Many Food Items Below 1946 Level

Prices Compared
With OPA Ceilings

The downswing of food prices has brought many lines below the OPA ceilings of October, 1946, a detailed survey revealed today. Some items were the same and some are still over the ceilings. But grocers are almost unanimous in the belief that the food dollar will buy more and more as the summer draws on.

Here is a typical table of comparative prices:

	OPA 1946	Today
Eggs, Grade A lg.	60c	57c
Canned Peaches	26c	24 1/2c
Canned Peas	12 1/2c	10c
Canned Tomatoes	18c	12 1/2c
Sirloin Steak	79c	69c
Oranges (pck. lb.)	12 1/2c	5c
Grapefruit	8c	6c
Pork Chops	69c	69c
Chuck Roast	49c	46c
Canned Corn	13c	13 1/2c
Flour, 5 lb.	37c	30c
Lg. Canned Milk	11c	12 1/2c
Fresh Milk	16 1/2c	19c
Sugar, 5 lbs.	36c	47c
Sliced Bacon, top	69c	71c
Potatoes (support'd)	49c	59c
Head Lettuce	12c	21c

Grocers pointed out that the increase in head lettuce was due to the recent snow and freeze in the west.

Bread shows a slight increase. It amounts to 24c on a pound-and-a-half loaf. Other prices range about the same, but grocers are quick to agree that all food prices are taking a one-way ride to lower levels.

Free Riders Rebuked

CHICAGO, Jan. 27 (UP)—Police Commissioner John C. Pendergast reminded policemen that they must stand in streetcars, interurban trains and buses. Pendergast said he had too many complaints that the policemen, who ride free, occupied seats while paying customers had to stand.
