

California, S. Dakota Stage Primaries to Pick Convention Delegates

Golden State GOP Pledged to Warren; Democrats in Each State Favor Truman

California and South Dakota voters go to the polls today to select delegates to the Republican and Democratic national conventions and nominate party candidates for Congress.

A light vote was forecast in California's primary. Republicans there will name 53 convention delegates, all of whom will be pledged to the favorite-son presidential candidacy of Gov. Earl Warren. Democrats will pick 62 delegates from a field pledged to President Truman.

Twenty-one of California's 23 incumbent Congressmen are seeking renomination. Most incumbents are favored because of the record number of total votes—108—and the expectations of a light vote.

Pledged to Truman

In South Dakota the regular Republican state of 11 convention delegates is unopposed and hence will not appear on the ballot. It is expected to support Harold E. Stassen for the GOP presidential nomination.

South Dakota Democrats, however, will have a two-way contest in picking their eight convention delegates. The regular party slate pledged to Mr. Truman is opposed by an unopposed ticket headed by former party leaders.

Rep. Karl E. Mundt (R. S. D.) is seeking his party's nomination to the Senate seat of retiring Sen. Harold J. Bushfield. He is favored to win over Ott B. Linstad of Pierre.

Plans Trip West

Today's California and South Dakota primaries will nearly complete a selection of the 1094 delegates to the Republican convention which begins in Philadelphia 20 days hence. The one remaining delegation—Indiana's 20—will be picked June 11 at a state GOP convention.

Meanwhile the White House was completing arrangements for the western speaking tour that Mr. Truman will begin Thursday night. He will make at least five major addresses on his first cross-country train trip since taking office.

Jewish Flier Raids Abdullah's Capital

Six Persons Killed in Dawn Bombing

AMMAN, June 1 (UP)—A Jewish plane bombed Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, for 18 minutes in a pre-dawn low level attack today, killing six persons and causing minor damage.

The raid on Amman was the first bombing of any Arab capital during the war between the Arabs and Jews.

Amman was filled with Arab league political leaders meeting to draft an answer to the United Nations request for a truce of four weeks in Palestine.

Sixteen days of Arab gunfire against the Jewish-held new city of Jerusalem halted as the peace talks went on, leading to hope that the United Nations appeal for a four-week truce might be accepted.

Count Bernadotte, special United Nations mediator, conferred here last night with Premier David Ben-Gurion and Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok of Israel.

Count Bernadotte undoubtedly carried the Jewish reply, received last night. The answer of both sides must be made known to the Security Council before the deadline at 6 p. m. (Indianapolis time) today.

Two Arab diplomats at UN said they still had received no word about their governments' response.

Sacred Heart CYO Blames NBC Bosses for 'Silly' U. S. 'Slurs' To Present Play

Cast members will include Rita Scherschel as "mother"; William Pender, Agnes Springman, Dorothy Koesters, Nicholas Baxter and John Bisset as the children; Theodore Kramer and Mary Darrell as friends of the children; Romilda Ritter as "grandmother"; and Charles Williams as "dad."

WASHINGTON, June 1 (UP)—A Venezuelan radio script writer said today that National Broadcasting Co. officials with "such a lack of culture" were responsible for Voice of America broadcasts which some Senators have called "slandering."

Rene Borgia, 32-year-old writer who wanted to be a diplomat, wrote many of the scripts. He testified before a committee of Senators who think State Department-NBC broadcasts "falsified" the characteristics of their home states.

The committee is investigating "Voice" programs to South America which raised a storm of protest in Congress last week.

Couldn't Quit

Mr. Borgia blamed most of the broadcasting troubles on his bosses whom he described, in a broken accent, as men "without any intellectual know-how."

He said that his superiors killed "all the many beautiful scenes that I wrote."

"I objected to such cheap programs when I could have written such beautiful programs . . . there is such a lack of culture on the part of all of those in charge of the program," he said.

He said his superiors wanted only "cheap programs . . . silly comedy."

"I have three children and couldn't quit," he said in complaining that NBC told him to revise his "beautiful" scripts or turn the job over to somebody else.

Reveals Sources

"I didn't like the programs, they were silly, but not insulting," he said.

In answer to questions he said that "South Americans wouldn't take the programs seriously because 'they have brains down there.'"

Mr. Borgia said he drew heavily on WPA guidebooks and John Gunther's best seller, "Inside U. S. A." for his material.

When he had completed his testimony, Sen. Homer Ferguson (R. Mich.) said it was an "absurdity" to expect a man with Mr. Borgia's background to be able to interpret American life. Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R. N. J.) said he was "amazed."

Reds Release Danish Ship Held 13 Days

COPENHAGEN, June 1 (UP)—The Danish fishing boat Luna was back at its home port of Roerne on the island of Bornholm today after 13 days detention by Russian authorities in Rauschen, Germany.

The vessel was halted by a Russian ship on May 13 some 14 miles off Muenster, Poland, then was ordered to Rauschen, where the Russian minister of fisheries questioned the three-man crew about what they thought of Russia, and knew about the United States. The Russians said they sought five more Danish boats and released the Luna without explanation after 13 days under guard.
