

Churches vs. Model Town vs. U. S. Red Tape

GREENSBORO, N.C.—Is a "model" town really a model when it doesn't have churches? The answer is "no" according to religious leaders in the "model" community which the federal government built here in the depression years. So they have formed a joint inter-faith committee to press their efforts to buy town land for church sites. Their latest attempt was said, because the agency proposes housing Administration. PHA didn't dispute the desirability of having churches in this town of 8000. But it said its hands were tied by a Supreme Court ruling which decrees the government cannot donate or set aside land for churches. "Passive Coolness" And selling the religious groups church buildings in this "ideally planned community" Since the town was completed, Catholics have been holding serv-

Thief Stops to Raid Victim's Icebox

He not only raided the icebox but also ransacked the rest of the house and escaped with $40 worth of jewelry.

Fasting 'Nuisance' to Rescue World

CHICAGO, Oct. 7 (UP)—John sympathy from Mrs. Le May. She why Mr. Bender would take dig- A. Bender, 57, "green" body, could starve himself to death. "If he wants to starve himself to death that's his business," she said. "We'll bury him in the family plot up here." Mr. Bender, tall and gaunt, has not eaten since Sunday, except to moisten his lips with water. Mr. Johnson said Mr. Bender also has continued to take digitalis to alleviate a heart condition he has suffered for 10 years. Mr. Johnson couldn't explain out from under him.
