Fighter Fleets Blast Japs After Record B-29 Bombing

attacks on the Japanese home islands.
Radio Tokyo said one cruiser and three destroyers, presumably a task force from the 3d fleet, bombarded O island, northernmost of the Izu islands 70 miles south of Tokyo, yesterday morning.
Carrier planes also joined in the bombardment, the broadcast said, but it claimed damage was negligible.

Another Tokyo broadcast said three allied submarines shelled the west coast of the cape of Erimo on southern Hokkaido, northernmost of the Japanese home islands, yesterday afternoon.

Only 24 hours earlier, a single allied submarine had shelled the city of Tomakomai on southern Hokkaido, Tokyo said.

Wake Island Blasted
Far east of Japan, an American battleship and carrier planes joined in a bombardment of long-by-passed Wake island yesterday, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced.

Japanese shore batteries and anti-aircraft batteries on Wake offered only slight opposition. No American crewmen were injured, but shell fragments caused "extremely minor" damage to some warships.

The attack was designed to harass the hunger-weakened garrison which was cut off from Japan by the American advance to the threshold of the enemy's home islands.

It was on Wake that a handful of U. S. marines held off the Japanese for 14 days at the start of the Pacific war.

Slight Opposition
Only one Superfortress was lost in today's record five-way attack despite the fact that the four main target cities had been warned they would be bombed to destruction. Moderate anti-aircraft fire and only slight fighter opposition were encountered.

A total of 778 bombers struck the four cities and the petroleum installations at Kawasaki, and 42 other Superfortresses mined Shimonoseki strait between the main Japanese home islands of Kyushu and Honshu and waters off Selsin and Rashin on the coast of northern Korea.

Rashin lies only 21 miles south of the Russian-Korean border and is 105 miles southwest of Vladivostok. Selsin is 35 miles farther south. The flight was the longest mining mission yet undertaken by the Superfortresses.

The B-29 attack was the first undertaken by the 20th air force under the new command of Gen. Carl A. Spaatz's U. S. army strategic air forces.

Wing Lt. Maj. Gen. Curtis Lemay relinquished command of the 20th air force to Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining and became chief of staff to Spaatz.

Tokyo also revealed that Japanese Transportation Minister Naoto Koyama had conceded in a press interview that American planes based on Okinawa were carrying out "thorough and systematic" raids on railways and other transport targets on Kyushu.

A communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said Okinawa-based planes on Tuesday touched off large fires and violent explosions in factories, warehouses and fuel dumps on Kyushu.

Seven Ships Sunk
A 2000-ton tanker, three medium freighters, two destroyer escorts and a coastal craft were sunk, the communique said.

Tokyo newspapers, meantime, were waxing enthusiastic over a Japanese communique issued yesterday claiming that 1021 allied planes had been shot down or damaged during raids on the Japanese homeland last month.

Radio Tokyo said the newspapers carried banner headlines boasting that Japan was prepared now to "deal the enemy a fatal blow in the anticipated showdown battle on our homeland."

Pushing Japs In Trap
In Borneo, Australian patrols knifed in behind Japanese rear-guard units and threatened them with isolation in the Balikpapan and Brunai bay sectors.

In New Guinea, Australian 60th division units captured Alama, a village approximately six miles south of the huge enemy troop concentration around Kabolbus.

Japanese troops still held the east bank of the Mivo river in southern Bougainville and heavy enemy machine gun fire prevented the Australians from crossing it.

SOLDIER IS SLUGGED; ROBBER GETS $35

In a comparatively quiet night for police, another soldier was slugged and robbed, and the proprietor of a fruit stand held up. A second soldier was "crowned" with a beer bottle when he objected to the commotion caused by two street toughs.

Pvt. Kemper Kynn, Camp Atterbury, told police he was slugged while walking in the 300 block of N. Illinois st. last night. His wallet containing $35 was taken.

A bandit, flourishing a .32 caliber revolver, held up Robert Strohmier, 62, at 516 N. Beville ave. night man at a fruit market at 28 N. East st. After taking $40 from the market's cash register, the bandit forced Mr. Strohmier to walk half a block from the market, then suddenly ran down an alley.

Pvt. Edwin A. Kugs, Camp Atterbury, received first aid at police headquarters last night for a severe cut on the head, suffered when struck by a beer bottle. The soldier said he was standing in front of 801 Ft. Wayne ave. and that when he remonstrated with two men were "making a lot of noise," one of them struck him.

SHEETS, LINENS ARE PROMISED HOTELS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 2 (U. P.)—The war production board today promised relief to hotels and restaurants that have not been able to buy enough linens to meet minimum requirements.

TRAPPERS ON TRAIL OF EAGER BEAVERS

The state conservation department today made plans to send trappers to Orange county to capture the beavers it turned loose there a few years ago.

The animals proved too eager for green corn and fresh vegetables and as a result the farmers became eager for the deportation of the beavers.

After hearing an appeal from Orange County Prosecutor Arthur Dillard, Indiana Fish and Game Division Director Harrell Mosbaugh promised help to rid the county of the animals.

When asked what was to be done declared. "That is the $64 question with the trapped beavers Mosbaugh tion."
