Works Board Kills Feeder Bus Proposal

Suggests Adoption Of City Program

The proposed new route for the feeder bus service on Arlington Ave. between Washington and 10th Sts. was turned down by the Board of Works today. Instead, the board suggested that Indianapolis Railways change the route to comply with a new proposal submitted by city traffic engineer, Lewis Johnson.

The whole feeder project involved new service on Arlington Ave. from Washington St. all the way to 38th St. Buses now are running only between 10th and 38th Sts.

On the southern section between 10th and Washington Sts the transit firm had proposed going west on 10th St. to Ritter Ave., south to Lowell Ave., east to Layman Ave., south to Washington St., west to Ritter Ave., then north to 10th St. and back to Arlington Ave.

Board of Works members said that Lowell Ave. and Layman Ave. were too narrow for this service and suggested adoption of a new route as follows: West on 10th St. from Arlington Ave. to Ritter Ave., south to Brookville Rd., west to Emerson Ave., north to 10th St. and back to Arlington Ave.

Board of Works members said they would approve this route if approved by the transit firm and the Indiana Public Service Commission.

Sheriff Finds Own Army Serial Number on Body

FT. WAYNE, May 13 (UP)—The sheriff and his deputies had exhausted every available clue trying to identify the man's body they had recovered from the Maumee River.

Just one clue remained—a serial number on the Army fatigue pants. It was "2-7198."

"That's my serial number," Sheriff Harold Zeis recalled suddenly.

Today, the man was still unidentified. "The sheriff remembered that at various times he had given old clothes to jail inmates."

'Cat Burglar' Seized On N. Y. Hotel Roof

NEW YORK (UP)—A guest in a fourth-floor room of the Hotel Pierre looked out the window and saw what he later described as "a hat going by."

Detectives captured John F. Peters, 36, a "cat burglar," sliding down along the ledge between rooms. A paroled convict, he had a record of 12 arrests.

BETTER WITH THE BIRDS?—Tired of living with relatives, 17-year-old veteran, John Leonard Freeman, has built a tree-top home in Medford, Mass. The ex-G.I., who is now attending junior high school, is shown ascending the ladder-stairway to his single room house nestled 30 feet from the ground in the crotch of a tree.

What Makes the Men Fall Told by Girl Who Is Tall

CHICAGO, May 13 (UP)—Men will fall faster for tall girls than for the so-called ideal five-foot-twins, Jewel Wolkenhauer said today.

Jewel is a luscious five-foot-eleven herself. She speaks with authority as founder of the Chicago Tall Girls' Club. "Long lines and gentle curves are the things that stir men's souls," she said. "Medium-sized girls just don't have that kind of eye appeal."

Jewel, who is 26, said that tall girls should junk their inferiority complexes and get hep to taking advantage of their natural charms.

"There's no reason why high-built girls have to play second fiddle to anyone else," she said. "There's nothing more graceful than a tall woman. Just ask any movie producer or photographer."

Temper Runs High

Jewel gets hopping mad when she meets girls who think they'll never get their man just because they're way up in the air. She said their trouble is that they haven't any confidence—not that they're tall.

"Women are getting taller every year," she said. "They're even outdistancing the men. But they're really knockouts to look at and I don't know any who have trouble getting dates or husbands."

Many tall girls are afraid to stand up straight, she said, and go to all sorts of extremes—low shoes, special dresses, and small hats—to hide their height.

She said it seems natural for a tall girl to feel self-conscious. She has to curl up to fit in bed, bend low to iron, and duck for awnings. Everything she does reminds her that she towers above the rest of her sex.

Pack a Wallop

"But most tall girls pack a wallop when it comes to attractiveness," said Miss Wolkenhauer. She said the measurements of a six-footer run something like this: Waist, 26 inches; bust, 36 inches; hips, 37 inches, and weight, 150 pounds.

"Show me the man whose eyes wouldn't pop if he saw that walk down a street," she said.

Name Cyrus Eaton In Kaiser Probe

Held Interested In Stocks Lawsuit

DETROIT, May 13 (UP)—Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland financier, was named today as the "interested" person for whom two attorneys acted in confirming the filing of a suit blocking the $10 million sale of Kaiser-Frazer Corp. stock here Feb. 9.

Louis Lops, chief counsel of the Trading and Securities Division of the Securities and Exchange Commission, revealed that Mr. Eaton, chief stockholder in the underwriters firm of Otis and Company which handled the Kaiser-Frazer stock issue, was the client of the two attorneys.

Under court order, Allan Hull and Marvin C. Harrison, members of the Cleveland law firm of Harrison, Spangenberg, Thomas and Hull, told Mr. Lops that they were retained personally by Mr. Eaton and not by any firm in which Mr. Eaton was interested.

Ordered to Answer

Mr. Hull and Mr. Harrison were ordered by Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle yesterday to answer questions of the SEC concerning their interest in the suit which voided Otis & Co.'s contract with Kaiser-Frazer to sell 1,500,000 shares of K-F common.

Judge Lederle dismissed a show-cause citation against the attorneys after they had made a statement to Mr. Lops last night. Judge Lederle had ordered them to answer the questions upon pain of contempt citation today.

Kaiser-Frazer has charged that the suit, filed by a stockholder to block the stock sale, was a "phony." Otis & Co. withdrew as underwriters in the face of a sharp drop in the stock market and heavy dumping of K-F stock.

2-Time Speeder Gets Double Fine

JAMES BURFORD, 1112 N. Senate Ave., who was arrested last week for speeding, and then arrested again 15 minutes later for trying to make up for lost time, was fined $15 and costs in traffic court today.

Burford was traveling 47 miles per hour in the 900 block on 18th St. when Officer Omer Lloyd tagged him at 2 p. m. May 5. On this count Judge Alex Clark fined him $5 and costs.

The motorist, however, had upped it to 50 mph when Officer Lloyd stopped him 15 minutes later at the same spot. For this offense the judge levied a $10 and cost fine and two days in jail.

HEAVY USER OF SALT

The leather making industry is a heavy user of salt; many million pounds are used each year in the process of turning cattle hides into leather soles.

Group to Re-enact Famous Concert Of Jenny Lind

THE SOCIETY OF INDIANA PIONEERS will visit Madison for a re-enactment of Jenny Lind's famous concert there in 1851 on May 22.

A special bus will leave Indianapolis at 8 a. m. Highlight of the celebration will be the re-enactment of the Jenny Lind concert. Miss Phyllis Wilcox, Indianapolis soprano, will appear as Miss Lind and will sing several selections from the original program.

OTHER persons will be portrayed by members of the Society and Madison residents and the Hanover College orchestra will play. Those attending are asked to wear costumes of the 1850's. A reception for the singer will follow the program.

Visits of Madison showplaces and historic sites will be included on the tour.

Southerners Carry Fight For Educational Compact

WASHINGTON, May 13 (UP)—Southern Senators decided today to carry their fight for a regional educational compact even though it threatens to explode into a showdown on civil rights.

The Dixie Democrats agreed at an informal conference to vote against sending the regional compact bill back to the committee.

A Senate vote on this issue is set for late today.

Sen. Wayne Morse, (R. Ore.), author of the motion to recommit the proposed compact, has threatened to offer amendments covering President Truman's entire civil rights program if the bill is not sent back to committee.

Truman Promises Veto of 'Secrets' Bill

WASHINGTON, May 13 (UP)—President Truman disclosed today that he will veto any bill passed by Congress to force disclosure of the secret files of federal agencies.

Mr. Truman said he is convinced by repeated court decisions that Congress does not have the power to compel cabinet members to make up for lost time, was fined $15 and costs in traffic court today.

Burford was traveling 47 miles per hour in the 900 block on 18th St. when Officer Omer Lloyd tagged him at 2 p. m. May 5. On this count Judge Alex Clark fined him $5 and costs.

The motorist, however, had upped it to 50 mph when Officer Lloyd stopped him 15 minutes later at the same spot. For this offense the judge levied a $10 and cost fine and two days in jail.

He said it was a matter of principle long supported by the courts.
