

In Hollywood—

That Lynn Girl Strikes It Rich

Diana Booked to Wed Handsome Millionaire

By Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 27 (NEA)—Yoo, hoo, Lana! Diana Lynn is doing all right for herself, too. John Lindsay, the Handsome Hollywood architect she'll marry just before Christmas, is heir to the Greyhound bus millions. . . . More fuel for the Olivia de Havilland-Jean Fontaine feud. The Hollywood Women's Press Club is thinking of giving Olivia its annual Golden Apple for co-operation—just for the sheer (and murderous) delight of watching Joan, who won it last year, make the presentation.

FOX can't be planning any more musicals for Jeanne Crain because they just dropped singer Louanne Hogan, whose voice was dubbed into all of Jeanne's warbling scenes. Larry Parks and Jeanne should get together for a duet.

HOLD ON to your armchair—Gene Bearden, the World Series star, has been signed for a role in "Baby Makes Three" at U. He takes the part of a football player.

INGRID BERGMAN spent one week-end reading a novel titled "The Big Ember," and says she'd like to do it as a movie. . . . Mary Pickford wasn't kidding about leaving the country if Truman was elected. She's telling friends she's headed for Canada after your breakdown. . . . Columbia has unearthed "Variety," the old Emil Jannings, Lya De Putti hit, for a Rita Hayworth remake.

EVE ARDEN has been warned by her doctor to slow down. She's speeding, he says, toward a nervous breakdown. . . . Airline statistics show that one of every 17 passengers leaving Hollywood by plane is a celebrity. . . . Lana Turner and Bob Topping expect a boy—based on a hunch of Lana's medium. They've already picked out a name—Timothy. . . . Harold Lloyd is preparing a western for UA and will end a long drought by appearing in it himself. Howard Hughes still has his last, "The Sin of Harold Diddlebock," on the shelf.

Herb Stein can take a bow for that crack when Jennifer Jones checked into a local hospital. "What, Seznick didn't build her a hospital?"

A MEXICAN film actress is shelling out a lot of peace to bring plastic surgeon Dr. Robert Alar Franklin to Mexico City to make her a glam puss. . . . Grace Godino, who is Rita Hayworth's stand-in, is out for a career as a dramatic actress. She plays the lead in the Santa Monica Players "Golden Boy."

TONY MARTIN, Jimmy Durante and Glen Ford are making regular trips to Las Vegas for the bass fishing on Lake Mead. They "rough it" on the Flamingo Hotel's 35-foot cabin cruiser.

HOW TO STAY OUT OF KITCHEN

Season of the Late Supper is at Hand Says Young Hostess

Charming and popular Mrs. T. is good enough to tell us that the Graylynn Blue Room is an important part of her season's entertaining program. . . . "I've always noticed," she says, "that an informal late supper is the never-failing highlight of the evening. . . . and the Blue Room has my vote for the best food, best service and smartest, gayest atmosphere."

Mrs. T. claims that, while carefully-prepared suppers right in your own home are nice, she has found that the preliminary planning, shopping, fixing, serving and—later—the unbelievable number of dirty dishes, tends to take the edge off of the fun and festivity.

"There is practically nothing so unbecomingly as a mountain of dishes waiting to be washed," concludes Mrs. T. . . . Well, with very little arm-twisting we will admit that we agree with Mrs. T. on all counts. We have gone to considerable lengths to make the Blue Room worthy of this kind of praise and confidence. And we think you'll like it, too.

Up to midnight, you can suit your tastes to anything from the lightest snack to a complete steak dinner. . . . For larger groups, a reservation is a good precaution. Come in soon, won't you?

Movies Consider Paying Audience

Gadgets Would Show Reaction to Picture

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 27 (UP)—In the movie house of tomorrow, some customers may be strapped in their seats with a mass of psycho-physiological measuring devices that make a lie detector look like a toy.

In that far-off-time, people will be paid for going to the movies so they can tell producers whether it's a movie they would have paid to see.

Harry Sherman, producer, says that now that all the poll-takers are in hiding, the movie industry is going to go straight to the customers to find out what they like. He observed: "More and more scientific stuff will be used to find out just exactly why and where an audience laughs, or cries. Or walks out."

Platoon of Secretaries Even now, there's a platoon of secretaries in the back row at every preview. They follow through the movie's script and mark how each line goes over.

"Some studios," Mr. Sherman revealed, "measure the number, volume and duration of all the laughs. The next morning the producer, the director, the actors and the writers all sit down and read a report charting everything from the snickers to the roars."

"Some producers actually have used lie-detectors on the preview audience to find out whether they liked the picture."

LAFAYETTE, Nov. 27—Margaret Webster will bring her Shakespeare Company to Purdue University for two performances of "Macbeth" in the Hall of Music tomorrow and Tuesday. Curtain time for each performance, regular features of the Purdue convocation series, will be 8 p. m.

Student ushers for the two Shakespeare plays, "Macbeth" and "Hamlet" to be presented Thursday afternoon and evening, Dec. 2 at Caleb Mills Hall, were named today by Dr. Paul A. Cundiff, Butler University English department head, and Miss Florence Guild, head of the Shortridge High School English department.

Both departments are sponsoring the two plays to be given by the Margaret Webster Shakespeare Company.

"Macbeth" will be given at 2:45 p. m. and "Hamlet" will be presented at 8:15 p. m.

Butler students, members of the English honor societies, serving as ushers include John Thomson, Diana Harvey, George Coffin and Frank Slupsky of Sigma Tau Delta, and Patricia Rowe, John Adams, Jeanne McCoy and Roger Chittick of Phi Kappa Phi.

Herron Alumni To Show Movie

"The Christmas Slippers," a moving picture on the Russian Christmas story, will be presented by the Herron Alumni Association three times next Wednesday at 7:15, 8 and 8:45 p. m. at the Herron Museum. The movie will be presented to the public in place of the regular Wednesday instruction program on "Art in Everyday Life."

The film is a condensation of the Tchaikovsky opera, "Wakula the Smith," which was first produced at St. Petersburg in 1876 and won two first prizes for the composer in competition with his Russian contemporaries.

Last Feature Slated

Burton Holmes will give the last in his current series of travelogues next Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. in the Murat Theater. The film, entitled "Canadian Rockies," is photographed in full color, depicting the rugged beauty of the North American mountains.
