

Navy Ties Army 21-21, Irish Top Huskies

Times Machine Gun Photos by Times Staff Photographer John Spicklemire.

Middies Snap Cadets' Long Victory String, Play Rivals Off Feet

102,000, Including President Truman, Cheer Underdogs as They End Losing Streak at Eight

By LEO H. PETERSEN, United Press Sports Editor

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—A fighting Navy team which hasn't known victory for more than a year came up with a miraculous performance today and fought a heavily favored and unbeaten Army team to a 21-21 tie.

A crowd of 102,000, including President Truman, cheered wildly as the underdog Midshipmen ruined Army's bid for another perfect record season.

Up until this sunny November afternoon, Army had gone through the season undefeated, but today in the annual service match at Municipal Stadium it met its match, almost its master.

And from a ball club which had lost eight in a row this season—which hasn't been on the right side of the ledger since that October day in 1946 when it whipped Cornell. Ever since that time, Navy has taken a whipping—up until today.

All OK Now

These eight defeats this year were forgotten and all was right with the world with the Midshipmen when their harassed and bruised players came up with a fourth-period touchdown which meant more than a tie for them—it meant they had prevented the East's leading team from an all-victorious season. It meant more than that, for they thwarted their most deadly foes, the Cadets of West Point.

This was supposed to be an easy one for Army—21 point favorites. But it was as tough as the Cadets ever will have. They were outplayed and outthought by a club which came up from the dregs of despair almost to the heady wind of victory.

Navy, finishing its first year under a civilian coach, George Sauer, showed from the start that today it was out to torpedo its enemy. It did so well, in fact, that in view of the record, most of the fans who sat in the stadium were wondering whether the Midshipmen shouldn't be given a saliva test for an illegal stimulant.

Had What It Takes

For they looked like anything but a club which had lost all its other games this year as they squared off against the Cadets.

The first time they got their hands on the ball they scored and when things looked dark for them—as it usually have—they had what it took to come from behind and wind up even.

Washington's scoring was almost equally divided. Lanky Bones McKinney and Chunky Freddie Scollari each collected 19 points, high for the night, and Bob Feerick chipped in with 15. High for the visitors was player-manager Bruce Hale, who registered 17.

Two plays later, he made a first down on the Army 2 and, on two quarterback sneaks, Reeves Bayinger carried it over. Roger Drew converted and there it was on the scoreboard, Navy 7, Army 0, even if the people didn't believe it.

Looks Like a Rout

It wasn't until midway in the second quarter that Army, using its usual separate offensive and defensive units, showed its striking power. Thoroughly out-

Justice Comes to Virginia—34 to 12

Tarheel Back Puts On One-Man Show

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va., Nov. 27 (UPI)—The dazzling and almost unbelievable Charley Justice showed North Carolina the way to 34 to 12 wallowing of Virginia, before 24,000 fans today, making a bowl bid almost certain for the unbeaten Tarheels.

It was the 165-pound Asheville marvel, whirling and fading out of reach, who staggered the over-flow crowd with touchdown runs of 50 and 50 yards, who passed for two more and who set up the other to cap the first undefeated season for a Tarheel team in 50 years.

After Virginia brought its partisans up screaming with an inspired, brilliant second half comeback, Justice blasted the last thought of an upset with two touchdowns in the first five minutes of the last period.

Justice had plenty of help this sunny afternoon, although he hardly seemed to need it even on a water-soaked field that made the footing slippery. Carolina's crunching fullback, Hosea Rodgers, bulled over from the 5-yard line in the first seven minutes of the game, dragging two Cavalier tacklers.

The Fightingest Team

"This is the fightingest team I ever coached," Sauer shouted, and the tears streamed unashamedly. "These boys never once knew they were licked all season. In my first year as Navy coach I guess I didn't even realize myself just how much this Army game means to the boys."

"But I began to find out early this week. We had four nights of scrimmage in which the boys were better than any time all season. That was a tip-off to me that we would be red hot today. I think most of the newspapermen thought I was whistling in the dark when I said we would be very tough today. But I meant it that way. And I guess we were at that."

Above the din, Emerson him."

(Continued on Page 50—Col. 3)

Delta Bowl Names Foes

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 27 (UPI)—Oklahoma A. & M. college has formally accepted a bid to play William and Mary College of Williamsburg, Va., in the second annual Delta Bowl football game on New Year's Day.

Up to that final try, TCU made the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

SMU Gains Tie With Final Rally

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 27 (UPI)—Southern Methodist flaunted its face again today, but the Southwest Conference champions had what it took to turn almost-certain defeat at the hands of Texas Christian into a 7-7 tie with only 15 seconds left to play.

Almost at the same moment that Oregon was announced as its Cotton Bowl foe on the same new Year's day, SMU electrified a packed crowd of 67,435 with a 99-yard surge in the final minute and 48 seconds and its All-American Doc Walker, who stepped up and booted the all-important tying point.

The final punch in that breath-catching comeback drive was a 35-yard pass from Gil Johnson to end John Milan after the TCU secondary had been sucker punched by a fake Statue of Liberty play.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

the heralded Methodists look like a second-division ball club. It forced a 7-0 lead of its own 10 minutes into the second period when Lindy Berry worked his way seven yards across the goal and Homer Ludiker converted.

Up to that final try, TCU made

&lt;p