

Violence, Revolt, Bloodshed Feared for Latin-America

By ERNIE HILL
Times Foreign Correspondent
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Jan. 2.—The 1946 forecast for Latin America indicates considerable unrest, revolution, bloodshed and violence. Tranquillity appears at a premium as 1945 comes to a close.

The past year was rough. Machine-guns were used more often than ballot boxes to change presidents. And the year ahead promises even more widespread upheavals.

The shift from wartime economy with favorable trade balances to peacetime competition for world markets presents difficult problems.

Leaders who find it easier to seize power than to depend upon elections still dominate the scene.

Argentina, where violence flares almost weekly, is considered the principal danger spot. An army coup d'etat unseated Juan Domingo Peron as vice president and strongman of the country during October.

Peron Has Snapped Back

But Peron has snapped back and is running for president in the elections now set for Feb. 24.

A government decree proposing to raise the wages of all workers from 15 to 25 per cent and give them a month's pay as a bonus has produced an explosive situation.

Industry has rebelled and refused to comply. Some workers propose reprisals.

Elsewhere there has been little peace. In Brazil—Dr. Getulio Vargas was ousted as president in October by an army coup when it was feared he planned to postpone the elections. Supreme Court Justice Jose Linhares is acting as president until the newly elected chief executive.

Home Together

J. G. Fargo

FOR THE first time in three years, Capt. John G. Fargo and Flight officer Lee J. Fargo, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Fargo, 4056 Arthington blvd., are home together on holiday leave.

Capt. Fargo has been in service since July 1941 and has served in the South Pacific theater for 30 months. He is now on terminal leave.

Executive officer of a mobile truck unit, his outfit was the first of its kind to land in the Tokyo-Yokohama area after the Japanese surrender.

Prior to his army service, Capt. Fargo operated the Midwestern Terrazzo company and attended both Indiana and Butler universities.

His brother, Lee, was recently commissioned as a B-29 flight engineer at Hondo airfield, Texas. Mr. Fargo was a former Purdue university engineering student. Having entered the army in January, 1943, he is now slated for army of occupation duty.

PATTERSON DEFENDS BIG 3 PROCEDURE

HONOLULU, Jan. 2 (U. P.).—Gen. Douglas MacArthur was not consulted on the Moscow conference plans for international control of Japan because the war department did not think it necessary, Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said yesterday.

"The war department is not primarily responsible for foreign relations," Mr. Patterson said. "Therefore, we did not consider it necessary to consult MacArthur before policies were set at the conference."

Mr. Patterson added that the war department kept Gen. MacArthur advised of all information relative to his command.

Gen. MacArthur disclosed in a statement Sunday that he had not been consulted about plans made at Moscow, although he had earlier protested against the plan as proposed by the state department.

Mr. Patterson was en route to Tokyo, and then around the world to Germany, on an inspection tour of American occupation forces. He denied that his trip was connected with the MacArthur-Big Three incident.

New Carbon 13 May Aid in Search for Cancer Cause

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (U. P.).—Plans for expanded production of carbon 13, a rare material which promises to rank in importance with the X-ray as an aid to medical science, were announced today by the Sun Oil Co. and the Houdry Process Corp.

The heavy carbon isotope, a product of atomic research, makes possible the observation of chemical reactions in the human body.

The announcement said that as a result of experiments conducted during the last two years it was believed the new isotope would help scientists discover the cause of cancer.

The two companies said in the joint statement that work would start immediately on two plants which will increase by 500 to 1000 times the available supply of the material.

A small plant at the Houdry Process, Marcus Hook, Pa., laboratories had been producing about one-fourth gram of carbon 13 per month at a cost of about $400 a gram.

Increased Production
A larger plant which the Sun Oil Co. plans to build at Marcus Hook will produce 500 grams monthly at an estimated minimum cost of $40 a gram. Another, smaller plant will be built for the Sun company at the Houdry laboratories.

Carbon 13 will enable scientists to study diseases of metabolism—the process by which dead food is built into living matter and by which this living matter is then broken down into simpler products within a cell or a body.

"In biochemical research, carbon 13 is used as a tracer in probing the secrets of the fundamental processes that occur in all living things, as well as metabolic disease processes, of which cancer, diabetes, hardening of the arteries, and so-called

"heart trouble" are examples," the announcement said.

"Indistinguishable chemically from ordinary carbon, carbon 13 is absorbed in living tissues and undergoes the same metabolic process as does ordinary carbon. But where ordinary carbon cannot be traced as it passes through these intricate chemical reactions, which are the process of life itself, carbon 13 can be detected by the aid of an electrical instrument called the mass spectrometer, and identified with specific bodily functions."

The total production of the material in two years of experiments has been at the rate of only one-half ounce per year. The carbon 13 produced at the new plants will be made available without cost, the announcement said, to qualified, non-commercial biological and medical research organizations.

Even with the small quantity of the isotope so far available, the announcement said, it has been used to determine how fats are broken down in a living cell, to study how sugar is oxidized and the effects of vitamins.
