

NEW lady ATTENDANT

Lillian V. Monahan

Beginning May 18th,
Mrs. Lillian V. Monahan
a member of our staff for 8 years, will become our receptionist and lady attendant. She assumes these important responsibilities from Mrs.
Garris Burkhardt, who is discontinuing her professional work at that time.

We are sorry to see Mrs. Burkhardt leave and know her friends will miss her at Wilson's, because for 15 years she has ably assisted the many hundreds of families we have served.

Eli Lilly and Co. Open New Building

Plant Used in Study Of Organic Chemicals

Eli Lilly & Co. has opened its new building at the corner of Delaware and Merrill Sts., which will be used as a pilot plant for investigating organic chemical manufacturing.

The new structure marks the first time that the pharmaceutical manufacturing company has devoted an entire building to such activities.

Built of brick trimmed with limestone to match the architecture of adjacent properties, the new building was designed by Robert Frost Daggett, Indianapolis architect.

157 Feet In Depth

Plans for the heating, ventilation and electrical equipment were designed by Ammerman, Davis and Stout, Inc., Indianapolis consulting engineers.

The new structure is 55 feet wide and 157 feet in depth and consists of two sections, one of which is three stories high facing Delaware St. The other section consists of an area two stories high and a 60-foot, three story "tower" topped by a penthouse.

U. S. Truce Proposal Will Be Heard in UN

NEW YORK, Apr. 12 (UPI)—The United States will present to United Nations diplomats today specific proposals for an immediate truce in Palestine.

The American suggestions will open a last-ditch attempt by United States to quiet the Holy Land before the General Assembly convenes Friday to attempt a fresh solution of the Palestine problem.

American officials said American Delegates Warren Austin would have some "concrete" truce suggestions at a private meeting of Security Council delegates.

IU Med. School to Hear
Michigan Doctor Speak

"The Results of Gastrectomy" will be discussed by Dr. Henry K. Ransom, University of Michigan professor of surgery, at 8 p. m. April 23 in the auditorium of the Indiana University School of Medicine.

His lecture is one of a monthly series sponsored by the Veterans Administration and Indiana University School of Medicine.

Why Not Try This?

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE
No one is born unselfish. It is natural for the young child to want to keep his own things for himself, and we must help him to share.

There is no one simple method. If, when other youngsters are expected, Mother says: "Johnny is coming to play with you today. What do you think he would like to play with . . . this auto or these blocks?" the 4 or 5-year-old will have a feeling that has helped decide and the sharing won't be so hard.

Or you have a special "visitor's toy box" which is kept only for those occasions when other youngsters visit. It's not quite so hard for Junior to share some loved toy if the visitor has one from "his" toy box that he will exchange.

When a child has allowed a playmate to use his possessions, give him a pat on the back and you gradually will convince him that sharing isn't so bad after all.

Parents must have patience and must help to develop these and other similar learning experiences in the youngsters. Also, a willingness to share an automatic pencil or a favorite handkerchief once in a while with Junior and Junior Miss will help "civilize" them.
