OFFICER KILLED—Services will be held tomorrow for Patrolman Robert J. Baker, who was knocked from his motorcycle and killed Saturday night by a hit-and-run car.

CONFESED HIT AND RUN—Herbert Bobb, 19, admitted to police he drove the car which struck an Indianapolis Police Department motorcycle and killed Officer Robert Baker, 30, the rider.

$10,000 Bond Set In Officer's Death

Hearing for Driver Scheduled Oct. 28

was coming from the opposite direction. Bobb did not stop. But an investigating officer, Patrolman Harold Barnes, remembered that he had arrested a man on an earlier occasion who was driving a car similar to the one described over the police radio network.

Find Death Car

Capt. Audry Jacobs, head of the Traffic Department, and a squad of police went to the Cottage Grove address given by Patrolman Barnes and found Bobb's car parked in front. It was the home of Bobb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bobb.

Bobb was not at home. Police said his parents told them he had parked his car in front of the house then had run through the yard and disappeared in the alley. Two hours later he was arrested as he stood in a filling station at Morris and Shelby Sts. Taken immediately to the police station, he was held without bond, pending the outcome of today's court hearing.

Has Police Record

Police indicated they would press manslaughter charges against Bobb, who has a previous police record of three arrests here and one in Beck Grove on traffic violations.

Commenting on the death of Officer Baker, Chief of Police Edward D. Rouis said: "The young officer was regarded highly by all of us in the department. He always obeyed orders and was very efficient. The force is deeply grieved by his death."

A World War II veteran, Patrolman Baker had been with the force since 1947. He was a member of St. Catherine's Church, the Police American Legion Post and the Fraternal Order of Police.

French Reported Favoring U. S. General for New Union

Want Him to Supplant Montgomery as Chief; Wish Headquarters Moved to Paris

PARIS, Oct. 4 (UP)—The French government is pressing Britain to agree to the appointment of an American general as supreme commander of the Western European Union in place of Field Marshal Lord Montgomery. It was reported today.

Press dispatches named no particular American general as being preferred, but they were reported to be urging that the Western union permanent military headquarters be established in Paris rather than in London.

Official French sources refused to confirm the reports. However, government officials did not deny them. Gen. Charles De Gaulle, leader of the Rally of the French people, last week made the same objection.

The French were reported to be arguing that an American would be more likely to view the defense from a continental rather than a British Isles viewpoint.

Miners Striking

Many government members believed appointment of an American would interest the U. S. directly in the whole question of Western union defense and make the U. S. more favorable to France's urgent requests for equipment.

Meanwhile, the shaky coalition government of Premier Henri Queuille was threatened today by a strike of about 350,000 Communist-led miners in Northern France.

No violence was reported as the strike took 100 per cent effect, but the government alerted mobile guards, and equipped garrison troops with full battle kit. The mines affected are government-owned. They provide the bulk of French coal supplies.

Great Britain

COMMUNIST agitators tried to break up the opening of a recruiting drive in the old city of London today.

They were arrested after they clambered onto the rally platform and waved a banner inscribed "no war for Yankee dollars."

Defense Minister A. V. Alexander was on the platform in front of Mansion House when the trouble started. Scuffling developed as police took the shouting demonstrators away. Their banner was torn to shreds. Police hauled away several young men and women.

Germany

A BERLINER told this story today to illustrate how easy Germans had become now that they are caught in the middle of the struggle between Russia and the Western Powers.

A man went to police to report loss of his parrot. "Does the parrot talk?" he was asked.

"He does," the owner said. "But any political opinions he expresses are entirely his own."

Soviet Union

THE Journal of the Moscow patriarchate today published resolutions of the Russian Orthodox Church denouncing the Vatican, rejecting a proposed union with the Anglican Church and appealing to all Christians of the world to work for peace.

The resolutions, adopted at the July jubilee session, said in part: "In lieu of the voice of peace and Christian love from the Vatican, fortress of Catholicism, and from America, nest of Protestantism, we hear the blessing of a new war and hymns of praise to the atomic bomb and other inventions designed to destroy human life."

Yugoslavia

THE Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba today brought Generalissimo Josef Stalin's name into the Yugoslav-Russian dispute for the first time and said bluntly that "right is not on his side."

But in the same breath it said: "We declare without hesitation that Stalin is nowhere so loved as in Yugoslavia."

Trans-Jordan

KING ABDULLAH of Trans-Jordan called today on the new Arab government of Palestine to "dissolve itself" because it did not have the people's support.

Philippines

RELIABLE Chinese sources said today that Philippine constabulary troops have started a roundup of 50 Chinese Communists in Manila, with at least 18 arrested in the first series of raids yesterday. Five of those arrested have been turned over to the immigration office for deportation proceedings, these sources said.

Jan Savitt Dies Of Hemorrhage

Band Leader Stricken On Sacramento Trip

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 4 (UP)—Orchestra leader Jan Savitt, 35, died in a hospital here today of a hemorrhage.

He suffered a stroke while en route to Sacramento Saturday from Los Angeles.

A member of the band told attending physicians that he and Mr. Savitt had traveled here from Los Angeles in a station wagon to fill a Saturday night dance engagement.

Mr. Savitt appeared to be asleep for most of the trip and his illness wasn't discovered until an attempt was made to arouse him.

Press Fights to Lift Lid on Public Records

Officials of the Hoosier State Press Association today drafted plans to seek repeal of a state law permitting the state board of health to rule on the disclosure of birth and death records.

Officials of the HSPA said they also intended to work for repeal of a law prohibiting inspection of public welfare records of transactions and expenditures.

The association went on record as opposing an opinion by Cleop Foust, state attorney general, upholding the constitutionality of the law allowing the health board to control use of birth and death records. Association officials said they would seek a substitute measure making vital statistics a matter of public record.
