY JUDGE PRO TEM

at operation of the jail and sheriff's office.

After the accusations were flung in court this morning, Judge Pro Tem Henry again scolded Rosenberg and Dawson for uttering "bolshevik insinuations" in the courthouse hall.

"If you have anything to say, say it before the court," Henry said.

Threatens Jail

"Anything that should be said about this case will be said in court. If you insist on circulating boisterous insinuations in the courthouse corridors I'll have to send you to jail."

Glenn Funk, a former law partner of Henry, was also involved in the last incident. Funk and Dawson were arguing loudly.

Rosenberg also charged Henry with "lining up against us that city hall crowd." Both Henry and Funk are aligned with the city hall G. O. P. faction, in opposition to the regular county organization.

Today's flareup occurred during a habeas corpus hearing. The defendants are alleged to have attacked and robbed Walter Estep in Mars Hill. They are Ralph Burner Jr., Bert Eggers and James Elliot Jr.

'Wie Gehts, Fraulein?' Meaning 'H'ya Babe?'

Maybe "Wie gehts, Fraulein?" isn't a literal translation of "H'ya Babe?" but the German girl in the picture gets the general idea. Yank officers couldn't even extend this greeting until the fraternization ban was lifted, but it's okay now. The boys are checking their dictionaries for the right words.
