

MONDAY, JUNE 28, 1948

FASHIONS—

For a Dance Frock—Take Four Scarfs

A Scarf Also Makes Petticoat Ruffles

By LOUISE FLETCHER

NO MATTER how many evening frocks are lined up in a clothes closet, their wearer seldom feels she has enough of that type frock.

This is particularly true of the younger set for whom parties come up with more frequency than for their elders. The gals ALWAYS are needing new dance dresses, according to the doleful claims of the dads who have to fork over for said dancing paraphernalia.

Well, take a look at that dress at the right. There's a dance frock designed to make BOTH daughter and dad happy. It's the kind of bright ballerina she will like . . . and it won't put too much of a crimp in papa's bankroll. Daughter can make it herself. And guess what it's made of—JUST FOUR SCARFS—the kind you can pick up at the nearest accessory counter.

There are three of the new bright and bold Glentex summer plaid scarfs and one long sash scarf. Two of the 36-inch squares make the skirt, seamed at the sides and shirred onto the long sash scarf. Another of the big squares makes the darling halter top.

The little drawings below show how. Tie one corner of the square around your neck (center drawing) and fasten it with a jeweled pin. Tie the adjoining corners, wrapped around the bodice (right drawing), in back.

For that smart straight line bodice effect, gather the top of the halter to one side and anchor it with another jeweled pin. And there you are!

Scarf Trick Restores Slips to Wearability

ANOTHER scarf trick results in flirtatious petticoats for a gal's wardrobe. The trick to this one is that too-short slips are brought back to usefulness by addition of the scarf ruffles. Here's how . . .

Make a peep-show ruffle out of a print scarf. A 36-inch taffeta or silk square may be divided in half and joined together at the sides to make a flounce long enough to attach to and lengthen the most out-moded slip. Before attaching the flounces, turn under the raw edge of your scarf-ruffle and shir.

Ballerina Dress of Scarfs

You can also flounce a too-short slip with an eyelet embroidery ruffle. Lacy ruffling with beading at the top may be obtained.

A too-short slip may be made into a half-slip long enough to qualify as new-looking lingerie. Simply cut off the top of the slip, which you want to lower.

Couple Takes Wedding Trip To New York

Mr. and Mrs. James J. O'Brien Jr. will be at home at 1142 N. Pennsylvania St., Apt. 210, when they return from a wedding trip to New York. They were married at 10 o'clock Saturday morning in St. Catherine of Siena Catholic Church.

The bride, who was Miss Patricia Anne Duffey, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duffey, 1546 E. Tabor St. Mr. O'Brien's parents are of 1115 N. Wallace Ave.

The couple exchanged vows in a single-ring service before the Rev. Fr. Joseph McCrisken.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Maurice Welsh, Terre Haute, matron of honor; Miss Patricia O'Brien, the bridegroom's sister, maid of honor, and Miss Mary O'Brien, another sister; Miss Jean Marie Harrison, cousin of the bride, and Miss Elizabeth Price, bridesmaid. Pastel marquiset frocks were worn by the five.

Marilyn Sue Sullivan, flower girl, wore petal pink net.

White lace formed the bridal gown which was made with hooped skirt and a cathedral train. A two-tiered fingertip illusion veil was attached to a poke bonnet of shirred illusion and lace. The bride carried a cascade of roses and stephanotis surrounding an orchid.

Attending the bridegroom were his brother, John, as best man, and as ushers, his brothers Robert and Thomas, and Robert Corrigan and Robert McCurdy.

The bridegroom is attending Butler University.

Eugene Page Takes Bride

Dr. John B. Ferguson officiated Saturday night at the marriage of Miss Carolyn Campbell to Eugene Page. The double-ring ceremony, at 7:30 o'clock, was in the Irving Presbyterian Church of which Dr. Ferguson is pastor.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Leona Campbell, 309 S. Arlington Ave., wore a white satin gown trimmed with seed pearls, and a two-tiered fingertip veil held in place by a crown of orange blossoms. She carried an orchid-centered bouquet of white roses.

Her grandfather, C. M. Grady, gave her in marriage.

Miss Phyllis Campbell, Mrs. Pierre Crease and Miss Delores Altom, her attendants, wore pastel frocks and carried fans of roses and larkspur.

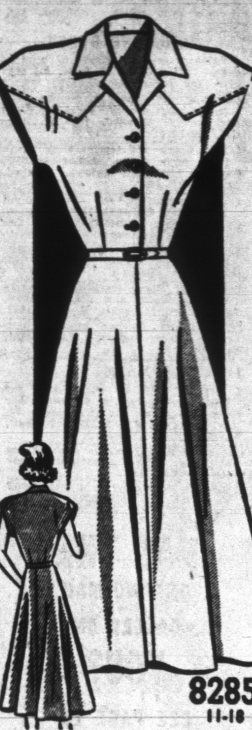

The bridegroom's attendants were Dewey Page, Ralph Hostetter and Valls Dean Bingham of Bloomfield.

The couple left for a trip to the Smoky Mountains after a reception in the church parlor. They will be at home next Sunday at 5708 University Ave.

First Voters

QUITO, Ecuador—Women in Ecuador voted recently in a national election for the first time.

Shirtwaist

8285 11-16

By SUE BURNETT

A neatly tailored shirtwaist dress for the junior miss is wearable day in and day out. Wide extended shoulders are cool—try a crisp white or bold striped fabric.

Pattern 8285 comes in sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 16 and 18. Size 12, 4 yards of 35-inch.

Send today for your copy of the spring and summer Fashion; 52 pages brimful of sewing information; free gift pattern printed in book.

To order pattern or our Fashion Book, use the coupon below.

SUE BURNETT

The Indianapolis Times

214 W. Maryland St.

Indianapolis 9.

Size..... Price 25c

Fashion Book, Price 25c.

Name

Street

City..... State.....

Britain Renames Women's Forces

LONDON—In recognition of women's forces as an integral part of the services of Great Britain, instead of auxiliaries as hitherto, the women's branches of the army and navy will be renamed.

Hereafter the Auxiliary Territorial Services will be known as the Women's Royal Army Corps, and the Women's Auxiliary Air Force as the Women's Royal Air Force.

Emil A. Batic Motor West After Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Emil A. Batic are on a motor trip West following their marriage Saturday in Our Lady of Lourdes Catholic Church. The bride was Miss Ruth Alberta Krug before her marriage.

The Rev. Fr. Francis E. Reives read the double-ring ceremony at 10 a. m. For her wedding, the bride chose a Victorian candlelight satin with a Belgium lace insert in the bodice. The full skirt formed a chapel train.

A tiara of orange blossoms held her fingertip illusion veil in place and she carried a calla lily on a prayerbook.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Russell Bertram, wore aqua tissue taffeta. Miss Rosemary Carr, maid of honor, was in maize tissue taffeta, while pink tissue taffeta was worn by the bridesmaids, Mrs. Harold J. McManus and Miss Betty J. Mercer.

The bridegroom's attendants were Raymond Basso, best man; and Mr. Bertram, Mr. McManus and Earl V. Busch, ushers. The wedding breakfast was held at Whispering Winds and a reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Shaffer, 351 N. Ritter Ave.

The couple will be at home in Indianapolis after their trip. Mrs. Batic is the daughter of Mrs. Edmund F. Waterman, 5701 Julian Ave., and Mr. Batic is the son of Mrs. Anna Batic, 1017 N. Warner Ave.

Beauty—Barefoot Walk Benefits Feet

By ALICIA HART

TAKE ADVANTAGE of the "barefoot season" to give the muscles of your feet a fling at freedom.

While lolling on the beach, kick off your shoes, and get in as much barefooted walking as you can. Even if shoes are nothing more than leather soles with ribbon lacing, remove these encumbrances as often as possible.

Spread your toes when you walk. When you sit, try spreading toes as you spread the panels of a folding fan.

IT TAKES practice and patience to learn to flare your toes, but the reward for your effort will be a stronger metatarsal arch.

Exercise the long arch of feet, the so-called "suspension bridge" of your body. A good exercise for strengthening this bridge is taken sitting erectly with your back braced against a rock, stone wall or tree trunk.

In that position, stretch legs out in front of you and dig heels deep into sand or grass. Now, force your toes to move first forward and then away from your ankles.

Animal Fair

5802

By MRS. ANNE CABOT

Twelve adorable animals ranging from 2 to 6 inches, for you to embroider on youngsters' playsuits, baby crib covers, sleeping suits and wherever your fancy strikes.

Such pleasant work for summer days and the figures are so appealing and lovable you'll enjoy the simple stitchery just as much as the children will the finished articles.

To order hot-iron transfers, stitch illustrations and color suggestions for Pattern 5802, use the coupon below.

ANNE CABOT

The Indianapolis Times

530 S. Wells St.

Chicago 7, Ill.

No. 5802 Price 16c

Name

Street

City..... State.....

Citizenship Retained Despite Absence

CHICAGO—A federal judge, ruling "self-preservation is nature's first law," decided here recently a woman did not lose her United States citizenship during the war in protecting the lives of herself and her children.

The woman is Mrs. Marie Scholer, 58, who in 1931 went to Denmark where her husband, Paul, found work as an engineer. The family remained there during the war.

Nuptials Read On Parents' Anniversary

The date of her parents' wedding anniversary was chosen Saturday by Miss Carolyn Faye Wilson for her own marriage to Harold L. Gracy Jr. The ceremony was read at 3:30 p. m. in the Grace Methodist Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wilson, 6270 N. Chester St. The bridegroom's parents are of Decatur, Ill.

The Rev. E. Arnold Clegg, pastor of the church, read the double-ring service for the couple.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore candlelight satin, its hooped skirt falling into a cathedral train, and an illusion fingertip-length veil which was attached to a tiara entwined with pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses.

Her attendants wore aqua taffeta. They were Mrs. W. A. Holloway, matron of honor; Miss Barbara Carroll, Hammond, maid of honor; and Miss Nancy Seism, Evansville; Miss Claire Neff, Chicago, and Miss Janet Wilson, bridesmaids.

Mr. Holloway was the best man and ushers were William Marble, Jeffersonville; Richard Foote, Lorain, O.; John Hull, Washington, and Robert Newland, Bedford.

After a garden reception at the Wilson home, the couple left for a wedding trip. They will be at home later at 1814 N. Illinois St.

Both the bride and bridegroom were graduated from DePauw University. She is an Alpha Chi Omega Sorority member while he is a member of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Rev. Connor Officiates

A candlelight ceremony at 8:30 p. m. Saturday united Miss Joan Guthrie and John William Hoas.

The Rev. Roy B. Connor Jr., pastor of the Meridian Heights Presbyterian Church, read the vows in the Second Moravian Episcopal Church.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Guthrie, 3164 N. Tacoma Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Hoas, 4501 Park Ave., are the bridegroom's parents.

A white crepe gown trimmed in gold was worn by Miss Maryellen Evans, maid of honor. The bride's gown was of white broadcloth satin fashioned with a chapel train, and her fingertip illusion veil cascaded from a braided coronet trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, baby's breath and ivy.

The best man was Robert W. Guthrie, the bride's brother, Oscar James Pool and Jack Cook were ushers.

Following a reception in the home of the bride's parents, the couple left on a motor trip through southern Indiana. They will be at home next Monday at 3422 Winthrop Ave.

Miss Guthrie attended Butler University.

Even the Sun Envy You—In Your Beguilingly Cool Annettas!

SUN-BACK COTTONS

So charming, crisp and cool!

So wonderful for traveling!

So washably-wise!

8.95

Left . . . Clannish plaid. Ric-rac trimmed collar and pockets.

Center . . . Vivid printed pique.

Right . . . Printed pique. Sun-white pique collar.

In sizes 12 to 20

Wasson's Misses' Shop, Second Floor

Money Away!
FATS Needed!

Used fats are the
you can turn into any spare bit on and s.
our se still

