

Pedestrian, 60, Struck By 2 Autos

Local Man Run Down on Sixteenth St.

Victim Reported In Critical Condition

A 60-year-old pedestrian was critically injured when he was struck by two automobiles at W. 16th and Montcalm Sts. early today.

The pedestrian, Clint Thompson, 1116 W. 17th St., was crossing north to south across 16th St.

Police said an eastbound car, driven by Raymond McCord, 31, of 713 N. Delaware St., struck the pedestrian, then swerved and crashed into a parked car. A second car, driven by Charles K. Wheeler, 21, of 1940 Broadway, which was eastbound immediately behind the McCord car, struck the pedestrian the second time.

Mr. Thompson is in critical condition in General Hospital.

In the state one man was killed in a traffic accident and one pedestrian died as the result of injuries received Monday.

The dead man is Robert Burns, 28, Flora. He was fatally injured last night when the car in which he was riding struck the rear of a truck on State Road 29, near Logansport. Mr. Burns died in Logansport Hospital.

Driver of the car, Richard Lee Ayres, 23, Flora, was not seriously injured.

Injuries received Monday were:

ker, 37, Pittsburgh, Pa. He was struck by a truck driven by Arthur Dodane, Ft. Wayne, on U. S. 30, near Ft. Wayne, Monday.

Two other pedestrians were injured in accidents here last night. Seven-year-old Geraldine L. Bellows, 2225 Golfview Dr., was struck by a car driven by Elbert Bradshaw, 21, of 1624 Park Ave., as she crossed the street near her home. She is in fair condition in St. Francis Hospital.

Edward Joseph Harris, 66, of 233 Hiawatha St., was struck by a westbound streetcar in the 700 block W. Washington St. at 6 p. m. Police said the operator of the streetcar, Melvin Rainey, 51, of 102 N. Elder St., was traveling on the go sign when Mr. Harris walked from a safety zone into the path of the vehicle.

Mr. Harris is in serious condition in General Hospital.

Union to Operate Bankrupt Laundry

The Paul H. Krauss Laundry, 49 N. East St., which went into voluntary receivership two weeks ago, will be operated by the Laundry Workers International Union (AFL).

Taking the unusual role of management, the union with headquarters in Indianapolis, is in the process of purchasing the city's oldest laundry for $20,000. Judge Walter Pritchard authorized the firm's receiver, Clarence T. Drayer, to negotiate the sale with Union President Samuel J. Byers in an order signed yesterday in Superior Court 4.

Union officials said they plan to use the latest techniques in operating the laundry. They added that employees, all of whom will be union members, are to get better than average wages.

ABC Asks Ruling On Tavern Law

The Indiana Alcoholic Beverage Commission, threatened with a legal battle by North Riders objecting to the location of a tavern in their area, called upon the attorney general for help today.

Controversy arose after the ABC allowed transfer of the M. & I. Buffet, Inc., tavern from a downtown location to 5390 College Ave.

Residents objected on the grounds that transfer of the tavern violated the residential section of the liquor law. This section mandates the ABC to deny permits in areas which are 75 per cent residential and in which 51 per cent of the registered voters object.

The commission has asked Attorney General Cleon H. Foust for an official opinion on the much disputed section dealing with residential area permits. The attorney general said it would require a month to prepare the opinion.

Indiana to Bid For Share of Gas

Indiana will make its bid for an equitable share of the distribution of natural gas through the Panhandle Eastern pipelines at a hearing before the Federal Power Commission in Washington, D. C., next Thursday.

Lawrence Cannon, member of the State Public Service Commission, will go to Washington Sunday for the hearing at which the states involved, the utilities and the FPC will attempt to work out an agreement for the distribution of gas this winter.

Mr. Cannon said the hearing will not produce additional gas for Indiana users but will set up rules and regulations to go into effect when cold weather sets in. The 50 per cent cut in interruptible service will remain in effect, Mr. Cannon said. It is hoped Indiana will receive a little more fuel when the Michigan quota drops from 100 million feet a day to 30 million feet a day on Oct. 1.

Dewey to Reply On Foreign Policy

Denies Truman's 'Lack Of Foresight' Charge

By JOSEPH NOLAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
Gov. Thomas E. Dewey scheduled a major foreign policy speech tonight in the wake of President Truman's charge that he lacks the foresight to guide the nation through the present world crisis.

Mr. Dewey's secretary, Paul E. Lockwood, said the Republican presidential nominee will devote his address in St. Paul, Minn., tonight to foreign affairs and farm policy.

Mr. Truman, in his own speech in St. Paul on Wednesday, said it would be dangerous to turn the country over to a man with "so little foresight" in world affairs as Mr. Dewey has shown.

Like the President, Mr. Dewey planned to devote a large part of his Minnesota campaign to endorsing his party's candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Charges Dewey Blunder

Speaking in Milwaukee, Wis., last night, the President charged that his GOP rival had "blundered" by introducing the atomic energy program into the political campaign.

And he said Mr. Dewey showed "a dangerous lack of understanding" of the subject in his speech last month in Phoenix, Ariz.

In that speech, the President said Mr. Dewey implied that he favors "private exploitation" of atomic energy.

Progressive Party candidate

Milwaukee at the same time as the "President," characterized his Democratic rival as a "timid and incapable" man who is a prisoner of "big money and big brass."

The Socialist candidate for president, Norman Thomas, who was also campaigning in Wisconsin, heard the chief executive's speech and predicted afterward: "Mr. Truman won't win."

Sees Wallace Defeat

Other political predictions and suggestions came from Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall and former Interior Secretary Harold L. Ickes.

Mr. Royall told a gathering at Williamston, N. C., that Mr. Wallace won't get enough votes on election day "to wad a 16-gauge shotgun."

Elsewhere in politics:

Disstaff

The prospects of getting more women into Congress in the November election are not too bright, according to a survey of congressional candidates.

Of the seven women now in the House, only Sen.-Elect Margaret Chase Smith (R. Me.) and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R. Mass.) are certain of returning to Capitol Hill. Three others—Reps. Frances P. Bolton (R. O.), Katherine St. George (R. N. Y.) and Mary T. Norton (D. N. J.)—are given a better-than-even chance of reelection.

Running Mates

Democratic vice presidential nominees Albert A. Kuylenstierna and Oklahomaans that the Democratic party gave farmers' their "brightest and most prosperous" period in history. In Tacoma, Wash., GOP candidate Gov. Earl Warren called for large-scale development of the Northwest's power resources.

States' Rights

Gov. J. Strom Thurmond wound up his Kentucky campaign with an attack on all three of his opponents for the Presidency. The State's Rights candidate said Mr. Truman, Gov. Dewey and Mr. Wallace are guilty "either of ignorance or malicious intent" in plugging for a civil rights program.

Court Page Boys Lose Fight to Shed Knee-Pants

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (UP)—The Supreme Court's four page boys are still in knee-pants. And they don't like it.

The lads are proud of their job of running errands for the tribunal's nine justices. But they're ready to trade tradition for some long pants.

A few years back, the pages in the House of Representatives swapped their knickerbockers for long trousers. Last spring, the more sedate Senate okayed the change-over for its pages. The court boys thought it was time to get rid of their sissy-pants, too.

THEY SENT their plea to Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson. Maybe it wasn't in the right legal language or wasn't docketed formally in the clerk's office. At any rate, there was no answer.

The court opened its new term last week with the traditional "Oyez... oyez... oyez"—and the pages in the same old pants.

10 Nazis Hanged For War Crimes

Seven Executed for Slaying Yank Fliers

LANDSBERG, Germany, Oct. 15 (UP)—Ten German war criminals were hanged here today, seven for the murder of American over Germany during the war and three for atrocities at the Flossenburg concentration camp. The executions were carried out in the Landsberg prison courtyard where Adolf Hitler wrote "Mein Kampf" after the Munich putsch.

All were convicted in United States Army trials at Dachau. Their appeals for clemency were denied.

The executions took an hour and 40 minutes, with all the Nazis protesting their innocence. They brought to 52 the number of lesser Nazis executed here.

The prisoners were led to two gallows, where U. S. Army personnel carried out the executions. One Nazi, a former Gestapo chief, screamed "You murderers" to the Americans.

An ironic note was added when American jet propelled planes screamed overhead as the men went to their deaths.
