agreed to resume wage-price conferences at the White House.

TWO: The labor department announced today that the 73-day-old strike of 7300 Midwestern truck drivers has been settled.

THREE: C. I. O. and A. F. of L. packing house workers went back to government-seized meat plants, but a C. I. O. leader threatened a new strike against Armour and Co. The union accused the company of delaying the return of workers to their jobs.

FOUR: Ford Motor Co. offered a 15 per cent pay increase to 19,000 employees not covered by the wage agreement reached with the U. A. W. Saturday.

Stock Prices Soar

Easing of the labor crisis sent stock market prices soaring to their best level in more than 15 years yesterday. A rise in steel reflected a feeling that the steel strike might soon be over.

It was believed that wage agreements reached Saturday between Ford and Chrysler and the U. A. W. might provide a pattern for settling the steel and General Motors disputes. The strike of 750,000 C. I. O. steel workers already has idled 150,000 workers in related industries.

Senator Young, announcing developments in the midwest trucking strike, said 7300 drivers and several hundred truckers would receive a wage increase of about 15 per cent.

Armour Sews Up Return

Herbert March, district leader of the C. I. O. United Packinghouse Workers, said all packers except Armour had set up schedules to return striking workers to their jobs as soon as possible.

"Armour &amp; Co., for some mysterious reason, informed us it could not rehire all men who walked out on strike Jan. 16 until Feb. 6," he said. "They would not tell us why."

At San Francisco, violence broke out yesterday in the 91-day strike of C. I. O. and A. F. of L. machinists. Police said some 2500 pickets massed at the main gates of the Bethlehem-Alameda shipyard, beat a plant superintendent and tossed him into a ditch.

A strike of 3500 New York harbor tugboat pilots, mates and deckhands for Sunday midnight was called today by the United Marine Division, International Longshoremen's Association.

Forms for Builders

These forms are available for builders who desire to construct for sale or rental one or more buildings for which veterans will be given preference.

It is anticipated that about half of critically short materials produced in 1946 will be made available for erecting of homes for veterans costing $10,000 or renting for $80 or less.

Applicants must demonstrate ability to begin building within 90 days and show that they meet qualifications including effective control of land, stable financial backing and that arrangements have been completed for building permits and utility services.

They must also agree to make housing available only to veterans during the construction period and for a month thereafter.

Where it is shown that increased units will result, conversion of existing structures also is made possible by the regulation. Housing already under construction may be included under this program if standards are met.

PUTS HOME LACK ON PRIVATE INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (U. P.)—Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small said yesterday that the acute housing shortage essentially is the problem of private industry.

He told the house banking and currency committee that "homes are built in local communities by private citizens—builders, contractors and labor. Government can only make it possible for them to do their job."

Testifying at a hearing on the Patman housing price control bill, Small recommended that communities curtail permits for "night clubs, juke joints and roadside stands."

He urged that municipal officials co-operate with local employment service offices to interest labor working in plants manufacturing housing material.

REPORT PRODUCTION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (U. P.)—Shipments of 428 lumber mills throughout the nation topped production by 22.1 per cent and new orders ran 29.8 per cent ahead of output, in the week ended Jan. 19, the National Lumber Manufacturers association reported today.

MONTPELIER, Vt., Jan. 29.—Sales during 1945 were the largest in the 96-year history of the National Life Insurance Co. of Vermont, the firm reported today.

Although interest rates are low in history, the company also revealed that net earnings were 3.43 per cent last year compared to 3.49 per cent in 1944.

Sales of new insurance totaled $76,412,196 and insurance in force amounted to $740,585,998, the report stated.

for a second term as has been customary."

The senator doesn't feel he has any real opposition from the voters of Indiana," Mr. Murray said.

Though no date was set, officials of the Willis club said a headquarters would be established in Indianapolis "at a time fitting the senator's campaign plans."

Only other Hoosier to get his feet wet in the senatorial picture so far is Rep. Charles LaPollette (R. 8th Dist.), who announced he will seek the Republican nomination for a "progressive" platform.

Senator Willis' campaign probably will not gain full momentum until the field seems more complete, Mr. Murray indicated. He said the senator would give Rep. LaPollette "dignified opposition," but indicated he was more immediately concerned with other prospective candidates who have not yet announced.

Leader of these, it was assured, was William E. Jenner, state committee chairman, touted as having the party organization's approval.

Mr. Jenner was expected to make a decision either to enter the race or to stay out within a week or 10 days.

Marion County Residential Builders association under a committee headed by T. E. Grinslade will purchase private land and defray the costs of establishing dwellings.

The houses will be sold to veterans at cost prices under this plan, it was announced. All units of the temporary type will be rented to ex-servicemen.

Must Register

All applicants for any type of emergency housing must register at Homes Registry, 224 N. Meridian st., Mr. Evans stated. "Veterans with children will receive the highest preference," Mr. Evans said.

Earlier, R. Earl Peters, federal housing agency state director, announced a new priority system to expedite construction of new housing for Indiana veterans.

Application forms for "HH housing" under the reconversion housing program arrived from Washington and are available at all FHA offices for individual veterans who wish to build their own homes.
