PARIS, Oct. 11.—Jefferson Caffrey assured Greece before the peace conference today that the United States would fulfill its United Nations obligations if Greek security should be endangered by an aggressor nation.

Mr. Caffrey is American ambassador to France.

The U. S. pledged giving Greece "full assurance" was made by Mr. Caffrey during general debate on the recommendations for the Bulgarian peace treaty.

Mr. Caffrey observed that Greece had been invaded three times by Bulgaria.

Yugoslav Praised Bulgaria

Mr. Caffrey said the United States would not support Greek claims for "strategic rectification" of her frontier with Bulgaria. He suggested that Greece would find more security in the United Nations than in any such acquisition.

Mr. Caffrey spoke after Moshia Pijade of Yugoslavia demanded the withdrawal of U. S. warships from Greek waters and British troops from Greece.

Greek Premier Angry

Mr. Pijade praised the new Bulgaria as a shining example of democracy.

Premier Constantin Tsaldaris of Greece warned the conference that the proposed treaty would overthrow all fundamentals of honor and morality.

He was bitter over the failure of the conference to give Greece a slice of Bulgaria.

Double Freedom Voted

Prospects were that the treaty would be completed before tonight's adjournment, as Italian and Romanian treaties had been completed on previous days.

Voting on the Romanian treaty, which ended at 2 a. m., produced a two-thirds majority, 15 to 6, for the Anglo-American proposal for free navigation of the Danube and equal economic opportunity for foreign countries in Romania.

Favor International Parley

The conference also adopted a clause obligating Romania to attend a Danubian conference within six months to establish an international regime for the river.

Both proposals will be sent to the Big Four as formal conference recommendations. They must be accepted by Russia for consideration in the coming Big Four meeting, however, and Russia is strongly against both.

The conference voted to prohibit motor torpedo boats in all three defeated Balkan countries and Finland. It adopted by a simple majority, but lacking a two-thirds majority, the proposal to enforce payment by Romania of fair prices for American oil company property.

2D CRIMINAL COURT STAMPED AS WASTE

The proposal made by Judson L. Stark, Republican prosecutor, candidate, for creation of a second criminal court here, was described last night as a waste of money by Raymond F. Murray, Democratic candidate for state senator.

Mr. Murray said the present criminal court congestion could be solved by passage of a bill granting one or more of the superior courts here jurisdiction in handling criminal cases.

"This would solve the problem without adding thousands more dollars to the tax burden here," he said.

Judge Stark apparently is not aware that Marion county property owners are faced with a Republican budget of $25,000,000 next year, an increase of $7,000,000 over the budgets of the Democratic administration.

Mr. Murray spoke at a meeting of the Wayne-Township Democratic Women's club.
