

Legion
e UMT
ital Trip s Change in Housing Law
from the Indiana
the American Legion views on universal ing before Hoosier
gress tomorrow in to Head day Group reener will serve as the interdenominational Friday Commemorative was elected chair

year-old committee
luncheon meeting

in is the vice chairmen and the Rev. F.
zenfeld, secretary.
members include G.
J. Belser, the Rev.
r and the Rev. F.

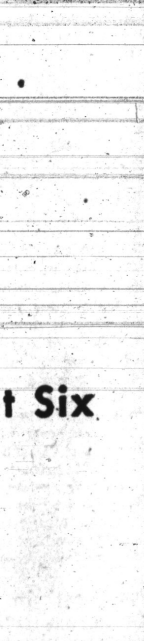

WOMEN
THURSDAY
10:30-11:30

Two boys, one 15 and the other 11, were arrested in the Lorraine Hotel, Capitol Ave. and Washington St., where they had wanted a room with money they admitted stealing from the Frankfort filling stations.

Both residents of Frankfort, they had come here after the burglaries, police were told.

NO NATURAL GAS
WASHINGTON — California has natural gas but the Pacific northwest has none.

STRAUSS
SAYS:

BARONESS
You'll be putting your best foot forward—if it's clad in this pump
of BLACK SUEDE—with the open toe and that just right closed heel—It has that added touch, too—a saucy bow. Sizes 4 to 10—
widths AAAA to B.

10.95

STRAUSS
THE SPECIALTY SHOP
IS ON THE THIRD FLOOR

Find No Trace Of Two North Side Bandits

LVL Club Owner's Auto Still Missing

Police Also Seek Lone Gunman

Police today still had no trace of the two bandits who yesterday robbed Roll Hoss, local night club operator, and his wife at their home, 25 E. 62d St.

A Cadillac automobile belonging to Mr. Hoss and taken by the bandits as they fled has not been found.

The bandits, who left the couple tied in a closet, obtained $250 in cash and diamond rings valued at $2500.

Also sought was a lone bandit who yesterday robbed Clancy B. Walter, 39, of 2040 Park Ave., of $400. The holdup man jumped in Mr. Walter's car while he waited on a traffic signal at Meridian and Raymond Sts.

Picks Up Bandit
Wielding a gun, the robber forced Mr. Walter to drive for a short distance before taking his money. Another car that Mr. Walter said he noticed following him stopped and picked up the bandit after he jumped out.

Mr. Walter ran to the Liberal View League Club, 2800 Bluff Rd., of which Mr. Hoss is co-owner and reported the theft.

Meanwhile, New York police were holding a cook who has admitted the theft of more than $1200 from his former employer, the El-Wa Grille, 5672 W. Washington St.

Local police said they have received a radiogram that the man held was Charles Knaub, who gave 31 N. Randolph St. as his Indianapolis address.

'Bean Pole' Bandit
Frank Shoemaker, manager of the restaurant, said Knaub disappeared last Dec. 16 after taking between $1250 and $1300. He used a screwdriver to open a strong box, the manager said.

A "bean pole" bandit early today slugged a Red Cab driver, Frank Mello, 1301 Edgemont St., and robbed him of $8. Mr. Mello told police he picked up a fare at Illinois and Ohio Sts. and took him to Blake and New York Sts. As he stopped the cab, the "bandit" slugged him, Mr. Mello told police.

The cab driver lay unconscious for almost an hour, with the motor of his cab running, police learned. The only description Mr. Mello was able to give was that his assailant was "long and lean."

A shabbily-dressed woman yesterday was believed to have picked the pocket of 69-year-old L. W. Dickinson, owner of an upholstery shop at 803 Shelby St. He told police he reached for his wallet later and found $95 missing. He said the woman had visited his shop earlier and talked about having some work "done."

Two boys, one 15 and the other 11, were arrested in the Lorraine Hotel, Capitol Ave. and Washington St., where they had wanted a room with money they admitted stealing from the Frankfort filling stations.

Both residents of Frankfort, they had come here after the burglaries, police were told.

NO NATURAL GAS
WASHINGTON — California has natural gas but the Pacific northwest has none.

STRAUSS
SAYS:

BARONESS You'll be putting your best foot forward—if
it's clad in this pump
of BLACK SUEDE—with the open toe and that just right
closed heel—It has that
added touch, too—a saucy bow. Sizes 4 to 10—
widths AAAA to B.

10.95

STRAUSS
THE SPECIALTY SHOP
IS ON THE THIRD FLOOR

REFUSES TO MOVE—Miss Bessie Impett, who has lived all but seven of her 85 years on a 34-acre tract of land in Cleveland, O., may have to sell her land and move. It won't be without a fight, she says. The city wants the property for a playground and plans a "fair-price" for her holdings. Miss Impett, bedridden, says she will not leave.

Pennsylvania Woman Awaits 110th Birthday
WAPWALLOPEN, Pa., Jan. 22 (UP)—Pennsylvania's oldest woman, Mrs. Mary O'Neill, bustled about her hilltop home here today in eager anticipation of her 110th birthday Monday.

Mrs. O'Neill, who came to the U. S. from her native England 50 years ago, will be honored on her birthday by the Pennsylvania Medical Society, which will present her with an appropriately inscribed plaque and a certificate.

She is healthy and active. She says she dislikes radios, automobiles and airplanes.

Arabs, Jews Attack Opposing Convoys

JERUSALEM, Jan. 22 (UP)—At least eight Jews, 13 Arabs and one Pole suspected of being an Arab spy were killed today. Widespread Palestine fighting featured Arab and Jewish attacks on opposing convoys.

Official reports said seven Jews and three Arabs were killed when Arabs at Yezour, four miles east of Jaffa, attacked a truck carrying 10 special Jewish policemen riding at the head of a convoy bound for Jerusalem.

Police said Arabs halted the truck at a hastily built road block and pulled the Jews to the ground where they were beaten and stabbed to death. The vehicle was burned. Seven of the 10 Jews were killed, but three escaped with wounds.

Jews in reprisal attacked an Arab convoy attempting to enter Jaffa, riddling a number of buses with bullets and killing at least 10 Arabs.

Willkie the 'Kidnap'
It was that way in 1940. Mr. Dewey was first. Mr. Taft a good second and Wendell L. Willkie far back on the first ballot that year.

Mr. Dewey's strength faded fast after one ballot. Mr. Taft gained steadily for awhile, but was overtaken by Mr. Willkie who kidnaped the nomination to the astonishment of politicians who thought they were running the national convention.

Gen. Ike is the potential kidnaper this year. The Gallup Polls are making it steadily more difficult for him to make the definite statement which would take him out of the contest now and forever.

Design Sharp
But the Army has designed the type it would like. And Army public relations photographers already have taken pictures of two soldiers dressed in the proposed dress uniform. From the look of it, the Air Force boys and the Navy will have to go some to get a prettier uniform.

The coat—or blouse—is something close to a royal blue and the trousers are a slightly lighter shade of blue. The uniform is worn with a white shirt and a dark blue tie.

Wide gold stripes adorn the pants. And that goes for the pants of the buck private to the highest ranking general. In fact, except for wider stripes of gold on the sleeves of the officers and a different type of shoulder strap, the two uniforms of officer and enlisted man are about the same.

For Dress Only
The hat looks very much like a Navy officers' cap, except that it has the Army "bird" on the front. The color matches the coat.

Even the private will wear a gold "V" shaped stripe on his sleeve.

U. S. to Take Rap at Rally Of Chiang Foes
N. Y. 'Conference' Hews to Red Line

By FREDERICK WOLTMAN
Scripture-Herald Staff Writer
NEW YORK, Jan. 22—America will take the rap at a conference in New York this week-end for all the troubles in the Far East, and Russia will come out of it with a clean bill of health.

For the Russia-can-do-no-wrong people are launching their most ambitious national Communist front in many months. As a featured attraction, according to their announcements, they've snagged Dr. Rexford Guy Tugwell, former Roosevelt brain trust.

This movement has the disarming title, "National Conference on American Policy in China and the Far East." Its advertised aim is nation-wide "citizenship action" to reverse U. S. foreign policy in China, Japan, Korea, the Philippines and Indonesia.

The Communist Party's "Daily Worker" on Jan. 13 hailed the affair under a big headline: "Conference Called to Chart Progressive Policy in Asia."

Listed as a national chairman and initiator of the conference is T. A. Blanton, until recently special advisor to Gen. Douglas MacArthur in Japan.

Among the prominent non-Communists named as sponsors are Dr. Rufus M. Jones, outstanding Quaker, Emily G. Balch, 1946 Nobel prize winner, Bishops Arthur W. Platon and Edward Parsons of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Frank E. Taylor, editor of Random House, and Annalee Stewart, U. S. president of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

One pertinent fact is omitted from the nationally distributed official "call" to the conference, and its newspaper ads—namely, that it was all cooked up by the Communist Far Eastern policy, which has been steadily pushing away for the Soviet Union's aspirations in Asia.

Neglect to Mention
Instead, say the circulars, it was originated by Mr. Blanton and two co-chairmen. They are Dr. W. E. S. Dubois and Councilman Stanley M. Isaacs of New York, both supporters of many Communist fronts.

The principal speakers at the opening session Friday night are Anna Louise Strong and Dr. James G. Endicott, described as a recently returned China-born missionary for the United Church of Canada.

The announcements neglect to mention the fact that Miss Strong, founder of the Moscow Daily News, has for years been shuttling between America and her home in the Soviet Union as a Russian propagandist. Nor do they indicate anywhere that Dr. Endicott recently resigned as a missionary and minister in order to join the Communist forces in China.

Aimed at Chiang
Aimed particularly at Chiang Kai-shek, the conference, according to its "call," will charge America with "making a mockery of Philippine independence," bringing "economic chaos and political fascism" to southern Korea, "harassing" the Jap forces responsible for Pearl Harbor to "the dangerous ambitions of an anti-democratic American group" and "scheming . . . to subject the Chinese people to an autocracy."

Apart from a few new backers, the sponsorship list is made up of about 70 familiar Communist-front names. Among them are Louis Adamic, Harry Bridges, Angus Cameron, editor of "Little Brown & Co., Johannes Steel, Dr. Harry F. Ward and Ferdinand G. Smith.

New York members of the Methodist Federation for Social Action are being recruited to show up at the affair by their chairman, Dr. Clyde R. Miller.

Army Double Times to Beat Services to 'New Look'
Gold Stripes on Blue Uniform Choice, but Dissenting Brass Still Keep O. D.'s

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (UP)—The Army is stealing a march on the other armed services in acquiring the "new look."

But for the present all services are going along with their present dress uniforms. President Truman, it was disclosed today, still hasn't succeeded in getting his high-ranking officers into the single type of dress uniform he proposed after the Rio Conference last year.

The Army said the official dress for a reception at the White House on Jan. 27 will include the "O. D. service coat with pink trousers, the blue dress uniform and the special evening dress."

and he will have collar insignia of his branch. Of course, the uniform is for dress only.

The Air Force proposed uniform is a powder blue, but the fly-boys are still arguing over the type of insignia to be worn.

The Navy is still studying the situation.

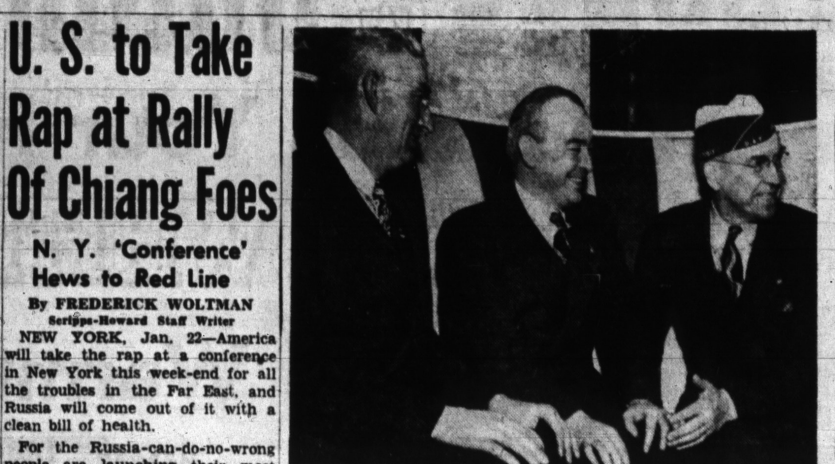

IN INDIANAPOLIS

EVENTS TODAY
Interdenominational meeting of leaders in church children's work — 1:30 p. m., Y. M. C. A.
Indiana Council of Fraternal Societies—Hotel Lincoln.

EVENTS TOMORROW
Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra—Concert—7:30 p. m., P. O. B.
Matinee musical program—3 p. m., L. S. Indian.
Indianapolis Bridge Championship—(through Sunday)—Hotel Lincoln.
Exchange Club—Claypool Hotel.
Optimist Club—Covington Hotel.
Sabbath Eve Services in Synagogues.

BIRTHS
At St. Francis—Ray, Velma Mearfield, and George, Mildred Kingma.
At General—Edna, Dorothy Cunningham, and John, Wanda Thomas.
At Coleman—Donald, Perry Wiggins, and Melvin, Carrie Phillips.
At St. Vincent—Paul, Mildred Hurt; Donald, Kathryn Daniel; William, Nelson; Dugan, Charles; Joyce Golden; James, Ford; Robert, James; Bonnie, Brown, and Wade, Thelma Page.
At Methodist—Walker, Joyce Wallace; William, Faye Tucker; Criville, Faye; William, Charles; Mary Colby; James, Robert; Edward, Elmer; Jack, Brockway; and Walter, Shirley Rubin.
At St. Francis—Thomas, Eugene Moody; Tony, Christine Rene, and Millard, Ma-childe Byers.
At Coleman—Jude, Gladys Wynn; Cris, Bernice Hasselburg, and Ray, Esther Burns.
At St. Vincent's—Ray Jr., Helen Noble; Shirley, Myrtle Achley, and George, Theresa Sohn.
At Methodist—Carl, Clara Case.
At Home—James, Irma Perez, 135 W. Third; Lloyd, Arvid Cooper, 545 S. Warren, and Gordon, Lois Moore, 408 W. Raymond.

DEATHS
Mildred LaFollett, 55, at 518 Holly, cerebral hemorrhage, 35, at St. Vincent's, cerebral hemorrhage.
Daniel J. Fale, 79, at 233 N. Walnut, sclerotic heart.
Perry Dennis Unsworth, 64, at St. Vincent's, cardiac decompensation.
Myrtle Van Vorst, 72, at Methodist, cerebral hemorrhage.
Josie Crowe, 47, at St. Vincent's, carcinoma.
Charlotte Margaret Stubbins, 51, at 438 Adams Street, cancer.

DAV SPOKESMAN—John Golob (right), national commander, Disabled American Veterans, charged as an "injustice" the failure of congress to provide family dependency allowances for disabled veterans in a speech here last night. He urged expansion of Veterans Administration hospitals. With Mr. Golob are (left) Charles J. Friel, commander of Indianapolis Chapter 3, and Frank McBride, commander, Chapter 52, DAV.

Dog Hero, Killed by Car, To Receive Soldier's Burial

Town's Veterans Contribute $10 to Assure 'Butch' Decent Resting Place

SALISBURY, Mass., Jan. 22 (UP)—Carpenter Ralph Barton's hands were sure and steady though a hint of a tear glistened in his eye today as he sawed and hammered a coffin for a war hero.

"I killed him," said Mr. Barton. "They say it wasn't my fault, but it was me that did it. And after he came home safe from four years of war in Europe."

Mr. Barton's skillful hands worked short pieces of wood into a small-sized box as he spoke. It was short, but big enough for the body of "Butch," the only dog from Salisbury to serve Uncle Sam.

That's the way it was put by Lawrence Peters, the town's Director of Veterans' Services.

"We couldn't leave 'Butch' in the town dump," Mr. Peters explained. "That's where they brought him after he was run over by Mr. Barton's car. His back was broken and a policeman had to shoot him."

When Mr. Peters heard what happened to the black and white German shepherd dog, he gathered some veterans including restaurant chef James Moghbaghah, "Butch's" owner.

"We agreed 'Butch' had to have a hero's burial after what he's meant to this town," said Mr. Peters. "We

U. S. Courts War, Says Lenin Orator
LONDON, Jan. 22 (UP)—One of the high figures of the Soviet hierarchy warned the United States last night that she was courting the night of Germany and Japan by trying to "start a new imperialist war."

The speech was made by Mikhail A. Suslov, one of the secretaries of the Communist Party, in a Soviet memorial function at Moscow's grand opera house marking the 24th anniversary of Lenin's death.

Radio Moscow, in reporting the speech, said that Generalissimo Josef Stalin was among those present on the speaker's platform. This apparently was a hint to let the world know that Stalin still was attending important Soviet functions.

U. S. Adventurist
"The adventurist policy of America is fraught with great danger," Moscow quoted Suslov as saying.

"It should have been thought the downfall of Hitler would have taught American imperialism and its younger brother, Great Britain, something."

"But British and American imperialists are rushing to share the same fate as Germany . . . the rapacious imperialism of America is striving for world domination, for enslavement of all countries of the world."

Suslov's charges have been voiced in the past by lesser functionaries, but none of his stature has been so outspoken.

3 More Affidavits Filed for Lobaugh
FT. WAYNE, Jan. 22 (UP)—Three more affidavits in the case of Ralph W. Lobaugh were on file today in Allen Circuit Court.

The latest statements were made by fellow prisoners of Lobaugh, and one prisoner's wife. They charged that the use of benzodrine was widespread in the Allen County jail at the time that Lobaugh pleaded guilty to killing three Ft. Wayne women.

Lobaugh's attorney, Robert A. Buhler, said the affidavits were in support of a petition filed previously to set aside Lobaugh's electrocution date, Feb. 9, at the Indiana State prison.

HOOSIER CONGRESSMEN DIFFER ON ADMITTING WAR HOMELESS TO U. S.
Madden and Mitchell Would Offer Haven To DP's; Eight Others Are Opposed

By DANIEL M. KIDNEY, Times Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22—Two Indiana congressmen—one Democrat and the other Republican—went on record today as favoring the admission of displaced persons to the United States.

They are Rep. Ray Madden, Gary Democrat, and Rep. Edward A. Mitchell, Evansville Republican.

The eight other Hoosier Republicans are opposed to such action now.

port them and of course the U. S. Army cannot continue to support them indefinitely.

"They cannot be repatriated as it would be impossible to compel all of them to return to persecution and ultimate liquidation."

"We should immediately open our doors for the admission of a reasonable number of these people outside the immigration quota system, subject, of course, to our regular immigration requirements."

Many are excellent farmers and would add the labor shortage on Midwest farms, Mr. Madden concluded.

"Someone has to work and I'm sure these persons are willing. It was people exactly like them that did the work here in the past which made America great."

Mr. Madden contended in a House speech that there now are 900,000 displaced persons and the United States has done nothing to help them while other countries are letting them in.

Need Only Opportunity
"Congressmen visiting Europe during the last summer, learned about this problem first hand," Mr. Madden said.

"They found that these displaced persons are self-reliant and self-respecting people; determined to make their own living and re-establish their lives if given an opportunity to do so."

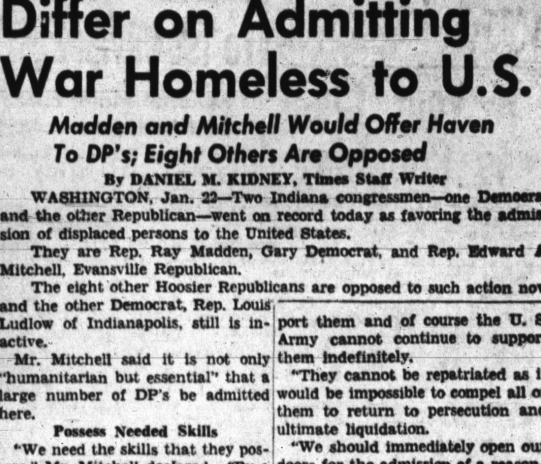

"Many of them were pioneers in the battle against Nazism and Hitler tyranny and are now ready to combat and oppose the forces of communistic oppression. They are the White House and an apparently free country. It is impossible for the European economy to support them."

Knutson Predicts Tax Cut Passage
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (UP)—Rep. Harold Knutson (R, Minn.) encouraged by former President Herbert Hoover's recommendation for a drastic cut in Marshall Plan spending, predicted today that his $5 billion income tax reduction bill will become law by March 15.

Mr. Knutson, chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, told reporters that "in view of what many authorities say, we should spend on Europe, there is absolutely no justification for cutting the tax bill."

There are considerable indications, however, that the Senate may cut the tax reduction to three or four billion before sending the bill to the White House and an apparently certain veto.

The big test then would come on over-riding the veto.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (UP)—Rep. Harold Knutson (R, Minn.) encouraged by former President Herbert Hoover's recommendation for a drastic cut in Marshall Plan spending, predicted today that his $5 billion income tax reduction bill will become law by March 15.

Mr. Knutson, chairman of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, told reporters that "in view of what many authorities say, we should spend on Europe, there is absolutely no justification for cutting the tax bill."

There are considerable indications, however, that the Senate may cut the tax reduction to three or four billion before sending the bill to the White House and an apparently certain veto.

The big test then would come on over-riding the veto.

STRAUSS SAYS: TRADITION WITH A TOUCH OF TOMORROW!

But—not nearly as cold as it was in New York City's blizzard of 1969—if you can believe a kerecter (you can't) in H. I. Phillips column in this New York Sun.

He said (among other things) it was so cold that a fellow milking a cow got brick ice cream.

And a fellow trying to boil coffee—couldn't make it—the cold air coming in under the window sill—froze the coffee and cracked the pot.

But it's cold—and the truth is—that here is comfort for blizzardy weather—with Cleared Paces approaching zero in many cases!

Here are OVERCOATS to surround you in warmth—and Fashion. And thick SOCKS—and heavy SPORTS SHIRTS—and MUFFLERS and GLOVES.

And other items of a personal heating system. The CLOTHING FLOOR is the Second.

L. STRAUSS & CO., INC., THE MAN'S STORE