

JAPS SWALLOW BITTEREST PILL

Sign Surrender of Korea, First Conquest.

By JAMES O'CONNOR.

Times Foreign Correspondent
IN THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S PALACE, KIELJO, Korea, Sept. 9 (Delayed).—I have just attended a funeral—that marking the death of Japanese domination of Korea and of the first target of Japanese expansion.

Surrender by the Japanese of southern Korea took place in the throne room in the governor-general's palace in Kieljo, capital city of Korea. It was the first surrender of the Pacific that was signed indoors.

Today's whole proceedings lasted only 14 minutes. The five signatories signed surrender terms in triplicate—in English, Japanese and Korean.

Japanese land and naval forces were relinquished by the signings of Lt. Gen. Yoshio Suzuki, commander-in-chief of the Jap army forces, and Vice Adm. Gisaburo Yamaguchi, commander-in-chief of the Jap naval base.

Jap military control of civil affairs ceased after the signing of Gen. Nobuyuki Abe, military governor-general of Korea and former premier of Japan.

Koreans Cheer Americans

Signatories for the allies were Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, commander-in-chief of the 24th corps, on behalf of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and Adm. Thomas C. Kinkaid, commander of the U. S. 7th fleet.

Thousands of wildly cheering Koreans lined the long, wide main street as American forces, led by Hodge and Kinkaid, drove to the governor-general's palace where the final Japanese capitulation in Korea was completed.

Hundreds of navy planes from a carrier at anchor in the bay, off Jinsen, roared overhead and American G.I.s and Japanese civilian police mounted guard.

With the signing, the Japanese tasted the bitterest pill of all surrender. It meant the loss of a hitherto independent country which had been exploited for 40 years.

MAYOR TYNDALL today proclaimed Tuesday, Sept. 18, as "Share the Food Day."

The "share" day, sponsored by the Camp Fire Girls, Girl Reserves and Girl Scouts, the Community Fund and relief agencies of the National War Fund, is to enable citizens of Marion county to better understand the food needs of Europe and China.

Participants in "Share the Food Day" will eat, for that one day, meals that are typical of the restricted diets of the people of the allied nations. Saving from such meals could be donated to relief organizations.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.
