Sets Stage for Television Debut

First 'Electric Show' To Be Held in March

Television sets will make their formal bow to the Indianapolis public at the city's first "Television and Electrical Living Show" in the Manufacturers building at the State Fairgrounds the week of Mar. 19-26.

Albert L. Maillard, president of the Electric League of Indianapolis, said the show will be a forerunner of the opening of television broadcasting by WFBM in June.

Thirty-five exhibitors will fill booths in the huge building and a television show will be arranged in the pit of the building seating 2000 spectators.

Present Entertainment

The magic of electrical living will be stressed by exhibitors who in addition to their own show will continue as sponsors of the Indianapolis Home Show.

The television exhibit will present entertainment acts including boxing, a beauty contest, cooking demonstrations and other usual television features.

Each booth, Mr. Maillard said, will be equipped with a television receiver to enable visitors to view the living show while inspecting exhibits.

Assist President

Assisting Mr. Maillard are the following committee members:

Publicity—Louis Randle, chairman, Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce; Morris Electric Appliances, Inc.; William J. Hell, Appliance Distributors, Inc.; and L. H. Hirsch, Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce.

Educational—Paul Loer, chairman, General Electric Supply Corp.; H. L. Brewer, chairman, Indiana State Teachers Association; A. Ayres and Co., and H. H. Bauck, Adams Co., Inc.

Business—Tadd Wake, chairman, Westinghouse Electric Supply Co.; W. E. Smiley, Nash-Kelvinator Corp.; Glenn Showers, Frigidaire Corp.; C. C. Bostick, Gibson Co.; Barney Orr, Rodefeld Co., and E. M. Lawrence, Wm. H. Block Co.

Consumer—Ray Jones, chairman, Approved Appliances Co.; G. F. Ryde, Griffith Distributing Corp., and W. C. Rimp, Griffith Distributing Corp., Hayes, Hollingshead, Radio Supply Co., and M. H. Harde and Brewer.

COWS PROVE CHOOSEY

A cattle diet of dried citrus pulp, sweet potatoes and peanut meal, designed to use farm by-products, has as many nutrients as standard grain but the cows do not find it as tasty.

Here setting the stage for television's debut in Indianapolis are Albert Maillard, president of the Electric League; Ray Jones, chairman of the contract and rules committee of the coming "Television and Electrical Living Show"; Al C. Ranier and (seated) E. M. Lawrence.

Hunt Ship Survivors

MAZATLAN, Sinaloa, Mexico, Feb. 10 (UPI)—Coast Guard vessels searched the waters 80 miles northwest of Sinaloa today for possible survivors of the 300-ton Mexican coastal freighter Anita which Army fliers reported sank yesterday.
