

Army Reported In Receptive Mood For Rose Bowl Bid

Coast Circuit Faces Problem In Selection

On Pro Card

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (U.P.)—An unexpected embarrassment of riches faced the Rose bowl committee today as it apparently must choose between the Big Nine champion and Army while other bowls, whose problems are less delicate, began to sift candidates.

Army became a leading Rose bowl eligible when it was revealed last night that Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, chief of staff, had placed final decision on Army's participation in a bowl game in the hands of Maj. Gen. Maxwell Taylor, commander at West Point. Gen. Taylor is known to be sports-minded, and is the five-man West Point athletic board which makes preliminary recom-mands. "As of right now, Army has not been invited to the Rose bowl," said Col. Ned Moore, speaking for Gen. Taylor, "but if we should get an invitation it would get a great deal of consideration."

Team Favors Trip

Apparently the only drawback would be the one day's classwork lost by the team on Jan. 2, but several times this season games away from West Point have caused such an absence and the players have easily made up the lost day. The team is known to favor a Rose bowl trip.

The fame of Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard, plus the fact the West coast never has seen the 1944-45 national champion Army team, makes the Cadets an attractive choice for the Rose bowl—if it were not for the Big Nine.

Sought Big Nine

For years the Pacific coast conference, whose champion is host team in the bowl, has wanted a formal agreement to meet the Big Nine champion annually. Each year the Big Nine voted down the proposal—until this year. The vote was 7 to 2 in favor, and the Big Nine apparently expects to play in the forthcoming bowl.

A bid to Army might be regarded as an insult to the Western conference, and the long-sought agreement, now in the hand, might be lost.

Willis Hunter, chairman of the Rose bowl committee, said only that the committee hasn't met yet because "it is still a little premature."

Greyhound Cagers Hard at Work

Their gridiron duties completed, 22 members of the Indiana Central football team have reported to Coach Ed Bright for basketball practice. They joined a group of net candidates who have been drilling for the past three weeks under the direction of Harry Stoneburner, Tyner senior.

Included in this group were six lettermen, Don Bunge, Don Fleener, Paul Brennenman, Bob McBride, Manford Kistler and Delbert Kistler. McBride, who was out of action for most of the football campaign with a broken ankle, is participating in only light workouts.

The Greyhounds play Valparaiso Nov. 23 in their first game.

Hardwood Notes

(Independent, Amherst Notes) Play continued last night in the Dearborn gym warmup basketball tournament and the Indiana Central Indiana Central Stars kept their tourney slate clean by defeating Indianapolis 7-Up 44-26. It was the first game for the 7-Up. F. Mallory edged Paper Package in a thriller, 40-39. It also was the first defeat for the Packers. Paper Package in a prelim non-tourney contest, Indiana Equipment downed Sgt. Barker V. F. W. P. 30-22.

Two tourney games were booked at Dearborn tonight. First at 7 o'clock, New Haven vs. Indiana Central. Then, Paper Package and Wiedemann Beer clash.

Indianapolis 7-Up Co. defeated Wink-It Stokers at Lebanon last night, 40-31. Chuck Taylor cashed 22 points for the winners.

Leagues are being formed at Rhodium PAL club in three age groups, 18-19, 15-17 and grade school. Information and applications to Ed Doreck, Market 3218, from 2 to 9 p.m.

The Moral A. C's defeated Beach Grove American Legion team in a well-played game at Beach Grove high school gym. It is the first defeat for the Legion. The winner phone or write the manager, Carl Ferris, New Palestine, Ind.

Old Fearless Figures Cadets and Irish Will Bounce Back; Likes Bucks Over Illini

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Fraley's follows or hat-pin happy football "winners" for the week-end.

National

Army Over Penn—This is the one the Quakers really want. But the Cadets are bitter over the Notre Dame Over Northwestern—Irish eyes are smiling.

Ohio State Over Illinois—What a way to make a living.

Michigan over Wisconsin—T-time in the zoo.

Iowa Over Minnesota—You'll be sorry.

East

Elmer Holt (above), hard-hitting Bloomington (Ill.) heavyweight puncher, will see action at the Armory tomorrow night when he takes on Allan Small, Elwood.

Heavy, in the eight-round semi-windup scrap of a five-fight pro boxing bill. The windup clash is billed for 10 frames and will send Sparky Reynolds, local two-fisted welterweight, against Herschel Joiner, Cincinnati 145-pounder. Holt originally was signed to meet Tommy Byron, Indianapolis light-heavy, but the latter was forced to the sidelines due to a badly lacerated mouth. Byron was butted by a sparring mate while training.

The fame of Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard, plus the fact the West coast never has seen the 1944-45 national champion Army team, makes the Cadets an attractive choice for the Rose bowl—if it were not for the Big Nine.

Working against a possible letup in the Bulldogs' determination, Coach Tony Hinkle is giving his charges a tough series of practices. Yesterday, the regulars went through a session against a team using Valparaiso plays.

Freshman halfback James McLinn is expected to lead the attack against the heavy Crusader line with his passing. McLinn's passing average for the season is 13 completions out of 34 attempts for a total gain of 336 yards. Out of the 13 completions, eight have gone for touchdowns.

Major Boasts Hot-Dated Grid Experience

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE

Father of Interference

Egad! One of my multitude of readers writes to ask what I deem a pertinent question. To quote him: "Do you ever see a football game?"

Heh, heh! Isn't that rich? Did I, Major Amos Barnaby Hoople, who originally suggested the game of rugby to the Harvards, ever see a football game? Pardon me while I take time out for a fit of laughter! (Editor's Note: Come on, come on, let's go to press!)

Who was there when Tom Shreve lin of Yale carried a kickoff 95 yards against Columbia in 1903?

Who was that gentleman under the grandstand when C. W. Savage of Oberlin ran 100 yards from scrim age against Michigan in 1892?

That, my friends, was Hoople!

In view of this background I suppose you'll read with greatly augmented interest my forecast of results on the nation's gridiron

this week-end. So go ahead!

A Neighborly Message from

Berghoff

Indiana's Nationally Accepted Beer!

ALMOST SIXTY YEARS AGO BERGHOFF BEER WAS INTRODUCED TO FORT WAYNE AND WON IMMEDIATE ACCEPTANCE

A WORD ABOUT THE WAR... AND GRAIN SHORTAGES!

During the war years Berghoff was chosen by the Armed Forces. Yes, 26,002,372 bottles and cans were consumed by Service personnel here and all over the world.

The allocation of so much of our production to the Services, coupled with reductions in our grain quota, at times created shortages here at home. Despite these limitations, we're proud of the fact that every ounce of Berghoff that could be spared was distributed in Fort Wayne and Indiana on a more than fair and equitable basis.

HERE ARE THE PLANS FOR THE FUTURE

We have embarked on an expansion program which has already resulted in plant and equipment modernization costing one half million dollars.

Soon, we hope, the production of Berghoff will be increased to the point where all who relish its tangy, zestful goodness will find it as readily available in their localities—as it now is in Indiana.

YES, Berghoff Beer is now available at your favorite tavern, package store or restaurant. Enjoy the beer brewed here in Indiana—the nationally accepted beer.
