Milwaukee Here for Twin Bill Tonight, One Game Tomorrow

Indians Finish All Square With Blues, Winning, 6-2, After Dropping Playoff

The Milwaukee Brewers came to town today, and with them came the opportunity for our Indians to regain third place in the American association standings.

The schedule calls for a twin bill between the Tribe and the Brewers this evening, at 6:30 and 8:30, and a single game tomorrow night. And three straight Indianapolis victories would hoist the Indians a half-game ahead of Milwaukee in the standings.

Tonight has been designated as "Cannon night" and a delegation of 400, including the Lebanon high school band, will attend the double-header.

The Tribe emerged all square in its set with the Kansas City Blues, winning two and losing two in two nights. The Indians' protest of the June 7th game was in vain as the Blues triumphed in the playoff last night, 3-2, before Indianapolis scored a 6-2 victory in the orthodox nine-inning after-noon game.

Incidentally, all action in the association last night was limited to first-division teams, and nobody lost or gained ground. Besides the split here, Milwaukee and Louisville divided their bargain bill in Derbytown, while all second-division clubs were rained out.

Weatherly Is Big Noise

Roy Weatherly, the Tribe's squat outfielder, was the big noise in Indianapolis' nine-inning victory as he got "three-for-five" at the plate, including one home run, batted in three of the Tribe's six tallies and elevated his batting average over the 300 mark.

Chalking up his seventh conquest of the season, Pitcher Bob Malloy rationed eight hits to the Blues in that game while striking out four and allowing two walks.

Although the Blues scored a run in the first, Weatherly put the Indians on top in the lower half of the same inning with a two-run homer over the right-field ivy. But

Score in Eighth

Manny Peret, the Indians' original starting pitcher in the protested game, returned to the mound, and the Blues got to him for the only necessary run in the eighth inning. A walk and two singles paid off.

At Louisville Glenn Elliott pitched five-hit ball in the first game of the double-header to give Milwaukee an 8-3 triumph. The Brewers pounded limited Milwaukee to six blows, winning 7-3. Milwaukee didn't get its three runs until two were out in the ninth.
