

THE WEATHER FOTOCAST via ACME TELEPHOTO

W. M. RIG. PAT. PEND. COPR. 1946 EDW. L. A. WAGNER ALL RIGHTS RESERVED.

NATIONAL 24-HOUR FORECAST SUMMARY: Seasonably cold weather with snow in Vermont, upper New York and Pennsylvania is predicted for the Northeast tonight. Weathermen say thermometers will slip into the 20s from Boston through New York, Pennsylvania to Chicago, Omaha, the Dakotas and Montana. A new outbreak of cold air from central Canada will cause minima from 10 to 20 degrees in Wisconsin and Minnesota. Snow is scheduled for northern Minnesota and the Dakotas as the cold front which marks the south border of this outbreak moves into the U. S.

Moist winds from the Northwest will again release general storms over the Northwest. Showers are indicated from northern California to Canada, also Montana and Nevada while flurries of snow are forecast for Wyoming and Colorado. It will be rainy in Utah while Idaho will have rain or snow. (The fotocast shows in detail storms for the nation during the next 24 hours.)

Look at the light areas on the small inset map at the bottom left. These indicate skies will be clear along the coast from New Jersey to Georgia, also New Mexico, western Texas and Oklahoma. Partial cloudiness is predicted for the hatched areas on this chart.

During the early morning the mercury will be in the 30s from New York to Georgia, in the Ohio Valley, the central Plains and northern Texas. Weather Bureau forecasters say minima will be 32 degrees along the freezing line. It will be warmest along the Gulf coast where minima in the 50s are expected.

Large, labelled arrows on the Fotocast show the air flows which will determine weather and temperatures over the nation. The small solid arrows show wind directions.

Minimum temperatures will range from 12 degrees at Duluth to 57 at Miami. Sample forecasts for the nation's cities include Milwaukee, 14; Detroit and Chicago, 20; Boston, 24; Philadelphia and Cleveland, 28; New York, 30; Washington, 31; St. Louis, 34; Kansas City, 35; Atlanta, 38, and Memphis, 48.

Official Weather

UNITED STATES WEATHER BUREAU

—Jan. 8, 1948—
Sunrise 7:06 | Sunset 5:38

Precipitation 24 hrs. end 7:30 a. m. .00

Total precipitation since Jan. 1. .00

Excess since JAN. 1. 1.11

The following table shows the temperature and precipitation yesterday in other cities:

Station	High	Low
Atlanta	52	31
Baltimore	49	23
Chicago	39	28
Cincinnati	39	30
Clarendon	40	28
Denver	60	35
Evansville	52	37
Fl. Worth	38	22
Indianapolis (city)	42	37
Kansas City	52	40
Las Vegas	52	30
Miami	72	54
Minneapolis-St. Paul	37	30
New Orleans	41	27
New York	35	27
Oklahoma City	58	39
Omaha	52	34
Portland	50	30
San Antonio	63	42
Washington, D. C.	51	40

Feeney to Talk Smoke

With Pennsylvania R. R.

Mayor Feeney will discuss the problem of smoke from the Pennsylvania Railroad at a meeting to be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in his office.

Attending will be Robert Wolf, city combustion engineer, and representatives of the railroad. Mr. Wolf has advocated charging the railroad with violation of the anti-smoke ordinance.

"Before we bring any charges, let's talk this thing over," Mayor Feeney told Mr. Wolf. "Maybe we can determine at the same time a future policy in such matters."

Rep. Hartley 'Willing' ASBURY PARK, N. J., Jan. 8 (UP)—Rep. Fred A. Hartley (R. N. J.) co-author of the Taft-Hartley act, said today he would be willing to run for Vice President if the Republican nomination is offered him.

Leaders again
in 1947

During 1947 more families again chose Flanner & Buchanan than any other Indianapolis Mortuary.

HOME OF The Finest SERVICE

FLANNER
AND BUCHANAN
Mortuary
FALL CREEK AT MERIDIAN ST.

MILLER-WOHL
CLEARANCE

SUITS and COATS
At 2 Give-Away Prices
SAVE UP TO

Group No. 1
$97
WERE UP TO $21.95
AND MORE

Group No. 2
$14.77
WERE UP TO $29.95

SPECIAL GROUP
COATS $5

MILLER-WOHL

45 E. WASHINGTON ST.

THE INDIANAPOLIS TIMES

Germans Accept Western Zone Program

FRANKFURT, Jan. 8 (UP)—The top German officials of the Anglo-American zone today accepted proposals by the military governors for setting up a joint administration amounting in effect to a government of Western Germany.

With only minor suggestions and amendments, the Germans went down the line on the program presented by Gen. Lucius D. Clay and Sir Brian Robertson yesterday.

They agreed to expand the economic council of the Anglo-American zone, create a second legislative house to be called the Landesrat, use new taxation power, set approved by the council.

Gen. Clay and Gen. Robertson said that parts of the sprawling new "German economic administration"

—they shunned the use of the word

government for the setup—would be operating by Feb. 1.

The only point on which the Germans balked was the formation of a cabinet. They agreed that the present executive committee should be reconstituted, but at once set about sapping its proposed powers.

The military governors had suggested that the cabinet chief be allowed to appoint his own directors. The Germans demurred and asked that all cabinet ministers be measure and positive action taken

Balk at Cabinet

The military governments will draw up formal proclamations putting the system into effect within 10 days, the generals reported. They was still at large today south of Indianapolis.

Another steer that escaped from the Union Stockyards fell before police bullets at Belmont and Kentucky ave., but a cow that had escape with him loped off out of

range of Officers Melvin Osborn and

Elwood Wenck.

The missing steer bolted suddenly

from the killing floor of the packing plant and cleared the gate before

attendants could stop it. The steer took to land again. It was

last seen leaping through the

underbrush, still going south.

A motorist, seeing the steer

plight, pulled his car across the road in front of the galloping animal but a

dodged into a cornfield, swam

across a gravel pit, ran through

open country for another mile and plunged into White River for

second swim.

Encountering a motorboat, the

steer took to land again. It was

last seen leaping through the

underbrush, still going south.

THURSDAY, JAN. 8, 1948

Want a Beefsteak? Go Chase a Steer

An 800-pound steer that escaped from the Capital Packing Co. yards at 801 Kentucky Ave. yesterday by leaping over an eight-foot gate, was still at large today south of Indianapolis.

Another steer that escaped from the Union Stockyards fell before police bullets at Belmont and Kentucky ave., but a cow that had escape with him loped off out of

range of Officers Melvin Osborn and

Elwood Wenck.

The missing steer bolted suddenly

from the killing floor of the packing plant and cleared the gate before

attendants could stop it. The

steer took to land again. It was

last seen leaping through the

underbrush, still going south.

A motorist, seeing the steer

plight, pulled his car across the road in

front of the galloping animal but a

dodged into a cornfield, swam

across a gravel pit, ran through

open country for another mile and

plunged into White River for

second swim.

Encountering a motorboat, the

steer took to land again. It was

last seen leaping through the

underbrush, still going south.

A motorist, seeing the steer

plight, pulled his car across the road in

front of the galloping animal but a

dodged into a cornfield, swam

across a gravel pit, ran through

open country for another mile and

plunged into White River for

second swim.

Encountering a motorboat, the

steer took to land again. It was

last seen leaping through the

underbrush, still going south.

A motorist, seeing the steer

plight, pulled his car across the road in

front of the galloping animal but a

dodged into a cornfield, swam

across a gravel pit, ran through

open country for another mile and

plunged into White River for

second swim.

Encountering a motorboat, the

steer took to land again. It was

last seen leaping through the

underbrush, still going south.

A motorist, seeing the steer

plight, pulled his car across the road in

front of the galloping animal but a

dodged into a cornfield, swam

across a gravel pit, ran through

open country for another mile and

plunged into White River for

second swim.

Encountering a motorboat, the

steer took to land again. It was

last seen leaping through the

underbrush, still going south.

A motorist, seeing the steer

plight,