

Congress Hoover Asserts Saturation Point Hit in Taxes

Urges Cut in U. S. Costs, Backs Truman's Reorganization Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (UP)—Former President Herbert Hoover said today that this country has reached "the saturation point" in taxation and that government costs must be reduced.

Mr. Hoover testified before the House Executive Expenditures Committee in support of President Truman's request for broad powers to reorganize the government. He said that "economies would be considerable" through the grant of such power.

He stressed the need for such economies, saying the burden of government is piling up on the average citizen.

Mr. Hoover said that at present "we have a form of organization that is hopeless by way of economy."

Then, in answer to committee questions, he said:

"I believe this country has reached the saturation point by way of taxation."

Mr. Hoover vigorously opposed suggestions that "quasi-judicial, quasi-legislative agencies such as the Interstate Commerce Commission or the Railroad Retirement Board be exempted from the measure."

"I think that if you start making exceptions there will be no end to the exceptions that will be taken and this legislation will break down," he said.

Cites Veto Safeguards

Mr. Hoover pointed out that the proposed legislation gives Congress "veto" safeguards if the President should take steps that are unwise. But he added that he did not think the President would try to do anything that would seriously dislocate the government.

Mr. Hoover is head of a commission which has been studying reorganization of the executive branch of the government.

He also said his commission is interested in boosting the salaries of upper income bracket federal officials.

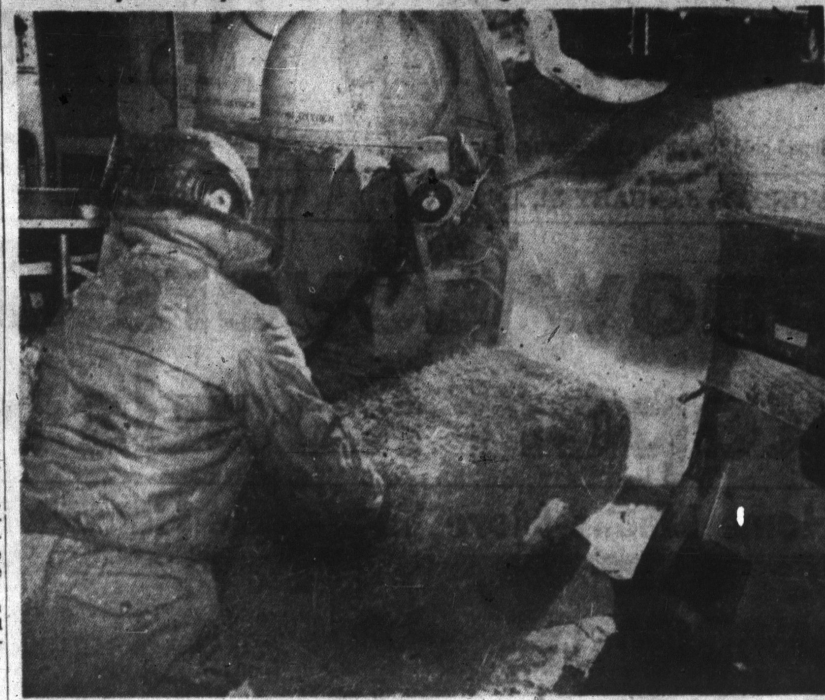

Labor Laws

Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin asked Congress today to return to "the philosophy of the Wagner Act" by repealing the "objectionable" Taft-Hartley law and enacting President Truman's labor program.

He appeared before the Senate Labor Committee to kick off the administration drive to repeal the Taft-Hartley law. He asked re-enactment of the 1935 Wagner Act with "improvements."

The administration bill to car-

It's 'Hay Away' to Save Starving Cattle

Hay Away... This is how 10th Air Force men feed the cattle on the frozen western plains. Pfc. Paul Tichenor (left) of Philadelphia and Cpl. R. C. Maysfield of Brownwood, Tex., push bales of hay out of a C-47 when the pilot spots the animals and rings a loud bell in the ship.

Tinder Campaign Speech Charges Not Made by Times

On October 21, 1948, John Tin-der, a Republican nominee for the Indiana legislature, delivered a political address at a public meeting in which he charged certain Democrats sought election of George S. Dailey as prosecuting attorney in order to "bring back the lush days of a wide open city" and in which he criticized the administration of public officials previously held by members of this group.

He mentioned by name, in addition to Mr. Dailey, William Clauser, John McNelis, former municipal judge; David M. Lewis, former prosecuting attorney; Edwin H. Smith, Henry O. Goettl, former superior court judge, and Frank McKinney, treasurer of the Indiana Democratic committee.

The Times reported portions of this address as a part of the regular and full coverage of political campaign news which it feels is an obligation of any newspaper to bring to the electorate in advance of an election.

Asked for Comment

In accord with long established policy, and in an effort to be completely fair, Mr. Dailey, as the individual most concerned with the charges made by Mr. Tin-der, was asked for comment on the charges, and his refutation of them was published as a part of the original account of the politi-

Song Writer Weds

MONTREAL, Jan. 31 (UP)—New York song writer Sonny Sky-

lar was married Saturday to dancer Julia Almeida of Rio de Janeiro, in a quiet ceremony at the French Baptist Church.

Mr. Skylar is the author of the lyrics of "Be-a-me Mucho," "Amour Amour," and "Hair of Gold." The bride is appearing at the El Morocco nightclub here.

Miami Beach Bank Bandits Get $70,000

Pose as Workmen, Hide in Depository,
Then Rob Clerks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 31 (UP)—Bandits held up the Mercantile Bank on fashionable Lincoln Road today and "escaped" with $70,000.

Miami Beach police said two armed thieves were waiting in the night depository room inside the bank when two clerks entered to remove the deposits to the bank vault.

They seized all deposits placed in the depository over the week end and fled in an automobile waiting outside the office building where the bank is located.

S. W. Curry, bank cashier, estimated the theft at from $60,000 to $70,000 on the basis of deposits placed in the night box during the previous week end.

Pose as Workmen

Police said the bandits apparently gained entry into the depository chamber Friday night by posing as workmen employed on a repair job in a theater which is in the bank building.

When Clerks E. L. Jeter and J. W. Damore entered the chamber the bandits held them up and forced them to turn over the deposits.

The bandits then gagged the two clerks and secured them with handcuffs. They were dumped into the recess under the escalator and the bandits made their escape through the hole they had made Friday night.

Pilot Credited With Saving Lives of 33 in Air Crash

'He Never Once Lost Control,' Passengers Say After Collision Over Long Island

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (UP)—Passengers today credited the coolness of the pilot of the Pan American Constellation "Monarch of the Skies" for saving the lives of 33 persons aboard when the air transport collided with a small private plane 3500 feet over Long Island.

The two fliers in the smaller plane were killed instantly in the collision which took place in clear weather yesterday afternoon a few minutes after the Constellation took off from La Guardia Airport for London.

The two dead men were Arthur Dutton, 57, of Portland, Conn., pilot of the light plane, and Eugene Kowalczyk, 35, of Middletown, Conn.

Wedge in Fuselage

Capt. George F. Knuth, the Constellation pilot, brought his big plane down for an emergency landing at Mitchell Air Force base. The wreckage of the two bodies was wedged in the fuselage.

"I just caught a glimpse of the other plane," Mr. Knuth said. "Then I felt a very severe jar. I started losing altitude fast. So I circled toward Mitchell Field. I couldn't raise the field by radio, but I came in anyway."

Mr. Knuth credited the teamwork of his nine fellow crew members for bringing the plane down safely. But the 23 passengers said he was being too modest.

Called a 'Miracle'

"He never lost control for an instant," said D. E. Wilson, 51, of Peekskill, N. Y., one of the passengers. "After the collision we dropped slightly, as though we had hit an air pocket. Then we went on and made the landing as though nothing had happened."

Others aboard the Pan American plane called the landing a "miracle" and loudly praised Mr. Knuth and the other members of the crew.

Woman Hurt in Fall

Mrs. Dorothy Rubin, 26, 843 N. Meridian St., slipped on the stairway at her home last night and suffered a sprained left ankle. Police said she was treated by her family physician.

YOUR NEIGHBORS HAVE USED 185,000,000
BOTTLES OF ROMAN CLEANSER
You'll like it, too!

When thousands of women buy a product week after week, you can be sure they like it better than anything else—you can be sure you'll like it, too. Roman Cleanser is a favorite washing aid because it makes clothes snowy-white and saves the work and wear of extra rubbing. It also removes many stubborn stains.

An added advantage of Roman Cleanser is that it disinfects, makes clothes sanitary as well as snowy-white. Careful mothers always disinfect baby's bibs, diapers, undergarments—also bed linens, handkerchiefs, towels. Easy disinfecting directions on label.

SAVE WORK & WEAR of extra rubbing. Add to suds or rinse. For automatic washer see the label directions.

DISH CLOTHS should be kept sanitary and fresh. Disinfecting directions on label.

STAINS ON SINK, drain-board, enamel—let cloth saturated with Roman Cleanser stand on stain.

ODORS AND STAINS—pour a little Roman Cleanser into bowl, let stand. See label.

WHITE WOODWORK will be whiter with Roman Cleanser in the scrubbing suds.

MANY CLEANING USES • SAFE HOUSEHOLD GERMICIDE • READ LABEL

Washington Star President Dies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (UP)—Fleming Newbold, president of the Washington Evening Star newspaper, died early today at his home following a heart attack.

He was 75. Mr. Newbold was stricken while preparing to retire. Dr. John F. Preston, his physician, said he had been treating Mr. Newbold for a heart ailment for two years, but that he had remained active and vigorous until his death.

Mr. Newbold succeeded the late Frank B. Noyes as president of the Evening Star Newspaper Co. Feb. 18, last year, when Mr. Noyes retired as president and became chairman of the board.

Mr. Newbold joined the Evening Star in 1890. He became business manager and a director of the newspaper in 1910.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. James Bush of St. Louis who is the former Mrs. William Rhinelander Stewart, and Mrs. Morris Legendre of Alken, S. C. His wife is dead.

Mr. Newbold was born at Dayton, O., April 11, 1873. He was also a director of the Riggs National Bank and the Merchants Transfer and Storage Co., both here.

'Accidental' Shot Kills Youth Here

A shooting which witnesses termed "accidental" took the life of Donald Mullen, 23, of 568 W. 28th St. yesterday.

He died en route to General Hospital of a bullet wound in the head.

Police said the shot was fired by Mrs. Vera Hamilton, 321 N. Senate Ave., who told officers she was "playing" with the gun when it accidentally discharged.

Mr. Mullen, Mrs. Hamilton and Mrs. Toni Kirk, 23, of 1102 N. Capitol Ave., were in the apartment of Samuel Taylor, 39, of 326 N. Senate Ave., when the shooting occurred at about 9:30 p. m. They told police they went to the apartment for sandwiches after returning from Crawfordville.

Mrs. Hamilton found the 22-caliber revolver and was "kidding about a stickup" when it discharged, all three persons told the police. They were held on vagrancy charges, pending investigation.

L. S. Ayres & Co. FRanklin 4411

Presenting... Fabric Fashion Cues

Sew-Right for Spring

A gala showing of EVERFAST sun-climate cottons in new VOGUE designs.

Step into spring with confidence in clear-bright prints and solids, patterned in a wondrous array of around-the-sun dail silhouettes. Play dresses, piquant and provocative—full-skirted twilight costumes—crisp and comfortable dresses for work.

Continuous informal modeling in the Fourth Floor Fabric Department and during lunch and tea-time in the Tea Room, Eighth Floor—Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 1st through 3rd.

Everfast fabrics for spring:

- Cashmere Butcher Linen—1.69 Yd.
- Woven Plaid Gingham—1.59 Yd.
- Printed Longcloth—1.19 Yd.
- Batik Prints—1.59 Yd.
- Calico Prints—1.19 Yd.
- Sandringham Butcher Linen—1.39 Yd.
- Printed Damask—1.59 Yd.
- Woven Chambray—1.39 Yd.
- Vogue Pattern 6697—60c
- Vogue Pattern 6647—75c
- Vogue Pattern 5 4949—1.00

Ayres' Fabrics, Fourth Floor

CLOSED MONDAYS
SHOP TUESDAY THRU SATURDAY
9.00 to 5.25

NDAY.
Aton
Eoa
Spe Really
ombs ASHING
missi today r atomfuel and
"e are re
said.
Reduction ported a d plant pansion push lever under w.
By B. 1 the p a pace bch, the dicted, will ma crease "e long countries over world.
In a pece-flex report (Congre
sion said it g
if war could o atomic nbs mor
any evemide b
It is a stat
readies it add armed bps wit weaponnevene man giv the we Nly-Crea
It all is pro enemy lack of commisn said,
defense of o
with tas, plane guard, ice is Bear A. Joh
commisn's sec Meanle, a atomic elligen
ing tal on the country. The workpnt a r
plan to sure the interdct f terials" which might mpete in The omisn
all on milita energyover.
is on tverge o developents "of portant that t
tailed in specia gress and m Thisport will millionprogram fiscal 500 on which comm hope a day will power industr drive pps and difficult
The omisn
port # it had ude staff, pla
difficiles inher
over omic ene
Armytwo years
Theport sal
situat has b
prove and b mentare now i put atomic fu
haild in stoppi
"all ag the de frome mine powerreactor. A cost (product todayan it wa
Mr. lenthall confrence on sought to m
year-4, $3.5 bil
reach the tur
nowe are rea commisn's f buildg program
great ever peaceme anyw
New Store
Ithysical re
misen reported pointwhere it h ing it just how to atomic nu unfited new v enely will "be trold for man
If its biologi
the omisn
"exting progr
inghe secret o
sought to m Ar with radioa
edd a little clo
nos and treat
all this costs
the new fie
Jul 1 the comm estimated $4 ogate more rege plant ex
fical year exp
mited at $632
148 the comm
million.
That the co gessing about of the rest of dated by its has an intelli
own keeping wa
as and other co
with the atom.
The commis helligence is D
ly, former Univ
physicis profess Dr. Colby wi evaluate inform atomic energy d office "maintain tion with other cies of the gove

IN IND

EVENTS TODAY
Visual Education Pr
Berkeley—7:30 p
School auditorium
Annual Meeting, C
apolis—7:30 p. m.
Club.

EVENTS TOMORROW
Indiana Jesters 8:15
—Lincoln Hotel
Indianapolis Council
10 a. m. R. S.
Robison-Karstals P
Ball—7:30 p. m.

BIRTHS
At Methodist—Clar
dan: Andrew Mayer; Harding,
son: Richard; H
Louise Hoback; H
Harry, Birdie Cl
Hellebourn; Charli
Ivan, Brantena.
At St. Francis—
Pinto: John, Hel
gare; Johnson;
Dr. James, Meli
At Coleman—Bert
son, Anne Mon
dale; Oliver, Wa
At Vincent—M
5th: James, Bett
urica Baxter; G
At General—Alber
Harry, Irene Bro

At Home—Julian
At Methodist—Cl
Albert, Mary Jo
Wilder; Joseph
James, Marcell