For Muscle-Rub

WRITES MR. ROBERT JORDAN, COLON, IND.

Advices every sufferer from Rheumatic-Arthritic-Sciatic-
Neuritic Pains to try Muscle-Rub.

Here's the true story of a man who took treatment, used all kind of remedies for his sciatic, neuritic pains without being helped in the slightest degree. Mr. Robert Jordan of Colon, Mich., suffered agony from pains in his legs—half of leg. The pain at times was so bad that he couldn't sit down. He tried several different treatments, many different medicines, all of which did him no good. He couldn't work. Life was misery for him.

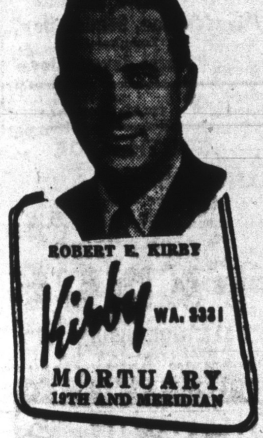

Then one day he saw an advertisement of Muscle-Rub—the doctor's prescription—and in desperation bought a bottle. He used it as directed and in 3 days the pains were relieved and Mr. Jordan was back on the job.

No wonder he advises every rheumatic sufferer to try Muscle-Rub for fast pain relief. Get a bottle today.

Remember, Muscle-Rub is sold on this money back guarantee. If only half a bottle doesn't bring relief your druggist is authorized to return your money.

High Liquor Prices Bared at Trial

Weiss Accusers Tell Of $100,000 Deals

Black market liquor transactions involving prices four times more than OPA ceilings were disclosed in Federal Court here today.

The transactions involving sales of $100,000 or more in profits were described by witnesses at the trial of Jacob Weiss, Indianapolis attorney and former state senator, and his two former partners in the Gary liquor business, all charged with income tax evasion.

Tells of Purchase
Mr. Weiss and his partners, Louis H. Rosenblum of Hammond, and Max Stryk, Gary, were charged with evading payment of more than $400,000 in income taxes during 1943 on alleged profits for that year of $74,000.

A Chicago liquor dealer, Vernon Ruby, said he purchased 114 barrels of whiskey at an invoice ceiling price of $6300 which he said he paid by check to the Gary Wine and Liquor Co. owned by the three defendants.

However, Mr. Ruby said he made "side payments" on that order amounting to $24,000. He said he gave these side payments in cash to a man named Bill Gardner, who was identified earlier as having been in conferences with the defendants.

Paid Out $22,000
Alex Paffy, a Columbus, O., liquor dealer, said he paid $22,000 for 30 barrels of whiskey to Rosenblum who he said turned back about $600 to him as "commissions."

Earlier Myers C. Ackerman, Columbus, O., testified he paid Rosenblum $113,000, mostly in $1000 bills at over-ceiling prices in Chicago in 1943.

Albert Ward, attorney for the defendants, said his evidence will show that the defendants do not owe any income taxes because the profits were offset by legitimate business expense.

INVENTED PNEUMATIC TIRE
A Scotch veterinarian, tired of jolting along country roads in his dog cart, is said to have invented the first pneumatic tire.

Blame High Building Costs On 'Tax Passing' Practice

The new home buyer is being asked to pick up the tax check for everybody who had a hand in building it. Hobart C. Brady, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, told realtors here last night.

From the logger who cuts the tree, right on through to the painter who applies the last brushful of paint, federal taxes are unloaded on the next in line, Mr. Brady said.

The woodsman wants the same take-home pay so he makes his employer pass it along, Mr. Brady said. And when this gets around to the home buyer, it adds about $2000 to the cost of a $6000 house, he explained.

350 at Dinner Meeting
The national president addressed some 250 members of the Indianapolis Real Estate Board, their wives and guests in the Claypool Hotel at a dinner meeting.

Mr. Brady struck out at rent control, saying it favored few families and saddled the rest with an unfair burden.

"I am thinking of the widow who is trying to make a duplex pay her living costs," he said. "She may have a tenant who is earning $500 a month but who is taking advantage of low government controls at her expense."

Mr. Brady said there is no such thing as government housing.

"The government never has and probably never will build houses," he declared. "All government housing is built by private enterprise, but at a cost which is wasteful and well-subsidized."

950,000 This Year
He said private enterprise is doing a good job of meeting the housing shortage. "Last year 950,000 dwelling units were built; this year 950,000 more will be added," he said. "This is the kind of a job private enterprise has been doing."

He pleaded for more research and specialized education for realtors so they can cope with diminishing margins of profit.

He pointed out that occupational lobbies have become as important to the real estate as any other profession. "Few people say to the legislators that this or that is what Indiana or Iowa wants. They say this is what the tool and diemakers, or the school teachers, or the doctors or electricians want."

Others Introduced
Mr. Brady was introduced by Carl Seyter, president of the IREB.

Others at the head table were Paul McCord, of the board of governors of the Urban Land Institute and former director of the national association; Howard Rerick, state president; Fred C. Tucker, national director; Earl Techmeyer, national vice president, and Oren Driscoll, vice president of the Indianapolis board.

Urges Bank Workers To Learn Police Phone
State Police Supt. Robert Rosow has asked Indiana bank workers to memorize the telephone number of the nearest State Police post to avoid unnecessary delay in the pursuit of bank robbers.

The recommendation came after the capture last week in New York of a bank robbery suspect who police say admitted holdups at Silver Lake Apr. 9 and Hebron Apr. 29.

In the Silver Lake robbery there was a 30-minute delay before the State Police were notified, he said.

Doctors Hear Rap At 'Interference'

New AMA Head Cites Opportunity to Serve

CHICAGO, June 23 (UP)—Despite inflation, American physicians are serving their patients with "a minimum increase" in fees, Dr. R. L. Sensesich, new head of the American Medical Association, said today.

Dr. Sensesich, a South Bend doctor, told AMA convention delegates that medicine could make more progress "toward a lasting peace than government has been able to accomplish through years of war."

This could be done, he said in his inaugural address last night, if medicine can "assist the world to a greater measure of health" and give it "a reasonable opportunity for happy living."

'Best in World'
He said that medicine in America, "where already higher levels of health care are available to more people than anywhere else in the world," would improve still more if the government did not "interfere."

In an obvious reference to President Truman's proposed health program, Dr. Sensesich said "these plans are seldom concerned with better or more effective mechanisms to advance the quality of medical care."

He said the AMA had studied government-sponsored health plans in other nations, but found them to be impractical in America.

Warns of Meddling
"Education in health and some improvement of medical facilities will require only local effort with possibly some assistance from national resources," he said.

He warned against "governmental interference, with the inevitable deterioration of the medical service of the whole nation."

If a local area can raise the money to correct inadequate health conditions, "this effort should be encouraged," Dr. Sensesich said.

"If outside aid is necessary," he said, "it may come from federal tax funds derived from general taxes applied to all income groups."
