Congress— Truman Seeks $1 Million for Disaster Relief

Fund Includes Aid to Blizzard Victims; '48 'Purse' Depleted

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (UP)—The House today approved an emergency bill making $500,000 available immediately for relief in the storm-swept Western states.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (UP)—President Truman announced today that he would ask Congress for an additional $1 million for disaster relief, particularly to aid blizzard sufferers in the West.

Mr. Truman told a news conference that additional disaster funds are needed because only $50,000 remains in the $500,000 fund set up last year.

The President allocated $150,000 of the original fund for food relief along the Columbia River last summer. This week he ordered another $300,000 made available to the blizzard-stricken cattle and grain states west of the Mississippi River.

His request today was for a supplemental appropriation for the current fiscal year.

In other congressional developments:

Air Force
Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall said today war is not imminent, but is "at least a possibility."

He testified before the House Armed Services Committee as it opened hearings on a bill to fix Army strength and to authorize a 70-group Air Force.

Evictions
President Truman said today he doesn't think that landlords who have issued mass eviction notices in a fight against rent control will get away with it.

Mr. Truman said he thought it was a rather poor approach to the problem and that he did not think the landlords would be able to do it.

He made the statement in answer to news conference questions about eviction notices sent out by landlords in Tulsa, Okla., and other cities.

Labor-Management
The administration planned to send Congress its new labor-management bill late today or tomorrow.

The bill would remove the Taft-Hartley law from the statute books, revive the Wagner Act with some changes and restore to the Labor Department some of the powers taken away by the Republican 80th Congress.

The Senate group is slated to begin hearings tomorrow.

Foreign Policy
Some Senate leaders believe Russia has unwittingly given President Truman's big foreign spending program a shot in the arm.

They say the Soviet announcement of an "eastern union" to counter the Marshall Plan is bound to swing votes behind Mr. Truman's "cold war" proposals.

Housing
The Republicans have come up with two public housing pro-

Kiwanians to Hear Discussion of Slums

Paul McCord, president of the Indianapolis Redevelopment Commission, and Cleo Blackburn, superintendent of Plummer House, will appear jointly before the Indianapolis Kiwanis Club tomorrow noon to discuss slum clearance.

Mr. McCord will talk on the physical side of the question and Mr. Blackburn will discuss the human side at the Claypool Hotel luncheon.

grams as substitutes for the administration's. In the house, 10 members were ready to introduce a bill that would call for construction of $10,000 public housing units during the next six

U. S. Increases Aid to Save Starving Herds

Speeds More Cash, Machines, Planes To Snowbound Areas

By United Press

The government today poured more money, men, machines and planes into the fight to save as many as possible of the 2 million head of livestock starving on snow-covered western ranges.

Federal Works Administrator Philip B. Fleming granted $35,000 each to Nevada, Utah, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wyoming for the battle, dividing equally $175,000 of the $200,000 made available from President Truman's emergency relief funds. The Senate is scheduled to act on a bill today appropriating $750,000 more.

Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall ordered 60 anglezers shipped into snowbound Nebraska areas from Granite City, Ill.

Expands Operations
The Air Force was expanding its airlift operations as rapidly as possible. The 9th Air Force at Greenvale, S. C., assigned 15 C-52 "flying boxcars" to join the fight against the snow.

The planes were ordered to fly to McClellan Field at Sacramento, Cal., staging base for the operation.

At least four other Air Force planes in California were assigned to rush supplies to western reservations where Navajo Indians and their cattle were reported starving.

Meanwhile, a hero of a blizzard that struck Colorado in 1931 declared today that the storms that have swept the West were far worse than the one in which he distinguished himself.

As a 13-year-old boy, Bryan F. Untiedt won the nation's acclaim by trying to save 19 schoolmates trapped in a bus. Five died, but for his efforts, Mr. Untiedt was rewarded with a week's visit to the White House as a guest of President Hoover.

Until dawn today, the ships had dropped 250 tons of hay to the starving sheep and cattle.

Wild animals and fowl were reported fighting with some of the livestock for the available feed. One source said 50 per cent of the deer would perish and thousands of wild ducks and geese would starve.

Professor Quits Post

Over Dismissal of Three

CHICAGO, Jan. 27 (UP)—A University of Washington professor said today he has resigned from the West Coast school's faculty to protest dismissal of three other professors for Communist leanings.

Thomas A. Cook, professor of political theory at Washington now teaching at Chicago University on a year's leave of absence, said he did not sympathize with communism but acted because of concern for due process of established law.

Three faculty members were dismissed and three others placed on probation for alleged Communist activities.

FLASH CLEARANCE

BEGINS

FRIDAY MORNING

(NOT BEFORE THEN)

AT 9:30—as the Doors open

Even as you are reading these lines—we are busying ourselves with preparations for the Flash Clearance!

We have examined end eyed (as the headline writers say) and scrutinized and inspected—the various and sundry items revealed by the inventory—broken lines—odds and ends—items that have overstayed their welcome like the man who came to dinner.

And tomorrow morning (not before) you'll see what was done to these items. You'll see reductions that are astounding—even dumbfounding—even apparently reckless. But this is a Clearance—the celebrated Flash Clearance—and it is our intention to make it very Short—and very Sweet!

HEADED BY A
