Ask Mrs. Manners— Husband's My Trouble —Though He's Good

MY TROUBLE IS MY HUSBAND, though he's really a good man. He works every day and gives me all the money except his lunch money and what he keeps to take us out on Saturday night. But when he gets off work he stops downstairs at the tavern and sits with a girl. She tells my in-laws she's crazy about him. He comes home and eats and sleeps and then goes back to the tavern.

This girl lives right next to us. She wraps her feet around his under our table, and she waits for him to come out in the hall. I have never nagged him before, but I've had enough. I don't act jealous in front of her, but I'm afraid she is going to cause us trouble.

My husband, two children and I live in a small apartment. I am ready for another child in a few months.

MRS. J. P. H., CITY.

It's awfully tempting to stomp on those locked feet beneath your table, but I wouldn't. You aren't sunk as long as your husband takes you out, but be sure he enjoys himself. Live up your looks and your life, even if you have to do some fancy budgeting. Knock yourself out finding couples he enjoys. He won't sleep with people around. You'd better have too many people than brassy girls.

He knows by now that you're good and angry and he probably doesn't blame you, but don't try to push him around, though he deserves it. He's seeking companionship and you'd better give it to him.

Look for a house when you feel like brooding.

Seeks Address of Friend in Army

WHERE COULD I find the address of a friend who is in the Army?

How long does it take a letter to reach Tokyo?

X. Y. Z., South Side.

Write to old addresses of your friend and ask aid of the American Legion before bothering the Adjutant-General, Washington 25, D. C.

An air mail letter should reach Tokyo in a week and a general-delivery letter in one month.

'Should I Try to Forget Boy Friend?'

I FEEL FUNNY being the only one unescorted in our gang. My boy friend seldom wants to do what the gang does—he's either sleepy or busy. We stepped out on each other twice, but we've gone steady for months. He says he loves me though he tried to get me to date one of my old boy friends. He says I love the old boy friend but I don't—I love him.

He sleeps on our dates and I baby him, but it does no good. I've tried going out with other boys but that doesn't work. He is 20 and I am 17. Should I try to forget him?

BOOTS, City.

You wouldn't feel mellow after rousing an unshaven, sleeping husband from the davenport night after night like you feel now, cuddling this tousled, youthful head on your shoulder. He's being very selfish and marrying you wouldn't improve him. You'd be that woman always going places alone or staying home, embarrassed. You'd be pitied, but that wouldn't help, and there would be those couples remembering you putting up with his selfishness.

I'll bet you're a cute girl and could find a boy who pleases you. That would be easier than trying to change a boy you wish would please you.

Wants to Know Age of Oil Lamp

I HAVE AN unusual coal oil lamp that was used in a dentist's office on Ohio street before the post office was built. How old would the lamp be and where could it be exhibited?

CITY READER.

The main post office building was completed in September, 1905, but that doesn't tell us how old the lamp is. Ask about exhibiting it by calling the Central Library exhibit committee, LL-4551; the John Herron Museum, TA-8313; antique dealers, and the Children's Museum, HI-2481.

Inquires About Marriage Laws

COULD YOU tell me the marriage laws in Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, Tennessee and Alabama?

KIT, CITY.

The laws in those states follow: Alabama, boy and girl must be 17 and 14 with parents' consent and 21 and 18 without; Illinois, 18 and 16 with consent and 21 and 18 without; Kentucky, 16 and 14 with consent and 21 and 21 without; Tennessee, 16 and 16 with consent and 21 and 21 without; Ohio, 18 and 16 with consent and 21 and 21 without. Blood tests are required in all those states. A three-day wait before the license is required in Tennessee and five days are required in Ohio.

To S. M. M., City, with the dog trouble: Will you send me your name and address?

MRS. MANNERS.

Wrong With Goodnight Kiss?

I SEE NO harm in kissing goodnight, but I don't approve of spending the entire evening at it. Am I wrong in thinking nice girls don't let boys get familiar with them? When we girls meet the fellows we want to spend the rest of our lives with I know we'll see things differently.

In the meantime, boys, give us a chance—a lot of laughs, good times and clean fun.

CITY READER.

It's hard to show in a goodnight kiss that you want good fun, and mean it, and yet indicate you'd be interesting for extensive kissing in its proper place, isn't it? You have to express your entire philosophy without words, writing or sign language in a few seconds.

One thing nice about edging away from etchings is that you usually have another chance—an eternal chance at seeing the etchings or a chance to lose them in the attic by marrying their owner.

Let Mrs. Manners and readers of the column share your problems and answer your questions. Write in care of The Times, 214 W. Maryland St.
