

TUESDAY, OCT. 5, 1948

THE INDIANAPOLIS TIMES

PAGE 7

GOP Rallies Behind 80th Congress

Vandenberg Calls Record The Very Best

Truman Expected To Pour It On Again

By United Press

Republican congressional leaders rallied today to the defense of the 80th Congress which President Truman has scornfully denounced as a stooge of big business.

In the first of a series of nation-wide radio talks sponsored by the Republican National Committee, Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg asserted that on the strength of its foreign policy record the GOP Congress was "not the second worst in history... but the best."

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, House Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts also will reply to the President's criticism of Congress in radio talks during the next two weeks.

Mr. Truman has singled out Mr. Taft, Mr. Halleck and Mr. Martin for attack and probably will "pour it on" again during his four-day swing through Republican strongholds of the Northeast. He sets out tomorrow to campaign in Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and upstate New York.

Meanwhile, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was to get a first-hand report on the Berlin crisis from his foreign policy adviser, John Foster Dulles.

A U.S. delegate to the United Nations meeting in Paris, Mr. Dulles made a special trip home to confer with the GOP presidential candidate in Albany, N. Y.

Mr. Dewey's next major political speech is scheduled at Pittsburgh on Monday.

Progressives—Henry A. Wallace—said the New Deal farm program which he helped fashion is being "crippled and wrecked" by Republicans and Democrats.

Progressive Party candidate outlined his own program for the farmers at Fresno, Cal. It included extension of co-operative and co-operative marketing, social security coverage for farm workers, and extension of support prices to specialty crops.

Barkley—President Truman's running mate, Sen. Alben W. Barkley urged Iowans to remember "the poverty and despair of 1932." The Democratic Party, he said, "halted that decline" and brought about a rise in national farm income from $5 billion in 1932 to $30 billion today.

Warren—GOP Vice Presidential Candidate Earl Warren told a Pittsburgh audience that increased production is the only cure for inflation. The high cost of living can be reduced, he said, only when "management, workers, farmers, and government as well, start pulling together."

Rails, Two Unions Reach Wage Pact

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (UPI)—The nation's railroads and two unions representing 175,000 operating employees agreed today on a 10-cent hourly wage increase, the second time in history that a railroad agreement has been reached on a national scale without government intervention.

The railroads and the Order of Railway Conductors and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen agreed on the compromise wage boost late yesterday.

The unions originally demanded a 25 per cent pay raise. Negotiations between the railroads and the unions began Sept. 14. The agreement goes into effect Oct. 15.

Last year the same two unions reached an agreement by direct negotiations with the railroads. That contract granted a 15-cent hourly raise which became the pattern for the industry.

Yesterday's agreement was the first break in the third-round wage negotiations between the railroads and 21 unions representing 1.4 million rail workers.

U. S. Statement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (UPI)—Government expenses and receipts for the current fiscal year through Oct. 1 compared with a year ago.

This Year Last Year
Expenses $8,000,013,389 $8,668,090,149
Revenues 9,013,389 9,668,090,149
Surplus 928,377,682 173,598,608
Public Debt 252,417,144,442 258,413,037,526
Gold Reserve 23,082,180,427 21,805,088,748

INDIANAPOLIS CLEARING HOUSE
Clearings $8,549,000
Debits $4,062,000

Can Your Insurance Rate be LOWERED...?

CO-INSURANCE—on eligible properties—usually lowers rates.

Where adequate insurance to value is carried, the savings opportunity of CO-INSURANCE shouldn't be overlooked.

Consult this Agency for detailed information.

... It pays to call the MUTUAL AGENT

GRAIN DEALERS
MUTUAL AGENCY, INC.
1740 North Meridian St.
WAbash 2456

Nylons Need Washing on Campaign Trip. So Mrs. Dewey Pitches in and Does Them

If Governor Gets Up at 3:30 a. m., His Wife Is Right at His Side

By CHARLES T. LUCEY, Scripps-Howard Staff Writer
ALBANY, Oct. 5—A few nights ago when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's presidential campaign train rolled into St. Louis several thousand persons gathered quickly in the huge train sheds to see him.

No appearance had been planned there but when the Republican candidate saw the throng he decided it would be ungracious not to make an acknowledgement.

Yet to move into a crushing, milling throng can be dangerous for a public figure, and this was unexpected there could be little protection.

To Mrs. Dewey the Governor suggested that perhaps she should remain on the train.

"No," she said, "if you go—I'll go."

That's the way it is with Frances Dewey and Tom Dewey. Everywhere she is by his side, an attractive, charming woman of 44 whose intelligence has enabled her to shoulder a good share of her husband's burden and whose personality has won friends to the cause.

Frances Dewey is no mere decorative appendage to stand on a train's rear platform, receive bouquets and gifts and smile sweetly at the camera click.

Day is a Busy One

Her day on the campaign train is a busy one—the day of a devoted and proud wife who loves and admires her husband and is there to help him. She doesn't, she is not ostentatious, she always wants the show to be completely Tom Dewey's.

If Mr. Dewey is up until 3:30 a. m. working on the next day's speeches, his wife is up also.

Sometimes she may sit in on a speech conference and the Governor's advisers pay tribute to her judgment and intuition. Through

Mrs. Dewey gets a heavy mail. Much of it, her aids say, has pleaded for constructive campaign for her husband, minus name-calling, and it's said this has helped shape the sort of appeal Mr. Dewey is making.

In three months she may be America's first lady—but she won't talk of it now. When that day comes she'll meet it as she always has—as Tom Dewey's full gets Heavy Mail.

Often in cities she directs that extra flowers be given to hospital children's wards. Not costly corsage pleased her more than a simple bunch of wild asters given her by a man who picked them himself and pushed up to the train platform at a stop in Wyoming. Once orchids came in such profusion that no woman on the train was without one.

Mr. Haymaker, state chairman of the Democratic Party said the President "will speak at Rockwood, Greenfield, Crawfordsville and possibly Veedersburg on Oct. 12. He will hit Hammond, North Tipton, Noblesville and finally Indianapolis Oct. 15.

His third swing, to cover northern Indiana, is tentatively set for Oct. 26.

Meanwhile, GOP headquarters still lacked a firm commitment from national headquarters on a Dewey appearance. Last burst of national ticket Republicanatory scheduled for the state is a four-town stop by Earl Warren vice presidential nominee, tomorrow.

Mr. Warren will open his state series with a 20 minute platform talk at Richmond at 8:40 a. m. tomorrow; at 11:30 a. m. he'll speak for half an hour at Ft. Wayne, at 12:30 p. m. for 20 minutes at Warsaw, and at 2 p. m. for half an hour at Gary.

Mr. Warren will open his state series with a 20 minute platform talk at Richmond at 8:40 a. m. tomorrow; at 11:30 a. m. he'll speak for half an hour at Ft. Wayne, at 12:30 p. m. for 20 minutes at Warsaw, and at 2 p. m. for half an hour at Gary.

Mr. Schriener, in his own term as Governor "was not able to enrich his cronies because the Republican majority in the Legislature reformed the law."

Candidates to Speak

Other campaign activities here this week will include major speech by George L. Denny, GOP candidate for Congress, before the Republican Wagoners League tomorrow night at the League's headquarters, 418 Ober Building.

Other candidates to speak at this meeting will be Sheriff Al Mogenheimer, candidate for re-election; Dale Brown, State Motor License Bureau director and William Yager, 11th district GOP labor division chairman.

The Wagoners League adopted a resolution endorsing the Republican candidates as the "most fit and favorable ticket for the American laboring men and women."

Mrs. Joseph W. Barr, wife of executive officer of the Naval Armory, was appointed 11th district GOP vice chairwoman for veterans affairs in the campaign.

Hobart, Two Unions Reach Wage Pact Since May 4

Hog prices continued their tumble in the Indianapolis Stockyards today, falling off as much as $1.50 per hundredweight after yesterday's drop of from $1 to $2.50 a hundred pounds.

Todays low of $23.50 per hundredweight was the lowest drop since prices fell to $20.75 May 4.

On Aug. 2, only two months ago, a record price of $31.25 was paid for choice hogs.

The top price paid today was $24 per hundredweight.

Steer and heifer sales were slow, but about the same as yesterday's prices.

Vealers sold 50 cents per hundred pounds lower than yesterday, while slaughter lambs sold at prices steady or weak.

Local Issues

Local Produce

Community Planning Conference Is Called

The third annual Northeastern Conference on Community Planning will be held 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Thursday, Oct. 28, in Columbus City.

The conference is designed to effect an exchange of information and experience gained by the various communities in the course of doing their respective jobs.

It is also designed to make available the knowledge and experience of a number of experts in various fields of planning or related activities, who will undertake to answer technical questions and to comment on local problems brought to their attention.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Addie B. Haulk; three sons, William Russell and Ernest L. Haulk, both of here, and Ray A. Haulk, Clermont; a brother, Alfred W. Haulk, of here, two half sisters, three half brothers, 17 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Emma Smock

Services for Mrs. Emma Smock, former resident of Indianapolis, who died yesterday in her home in San Diego, Calif., after several months illness, will be held in San Diego. She will be buried there.

Born in Indianapolis, Mrs. Smock, who was 44, lived here 19 years. For 12 years she was employed by G. & J. Rubbel Co.

She is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs. Edward Muffler, Cincinnati, and two brothers, George Bohemian and John Loebline, of Indianapolis.

It is survived by two sons, Roland M. and John Smock and John Smock, a daughter, Miss Jean Smock, San Diego; four sisters, Mrs. Louise Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Schuler, all of Indianapolis, and Mrs.