

Germans Shirking Purge Of Nazi Elements, U.S. Charges

ORDER CALLS FOR ACTION IN NEXT 60 DAYS

Americans Will Take Over If Delay Continues, Gen. Clay Warns.

By WELLINGTON LONG
United Press Staff Correspondent
STUTTGART, Nov. 5.—Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay charged German officials today with failing in their denazification program.

He delivered a blunt ultimatum that if they did not do the job, the American military government would.

Speaking to about 200 top German officials of the U. S. zone at the German council of states, Gen. Clay used some of the stiffest language yet passed publicly from occupation authorities to the German administrators.

Gen. Clay gave the Germans 60 days in which to get the denazification program going again.

"If the German people are unwilling to do the job, the military government can and will do it," he said. "I fail to understand how you can become a democracy if you shirk the first task put before you."

Clay's speech followed more than two hours of speechmaking by high German officials. They sang praises of the council of states and spoke in glowing terms of Germany's pride in building a new democracy from the ruins of Nazism.

Must Punish Nazis
The deputy American military governor told 200 top German officials of the American zone that they had failed to purge Nazi elements from public life.

He said that the German people have not yet shown the political will and determination to punish those who must be punished.

"It appears that the denazification law has been used to return as many persons as possible to their former vocations rather than to punish the guilty," Gen. Clay said.

Gen. Clay announced that he was issuing orders today that no person removed from office by the military government may be reinstated by a German denazification tribunal without prior military government approval.

"Let us have no misunderstanding," he continued, "regardless of the effects on German economy, or of additional time. . . Denazification is 'must.' If necessary, the military government can and will take over denazification."

IRREGULARITIES IN GREEK VOTE HINTED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (U. P.).—An official U. S. mission has informed the state department there were irregularities in the recent Greek monarchy plebiscite but that they had no influence upon its result.

The plebiscite was held Sept. 1. It showed an overwhelming majority in favor of the return of a monarchy. King George since has returned to his throne.

NAVY PLANS EXAMS FOR COLLEGE COURSE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (U. P.).—The navy announced last night that competitive examinations will be held Jan. 18, 1947, for entrance in the new navy college training program.

More than 5000 high school graduates standing highest in the examinations will be offered a four-year college education at government expense.

POLICE TO RETURN WANTED MAN HERE

Two city detectives were en-route to Lincoln, Neb., today, to return John G. Carter, 38, Anderson hotel, who is charged with critically wounding Daniel Mason, 38, 705 N. Senate ave., during a holdup Oct. 27.

Carter, who was apprehended while driving a car he had stolen from a parking lot here, has waived extradition.

Safecrackers Overlook $125

Punch Way Into Strong Box; 'Jimmy' Fails on Another

Safe crackers who punched their way into one safe and unsuccessfully tried to jimmy another at the William D. Vogel Corp. office, 3760 E. St. Clair st., early today, fled without loot, overlooking $125 in one safe.

Detectives at first thought that one safe had been blown open with explosives.

The burglars gained entrance by breaking a rear window and tearing away the heavy screen.

Police Are Fuzzed
Police fingerprint experts, investigating the Vogel break-in, were puzzled by fingerprints found on the safe. The burglars apparently covered their hands with a fluid to smear the prints.

Police believe that an attempted break-in at the nearby Cassidy Coal Co., 906 N. Sherman dr., may have been the work of the same burglars.

They are questioning a 28-year-old ex-convict, found hiding by the coal company, in connection with the two crimes.

Called to the vicinity of the coal yard early today to investigate a report of prowlers, police found the window of the coal company pried open and a man hiding nearby. Two other men fled from the vicinity as police arrived.

KIDNAP NOTE SEEN AS ACT OF CRANK

CHICAGO, Nov. 5 (U. P.).—Police theorized last night that the authors of a note threatening to kidnap a 15-month-old girl unless her parents left $5000 under a dead-guessed tree were either cranks or school children.

The crudely written note, found fastened to the screen door of Francis A. Connelley's home in suburban Maywood, said little Patricia Connelley would be taken unless the money was left "before 7 Monday."

Gen. Clay announced that he was issuing orders today that no person removed from office by the military government may be reinstated by a German denazification tribunal without prior military government approval.

"Let us have no misunderstanding," he continued, "regardless of the effects on German economy, or of additional time. . . Denazification is 'must.' If necessary, the military government can and will take over denazification."

SCOUT EXHIBITS TO OPEN SHOW

Industrial Exposition Will Start Thursday.

Unveiling of exhibits by 33 Eagle Scouts will highlight the ceremonial opening of the Indianapolis Industrial Exposition Thursday at the Union station.

After the unveiling ceremony, the Scouts will conduct a tour of the exhibition, explaining each of the 71 displays. They will be briefed for the occasion by Wallace O. Lee, exposition chairman, Wednesday night at the terminal.

Scouts who will participate in the program are Jack Collins, R. Vincent Thomson, Glen Clarkson, Robert Vick and Robert Gruman, troop 42; Peter Cislak, ship 46; Paul Calet and Walter Bailey, troop 72; Richard Harbison and David Thomas, troop 66; Horace Shonie Jr., Weldon Johnson, James Hudson, and Richard McDaniel, Explorer post 78; Frank Jose, ship 78; Ted Holland, troop 34; Donald Wurster, John Mahrdt, Owen Clarke, William Lally and Robert S. Joslin, troop 90; Richard Greenfield and Robert E. Denson, Explorer post 79; Eugene Haley and Kenneth Duncan, Explorer post 106; Clarence Martin, troop 11; Leroy Sharpe, ship 45; Donald Wilson, troop 78; Jack Fowler, Explorer post 8; Wallace Lee White, ship 47; Richard J. Yager, Roy F. Andrews and Thomas Lofton, troop 46.

Guest of Honor
Cleve H. Pomeroy, Cleveland, O., president of the National Malleable and Steel Castings Co., will be among the honor guests at the dedication dinner of the exposition Thursday night at the Claypool hotel.

The company's Indianapolis plant is one of the exhibitors at Union station. Accompanying Mr. Pomeroy will be several company officials, including Stowell C. Wasson, manager of the Chicago and Melrose Park plants of the company, and former manager of the Indianapolis plant.

Officials of the Indianapolis plant will be hosts to a group of Indianapolis business leaders and visiting railroad officials at the Indianapolis Athletic club Thursday before the dedication ceremony. Hosts at the luncheon will be Raymond S. Davis, manager; A. L. McCollum, sales manager; Earl Buchanan, treasurer; and B. E. Gavin, general superintendent.

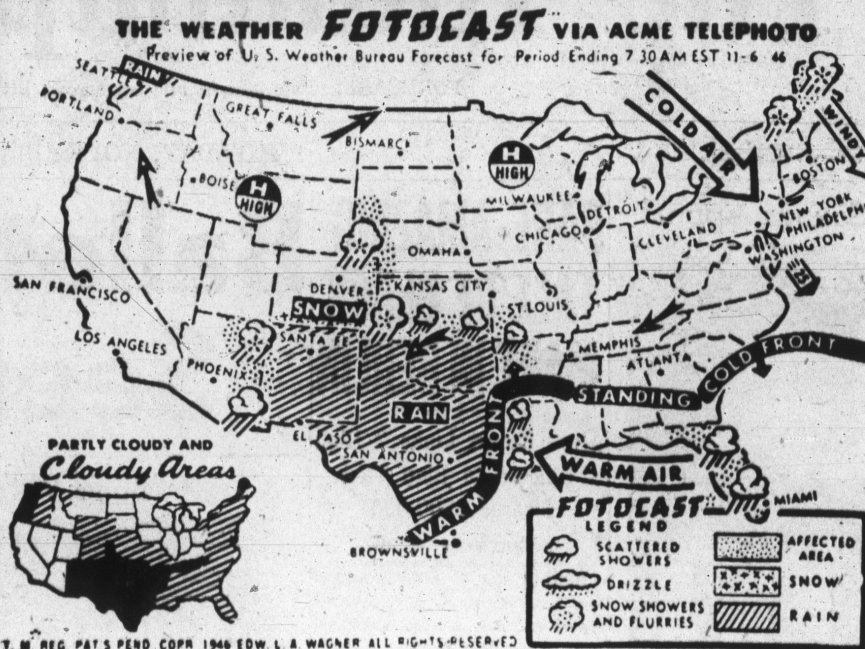

Model Tours City
Attention to the exposition was being called today by a Baltimore & Ohio Diesel passenger locomotive model, mounted on a truck, touring downtown streets.

The model also calls attention to the B. & O. miniature railroad exhibition, at the Carl H. Wallerich Co., 950 N. Meridian st.

The display will be open today and tomorrow from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

On exhibit since last week at the Wallerich company, the model was built at a cost of more than $30,000.

FIRE DAMAGES CLUB
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Nov. 5 (U. P.).—J. D. Racener, owner of the Colonial dance club north of here, today estimated damage from last night's fire at the club at $50,000.

NATIONAL 24-HOUR FORECAST SUMMARY: Northern New England will have snow flurries.

In sections along the Canadian border. The rest of the North and Middle Atlantic states will experience low temperatures with clear or partly cloudy skies election night and Wednesday morning.

Similar dry, but cold weather will embrace the Old Valley and the northern part of the South. Atlantic states as cold air from Canada and the North Central states sweeps south and eastward.

central southern sector of the nation, in Texas and adjoining states. Warm maritime air flowing across the Florida Peninsula will cause showers there, while a similar influx of moist, tropical air from the Gulf will be responsible for the rain north of the Rio Grande in the west Gulf area.

Small craft warnings are up from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Me., for 25 miles northwest winds will prevail along that portion of the eastern seaboard, diminishing during the night.

Snowfall and snow flurries are forecast in parts of South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma and New Mexico. (See FOTOCAST for affected areas). Southwestern Kansas will have rain, snow and sleet.

It will be fair and a bit warmer west of the Rocky Mountains, except in northwest Washington state where rain is expected.

Most northern states will have fair, but cool conditions tonight and tomorrow morning, which should be good news for election night celebrants. Temperatures will be near freezing in southern New England, and below the freezing level in northern areas. Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota will have clear skies and little change in temperature, but it will warm up a little in the Northern Plains states and the Northern Rockies.

Northern Missouri will have heavy frost by Wednesday morning, as will Kansas.

KILLED BY TRAIN
KANKAKEE, Ill., Nov. 5 (U. P.).—John Rose, 78, Kankakee, was killed here last night when he was struck by a southbound Illinois Central freight train near the business district.

Whitman, who was separated from his wife, met Mrs. Layman in 1942 when he was stationed in Stoneham with an anti-aircraft unit.

He rushed out to find the couple dead on a couch. A smoking .32 caliber automatic lay near Whitman's head.

Mrs. Layman, had run away to New Hampshire with Whitman last Saturday, but had changed her mind and returned to her husband, Layman told police.

He said she told him: "If you want me to be your wife, I will be. Don't ask me where I've been or what I've done, but if you want me I'm yours. This affair is all over."

Detectives who reconstructed the crime said they believed she had admitted Whitman to her apartment believing he had come to say goodby.

He had told her previously he was leaving town, police said.

They believed that she shot her through the heart after she renounced him.

ARMY STUDYING DRAFT RENEWAL

Voluntary Enlistments to Determine Act's Fate.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (U. P.).—The army said today it will decide before Nov. 15 whether it will resume the draft Jan. 1, 1947.

The decision will depend mainly upon the rate of voluntary enlistments during the next 10 days.

The army must give selective service 45 days advance notice before the draft can be resumed.

The army recruiting rate has fallen off drastically since draft calls were suspended. There were 28,303 men enlisted in the first week of October, but only 7383 in the second week and 5484 in the third week.

Army personnel experts expect the rate to fall even further during December, because men like to stay at home with their families over the Christmas holidays.

The army needs 40,000 men a month to maintain its strength at 1,070,000.

$65,000 IN STOLEN GEMS RECOVERED

BOSTON, Nov. 5 (U. P.).—Council for ex-convict Benjamin F. Tilley of Boston yesterday turned over to state police $65,000 in jewelry that was stolen two weeks ago in Hot Springs, Ark.

Tilley was ordered held in $10,000 bail pending his return to Arkansas for trial. He was charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

The loot was identified by Samuel H. Kirsch, director of the Esaky art galleries at Hot Springs, from which the gems were stolen Oct. 22. The jewelry included 56 rings, seven watches, three bracelets and one pendant.

BERLIN TAXI BACK
BERLIN, Nov. 5 (U. P.).—Berlin's first post-war taxi was in operation today. It was driven by Heinrich Geisler, 80-year-old great-grandfather, who piloted a horse-drawn hack through the city's bombed streets just as he had done for 38 years before the war.
