Mr. Halstead is a graduate of Indiana University. After joining the company in 1925, he became supervising clerk in the accountant's division. In 1938 he became auditor of disbursements. Jaywalker Seized In Spat With Police

"Make up your mind, officer. Either give me a ticket or take me to jail."

So the officer took Miss Ruth Huffman, 28, of Brazil, to jail after a brief argument in the middle of Market St. near the State House.

Miss Huffman was crossing Market St. in the middle of the block to board a bus. Patrolman George Martin blew his whistle and ordered her back for a crossing at the intersection. "My bus is leaving and I have to catch it," she said as she kept on walking.

Patrolman Martin was adamant. "Go back and cross with the lights," he said.

When Miss Huffman demanded immediate settlement of the affair, officer Martin settled it with an arrest on a charge of disorderly conduct.

An 11-pound, cast iron dumbbell fell out of a third-floor window of the Holmeier Physical Culture Studio, 10 N. Pennsylvania St.

It struck an overhead sign and hit Mr. Duncan a glancing blow on the knee. He was not seriously hurt.

New Times Photo Contest Starts

Weekly Competition Opens Tomorrow

Another Times Amateur Photo contest—the 13th weekly competition in the current series—starts tomorrow.

Deadline for the 12th week is midnight tonight. Pictures received at The Times or postmarked by that time will be judged for the best-of-the-week group to be published in next Wednesday's Times.

The deadline for each weekly contest is Friday midnight. The best picture of the week earns $5 for the entrant.

The only restriction is that all picture-snappers must be amateurs whose chief source of income is not derived from photography.

Prints may be of any size and in black and white. An entrant may send in any number of pictures in one week.

On the back of each picture must be written photographer's name, address, telephone number, camera and type film used, shutter speed, diaphragm opening, type lighting.

Mail or bring pictures to Amateur Photo Contest, Indianapolis Times, 214 W. Maryland St., Indianapolis 9.
