Chicken, Corn Flakes, Spinach Still Good Buys

Survey Shows Their Prices Have Lagged Behind Others in General Increases

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 24 (UPI)—The American housewife was told today that despite high prices, she can feed her family economically and well by serving chicken, corn flakes and spinach.

Those items, a survey showed, are among dozens of types of food which have risen in cost far less than the 105 per cent increase attributed to foods generally since 1939.

The nation-wide survey was made by the family economics bureau of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

The bureau sought to determine what foods, if any, had risen in cost less than the general 105 per cent and the 130 per cent increase noted in meat prices since 1939. It found a lot of them.

Meal by meal, the bureau discovered that the following items can be purchased by the housewife at prices which have advanced at a rate far below the general level:

BREAKFAST—Canned orange juice, up only 10 to 30 per cent since 1939; canned grapefruit and pine-apple juice, up 50 to 65 per cent; corn or wheat flakes, up 32 to 37 per cent; rolled oats, up 60 per cent; toast or cinnamon rolls, up 65 per cent; orange marmalade, up 45 per cent; tea, up 40 per cent; milk, up 65 per cent, and coco, up 65 per cent.

The survey noted that chicken prices had risen less than those for any other meat.

LUNCH—Canned soup, up 35 to 40 per cent; soda crackers, up 65 per cent; sliced oranges and lettuce for salad, up 65 to 50 per cent and 50 per cent, respectively; carrots, up 80 per cent; spinach, up 65 per cent, and macaroni, up 40 per cent.

DINNER—Chicken, up 65 to 80 per cent.

SOVIET INELIGIBLE FOR OIL

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24 (UPI)—Russia was held ineligible today for any of the 12,000,000 barrels of American petroleum products in the export quota for October, November and December.
