Yule Parties Over For Cancer Victim

FT. PIERCE, Fla., Feb. 5 (UP) — Little Reba Nell Bowman, who clung to life long enough to enjoy two Christmases in 1947, died here last night of cancer.

Her gallant struggle for life won the hearts of this community last December, and the whole town turned the calendar up seven days to give Reba Nell an early Christmas party.

They were afraid she wouldn't live till the real Christmas.

The splendid Yuletide party seemed to improve both the health and spirits of the 7-year-old girl, and when the real Christmas came she had another party, as elaborate as the first.

On both occasions she was showered with gifts, her schoolmates sang carols at her bedside and the parties were broadcast over the Ft. Pierce radio station.
