The Mason & Hamlin

Has a Greatness all its Own

THE greatness of the Mason & Hamlin piano depends not on the eloquent praise of a spokesman, nor does it depend altogether on the finest materials which go into its making.

The character, the ability, the watchfulness, and the experience of the men who build the Mason & Hamlin piano, are the ultimate reasons for Mason & Hamlin greatness. Ever on the alert for possible improvement, these craftsmen—of whom many have devoted more than 25 years to the Mason & Hamlin—dedicate themselves to making their piano the synonym for perfection. Mason & Hamlin artisans have always been imbued with this spirit ever since the earliest days of Mason & Hamlin's establishment in 1854.

We invite you to hear and play the Mason & Hamlin. Then you'll know why it has such an enviable reputation—the final mark of greatness.
