SCHOOL BUS DELAYED—Some 14 Cumberland school pupils arrived at school late, but uninjured, after a car driven by Harry Bluesteen, Philadelphia, Pa., skidded broadside into the front of the bus on fog-shrouded U. S. 52 near Post Road today. The bus, driven east on 52 by James Proctor, R. R. 10, stopped to load children. An oncoming car stopped, as required by law, but Mr. Bluesteen's car, in back of the westbound vehicle, did not. He swerved out to the left, slammed on his brakes and skidded sideways into the bus. Deputies said Mr. Bluesteen said the car ahead of him stopped too suddenly and that he swerved to avoid hitting it.

STRUCK BUS—The driver escaped injury but his car was badly smashed when it skidded into a Warren Township school bus today. Deputies arrested Bluesteen, the driver, on a charge of reckless driving. Later this morning the Philadelphia man entered a guilty plea in Speedway magistrate's court and was fined $5 and costs on the reckless driving count. The accident was one of many on Marion County roads today.

SMASH-UP—This heavy utility pole snapped like a match when a car came hurtling off the roadway in 5500 S. Harding St., as driver Leonard Mann Jr., 22, Bloomington, failed to negotiate a curve yesterday. Deputy Sheriff Paul Jones (examining the car) said the car failed to come out of a curve, skidded over a five-foot ditch, turned over once, tore down a fence and then struck the pole. The driver was released after first aid, but a passenger, Thurman Odle, 212 Spring St., is in serious condition in General Hospital.

Car Hits School Bus, Children Safe

Accident Occurs in Heavy Fog on U. S. 52

Some 14 Warren Township school children escaped injury when a passenger car skidded into their school bus on fog-shrouded U. S. 52 near Post Rd. today. The bus was eastbound on 52 and had stopped to pick up some children who were waiting in front of the home of Fred Cripe, R. R. 9. As the bus stopped a car coming the opposite direction also stopped, as required by state law. However, a second westbound car, driven by Harry Bluesteen, Philadelphia, Pa., did not stop and swerved out to the left.

Slams on Brakes
As the driver saw the bus he slammed on his brakes—and skidded broadside into the front of the bus. Bluesteen told deputies he had not expected the car in front of him to stop suddenly and swerved out to avoid hitting it. The driver of the bus, James Charles Proctor, 41, of R. R. 10, and 14 children who were en route to Cumberland School escaped injury. The driver of the passenger car suffered a cut finger. Deputies said the fog which covered most of Marion County this morning was heavy on 52 when the accident happened at about 7:30 a. m. Visibility was estimated at about 100 feet.

Ex-Guard to Name Official in Probe

any story this former guard may have until it has been thoroughly investigated by the department." In his letter to the governor offering to identify the accused official, Mr. Barkley indicated he wanted reporters present when he makes his revelation. The governor said the press would be barred unless an agreement were reached to hold up the name of the accused official until state police finished their investigation. Mr. Barkley was one of two guards fired Oct. 1 on charges of trafficking with prisoners and of acting as messengers to relay attorney fees to Indianapolis in the parole case of Carl R. Todd. The other guard was William R. Storey of Gary.

State police investigation so far has brought out that the two guards did relay $500 to attorney Arch N. Bobbitt here as a "down payment" on Todd's attorney fee. The money was part of $700 checked out of the account of another inmate, Richard Sweet. Another $50 of the $700 also has been accounted for, but Todd told state police that Guard Barkley brought the rest of it back into the prison to him.

Mr. Barkley's version of the disposition of the remaining $150 of the money was that he delivered it to the statehouse official in question at the same time he brought the $500 fee to Attorney Bobbitt. State Police Maj. Robert O'Neal said Todd, whose parole has been revoked and who now is in the state reformatory at Pendleton, was being returned to State Police headquarters here today for further questioning.

Dewey to Bide Time Until Jan. 20 if He Wins For State Windup

Prospect of Collaboration With Truman Between Election Day and January Is Remote

By CHARLES T. LECY, Scripps-Howard Staff Writer
ALBANY, Oct. 25 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, if he is elected president eight days hence, will maintain a largely hands-off policy in the running of the U. S. Government between election day and his inauguration on Jan. 20. This is the best advice available in Albany today. It runs counter to guesses that because of a critical world situation some of Mr. Dewey's top people would begin shifting their desks to Washington almost as soon as the election is over. It seems likely Mr. Dewey will follow the course set by Franklin Roosevelt between his 1932 election and inauguration of accepting no responsibility until the presidential authority was fully his. During that period Mr. Roosevelt was cool to proposals that he enter into close co-operation with retiring President Hoover.

No Coolness Expected
It is not expected there will be any such coolness now. Presumably the initiative in suggesting any collaboration would come from President Truman, and it is unlikely that if Mr. Truman suggested a White House meeting after the election, Mr. Dewey would accept. Some of Mr. Dewey's friends think it possible that there will be a joint appointment by Messrs. Truman and Dewey to let Truman know that U. S. policy in opposition to aggressive Soviet tactics will continue firm. But unless there is a real crisis, the odds appear to be that Gov. Dewey will make little attempt to lay down policy lines or direct execution of established policies until he goes to Washington.

Dulles' Status Unchanged
None of this means any change in the relationship now being carried between Mr. Dewey, as represented by John Foster Dulles, and the State Department. The assumption is that Secretary of State Marshall and Undersecretary Robert A. Lovett will continue to keep Messrs. Dewey and Dulles advised on foreign policy. But as for Mr. Dulles becoming a sort of twin Secretary of State, that is regarded as most unlikely. There has been some talk that Mr. Dewey would be wise to name certain chief Cabinet officers as soon as possible after election day.

Jenner Arrives For State Windup

Responds to SOS Call From Creighton

The report, prepared by the committee counsel, B. Nelson Deranian, charged Robert S. Kerr, Oklahoma Democratic senatorial candidate, with state law violations in over-expenditures in his primary campaign. Mr. Kerr's Republican opponent is Rep. Ross Risley. Sen. Jenner said today that a "spot-check" on Kerr expenditures was made at the request of his defeat of Democratic opponent and that, contrary to the claim of Sen. Myers (D. Pa.), the committee had been informed of the report before it was issued. Rumors that this report had anything to do with my resignation are completely unfounded. Sen. Jenner said. "My work was done, all except signing the final pay vouchers, and I shall return to Washington next week to do that."

Herbert Brownell issued a statement commending me for my work and that means a pat on the back from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey himself, who is certain to be the next President of the United States. Sen. Jenner said he will help all he can to make Hobart Creighton governor also.

Many Miners Support Truman, Defy Lewis

Nearly Half of UMW Members Polled Ignore Leader's Denunciation of President as 'Unfit'

Almost half of 133 United Mine Workers told the United Press today that they will vote for President Truman even though their union chief, John L. Lewis, denounced him as "totally unfit" as chief executive. A sample poll of United Mine Workers in coal areas of the nation showed that 64 intended to vote for Mr. Truman, 42 for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, and one for Henry A. Wallace. Seventeen others were undecided and nine refused to divulge their choice. Mr. Lewis told the opening session of the UMW convention Oct. 5 that President Truman was "dangerous" to the union and the country and that the miners should "do something about it when you have a chance to say who shall be the next President."

Hoosiers Favor Dewey
The mine chief's words often stand as law among members. The United Press poll today was to check rank-and-file reaction in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and West Virginia. Mr. Truman polled more votes than Mr. Dewey among the miners checked in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois, but the Republican candidate was favored by mines polled in West Virginia and Indiana. The margin for the President was 9 to 10 in Pennsylvania, 39 Mr. Truman because of the way to 22 in Illinois and 13 to 3 in Ohio. Mr. Dewey was favored by 12 Indiana miners while, six politics, I just won't vote."
