One Writer Advises Him
To Leave 'BW' Out of Column

By Earl Wilson

Why am I so repulsive? Nobody loves me. There's a sob in my typewriter. The other columnists get love letters which they obligingly print, but all I get is pan mail.

To show you the high esteem with which I am held in The Bronx, for example, I bring you this paean of praise out of my Gripe Bag:

"Listen Crum: Can't you write a column without sticking in that B. W. of yours? If you can't, without sticking a picture of her mug in the column, you'd better quit, bud." (Unsigned.)

"YOU STEPPED over the line when you quoted Tommy Dorsey's blast at the B-Hoppers. M. u. sically, T. D. is still-back in the early 30's.

"You're also becoming an old fossil. Don't throw rocks, Wilson. You've got wind-ups, too." T. Dorsey

Paul Nero, North Hollywood.

"YOU SURPRISE me when you had the nerve to quote Rudy Vallee as saying George Raft couldn't act! George Raft is as fine an actor as he was a dancer. Rudy Vallee isn't even a ham actor. I mean, he's a ham all right, but it is not act."

Dorothy Reynolds, Los Angeles.

"From now on we'll just stay on Tipping."

"WHY DON'T you expose the hatchet girl at the H-Restaurant on 52d St. who had the audacity to comment upon the 25-cent tip my husband gave her?"

"She was crude enough to run after us and tell the doorman about 'those cheap people.'

"From now on we'll just stay on Tipping."

N. Y. C. Employee

For 43 Years

Services for Frank H. Burns, retired New York Central Railroad yardmaster, who died Sunday in his home, 42 S. Ewing St., will be held at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Jordon Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Washington Park.

A native of North Star, O., Mr. Burns, who was 68, and lived in Indianapolis 44 years, an employee of the New York Central Railroad for 43 years, retired one year ago as yardmaster.

He was a member of Englewood Christian Church, Masonic Lodge and the Yardmasters' Association of Indianapolis.

Besides his wife, Linnie, he is survived by two sons, Robert Burns, Indianapolis, and Dr. Parker B. Burns, Columbus; four brothers, James Burns, Indianapolis, and John, Richard and Thomas Burns, Ohio; four sisters, Mrs. Lula Mendenhall, Mrs. Jose Dietrich and Mrs. Agnes DeWeese, Michigan, and three grandchillens.

Services for Mrs. Hazel Schonecker, 1910 Oxford St., will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow in Trinity Methodist Church, Shellyville. The body is at the Sleeth Funeral Home there. She was 32.

Surviving are her wife, Mrs. Daisy Stanford; a daughter, Mrs. Beulah Murray, Anderson; two sons, Claude Stanford, Indianapolis, and Charles Stanford, St. Louis; a brother, John L. Stanford, Jeffersonville; a sister, Mrs. Lucy Mosher, Arizona; two grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Marie C. Nies

Miss Marie C. Nies, lifelong resident of Indianapolis, who died Sunday in her home, 902 N. East St., was to be buried in Crown Hill following services at 2 p. m. today in her residence. She died at 11:30 a. m. Feb. 9 on "American Catholicism: The Church Takes the Offensive."

The Rev. Frederick R. Daries, pastor of the Zion Evangelical Church, of which she was a member, will conduct the services. Her only survivor is a sister, Miss Dorothy Nies, also of Indianapolis.

A native of Onarga, Ill., he had lived in Indianapolis 30 years, was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Belle P. Munson; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas L. Baldwin, Indianapolis; a sister, Dr. Nina M. Hawley, Los Angeles; and two grandsons.

19 NIPS DROWN

TOKYO, Feb. 1 (UPI)—Eighteen Japanese drowned when a ferry boat capsized in a strong wind Sunday while crossing the Tone River in Chiba prefecture, Seventeen were rescued.

Julia Downs

Mrs. Julia Downs, former Indianapolis resident who died yesterday in Lebanon, Ind., will be buried in Floral Park following services at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Conklin Funeral Home. She died at 80.

Born in Lexington, Ky., Mrs. Downs lived 26 years in Indianapolis. When her husband, the late William Downs, died one year ago, she moved from her home in 554 N. Lynn St., to Lebanon. She was a member of the Tabernacle Baptist Church.

Among her survivors are two sons, Ivan and William Downs, both of Indianapolis.

The Midnight Earl

WHO'S WHO: Betty George gave her notice to "As the Girls Go" and will explore television via NBC . . . Jed Harris and author Michael Arlen huddled at the Little Club . . . Jackie Cooper signed with General Motors for his own TV show . . . Betty Henderson agreed to sponsor the Artist's Colony in Greenwich Village in opening branches all over the country. The outfit makes paints, canvases, etc., available to underprivileged artists . . . Benny Goodman, having moved his family to California, sold his Bedford, N. Y., home . . . Miss Hart's working on a new show, "Senior Chicago" . . . Fred Astaire's adding 11 new dance studios in the major cities within the next month . . . Some of the swankier doormen in our better night spots are sporting yellow raincoats inscribed "Better Buy Buck."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Henny Youngman, noticing what CBS has done to NBC, says, "They ought to spell it Raid-IO."

BIG TOWN BUZZSAW: Harmonica blower Alan Schackner has a colleague who can hold a note longer than any other musician in the business—he still has the first dollar he ever earned. . . . That's earl, brother.
