1000 Math Teachers to Meet For 26th Annual Convention

Professor of Puzzlers
To Be Here

Approximately 1000 instructors and specialists will attend the 26th annual convention of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics tomorrow and Saturday in the Claypool Hotel.

All the latest methods and aids for teaching mathematics in classes from the elementary school through the junior college will be discussed by men and women from all parts of the United States. University professors, to whom the puzzling intricacies of higher mathematics are an open book, will be here. They will lecture to teachers on the best ways to teach.

Daily luncheons, a reception tomorrow afternoon given by the Indiana Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the Indianapolis Mathematics Club, and a closing banquet will be held in the hotel for the entertainment of the guests.

Carnahan to Preside
The sessions will be highlighted by a general meeting beginning at 8 p. m. Friday. "Teaching Mathematics as a Guide to Practical Living" will be discussed by Dr. Will E. Edington of DePaul University. Walter H. Carnahan of the D. S. Heath and Co., Boston, who formerly lived in Indianapolis, will preside.

Shuster to Respond
Carl N. Shuster, president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, also of State Teachers College, Trenton, N. J., will respond to the welcome. Other speakers include Dr. Will

PLAN BAKED GOODS SALE
