Love Glows Out Despite Shiner

LONDON, Nov. 27 (UP)—Lady Graham-Moon, estranged wife of Sir Arthur Graham-Moon, forgave a British army captain today for knocking out two of her teeth and blacking her left eye.

Lady Graham-Moon, who was born in Dublin, and Capt. James Hodgkinson, failed to appear in court today on her assault charge of Nov. 10.

The court said she telephoned a request that the charges be dropped, just as she did in October when she filed a similar charge against the captain. At that time she was asked why she permitted Capt. Hodgkinson to knock her about.

"I suppose it is because I am in love with him," she said.

Two Men Die in Fire After Plane Crashes

ALLISON, Ia., Nov. 27 (UP)—Two men were burned to death in a light plane crash here today, shortly after attempting a crash landing after losing a wheel on takeoff.

John Evenoff, 23, and George Roy Platt, 20, both of Mason City, Ia., perished in the flames as a friend attempted to battle the blaze with a hand extinguisher.

Latin Consul Quits

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27 (UP)—Venezuelan Consul General Julio Ramos in San Francisco has submitted his resignation to the new Venezuelan government.

Mrs. Luzadder, who was 75, died early yesterday of a heart attack. A son, Dr. John Luzadder, New Castle, Ind., also survives.

Times Executive's Automobile Stolen

Edwin C. Heinke usually drives to work and drives home. Last night it was a one-way trip. He drove to work, and there his driving ended.

Mr. Heinke, assistant managing editor of The Times, went out to look for his car in a parking lot at Senate and Maryland at 11 p. m. It was gone.

Today he will be looking at every green-topped yellow Chevrolet sedan to see if it bears license plate 42343. That's his.

Studying to be legmen at Northwestern University's School of Journalism involved an extra-curricular course for two college boys, Robert Jacobo (left) and LeRoy Holland. A policeman holds his flashlight as the two red dress after three robbers forced them to surrender shoes, pants, coats, money and watches at Chicago.

CIO Board Opens Leftwing Purge

Farm Equipment
Union First Target

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 27 (UP)—The CIO executive board started its purge of small leftwing unions today by ordering the United Farm Equipment Workers to merge with the huge, right-wing United Automobile Workers Union.

Earlier this week the CIO National Convention authorized the board to take appropriate action to organize workers in fields where existing unions have failed.

The action was aimed primarily at small leftwing unions which were under heavy fire from CIO President Philip Murray and other right-wing officials all week.

A jurisdictional committee once before ordered the farm implement group to join the UAW but negotiations always broke down.

The temperature in Dodge City at 6 p. m. was 29 degrees, and it was dropping rapidly. A high wind, measured at 40 and 45 miles per hour, and gusting at 50 miles an hour, was drifting city streets and disrupting power lines and communication.

Dodge City residents were readying the candles used to light their homes during the blizzard season. Electricity had been restored in the city, but had been restored in short order.

Charges Reds
Lure U. S. Youth

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (UP)—A House committee research expert said tonight that schools and colleges should do more to guard American youth against the "frauds" of communism.

Benjamin Mandel, research director for the House Un-American Activities Committee, made the statement during a radio (ABC) interview.

Mr. Mandel said many American youths have become enmeshed in the web of Communist conspiracy. He said some have left school and home to follow the "Communist will-o-the-wisp."

Thus, he said, "The Communists have been responsible for a great number of personal tragedies, which have injured, sometimes irreparably, the younger generation, and brought sorrow to his family."

Hope Stirs for U. S.
Fliers Missing in Jungle

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Nov. 27 (UP)—Hope revived today that four U. S. Air Force fliers and the wife of one of them, missing eight days in the Guiana jungles, still may be alive.

An employee of the Demeter Bauxite Co. residing at Watooka reported seeing a rocket in the sky, possibly fired by the Americans.

CRASH KILLS HOOSIER
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 27 (UP)—Archie Stull, 31, South Bend, was killed tonight in a three-car collision near here. Three other persons, including Mr. Stull's six-year-old son, Berry, were injured, none seriously.
