Drive Tightened on Group Trying To Undermine Army Morale

The French Ministry of Interior announced today that five Communist sympathizers were arrested and handed over to military authorities this morning on charges they had disclosed military secrets.

Those arrested were believed part of a group detained yesterday during sweeping raids on Communist publications and their offices in Paris. Documents "interesting to the national defense" were found in the raids, officials said.

Tighten Red Drive

The raids were made as France moved to indict all members of the French Communist Party Central Committee on charges of sedition by undermining the morale of the French army.

The five Communist suspects were taken to the Reuilly army barracks in Paris for questioning by a military judge after hours of grilling by officials of the Surete Nationale.

Later today they will be transferred to the Cherche-Midi military prison in Paris.

The ministry of Interior also said that 11 other men arrested yesterday on similar charges were released this morning but will remain under police surveillance.

Rome

Vice Premier Giuseppe Saragat, right wing Socialist leader, resigned from the coalition cabinet today because of his party's dissatisfaction with the government.

The break was the first in the anti-Communist government formed by Premier Alcide De Gasperi after the elections last April.

Political observers saw a possibility that other left of center groups might split off and embarrass the government in its plans for cooperation with the United States and western Europe.

Mr. Saragat announced his decision at a private meeting of his party's parliamentary leaders. Premier De Gasperi's office said no official notification had been received, and the resignation would not be considered official until the cabinet acts on it.

Shanghai

Normal postal service between Communist and Nationalist China will be resumed soon, it was announced today by the Shanghai postal administration.

The post office is now accepting mail for north and central China and Manchuria as a result of information received from Dr. W. W. Yen, head of the Shanghai delegation at Peiping, Dr. Yen said the Communists favor immediate restoration of mail service, with details to be settled later.

Airmail will be accepted for Peiping and Tientsin.

The Hague

The government announced plans today for establishing the sovereignty of Indonesia "considerably earlier" than the United Nations deadline of July 1, 1950.

A conference will be held at The Hague starting March 12 to work out details for Indonesian sovereignty, an official statement said.

At the same time the government announced the release from "protective custody" of the leaders of the Indonesian republic who were seized Dec. 19 when the Dutch army opened a campaign against republican forces.

Tokyo

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida reportedly sent a personal letter today to each member of his anti-Communist cabinet, asking aid in creating a Diet committee on "un-Japanese Activities."

His letter was said to list six points which the proposed committee would investigate, including "activities of the Japanese Communist Party."

The report was made by the Kyodo News Agency, but was denied later by the rival Jiji Press, which quoted an "influential cabinet official."

Manslaughter Trial

The manslaughter trial of Herbert Charles Bobb, 19, of 627 Cottage Ave., was set for May 2 today by Judge Rabb in Criminal Court 2.

Bobb waived arraignment and entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the death of Patrolman Robert J. Baker in a traffic accident.

Patrolman Baker was struck down by a car allegedly driven by Bobb on Oct. 2, 1948, at Shelby and Calhoun Sts.

Senator 'Visibly Affected' As 'Pet' Bill Is Withdrawn

Leo Stemple Breaks Into Tears of Apology When Utilities Arbitration Measure Dies

By IRVING LEIBOWITZ

The bitter battle over repeal of the utilities compulsory arbitration act reached a dramatic climax today when Sen. Leo Stemple, Democratic spokesman in the Senate, broke down and cried after apologizing for breaking a promise.

The Jasper Senator previously had promised his colleagues that if they agreed to halt action on the repeal measure, the administration's voluntary version of the proposal would be forthcoming from the House.

Today, Rep. Earl Utterback (D., Kokomo), author of the House voluntary arbitration measure, withdrew his bill. He said withdrawal of the bill would "clarify the controversy in the Senate."

Rising before his Senate colleagues, Sen. Stemple asserted that he "never intentionally misrepresented any bills."

"I want to be exonerated. I feel deeply hurt over what has happened. I have not been a party to any manipulation of House Bill 155," he said. House Bill 155 is the voluntary arbitration which Rep. Utterback withdrew.

Chairman Roy Conrad (R., Monticello) of the Senate labor committee, immediately rose and said he had never questioned the sincerity of Sen. Stemple.

Republican and Democratic Senators rose from their seats to applaud the Jasper Senator who was visibly moved.

Sen. Stemple began to cry when Sen. Russell Brantner (R., Elkhart) declared:

"I have the highest regard for Sen. Stemple's integrity."

They Were Listening to Sectional

Three Indianapolis men were listening on their car radio to the Crispus Attucks-Ben Davis basketball game yesterday afternoon as they approached the B. & O. crossing of Lyndhurst Dr. Suddenly one yelled, "Look out," and there was a loud crash. The car was hurled from the road and overturned by a switch engine. Here Arthur Hauffler, 7920 Evanston Rd. (left), and Don Hinchey, 4235 Glenwood Dr., survey what was left of the auto. They were uninjured. A third occupant, Guy Fowler, 128 E. Ninth St., is in "fairly good" condition today in General Hospital, having suffered from a broken arm.

ingburg's Southern Conference champs had the closest call.

The Hunters barely managed to withstand a last-period rally by little Spurgeon to win, 40 to 39, after going into the last stanza with a 10-point advantage.

Tom Smith racked up 22 points for the winners, but Don Sakel's free throw in the last 30 seconds provided the margin of victory.

The Hunters have a 2.15 p. m. date with Jasper's tourney-wise Wildcats.

15 in Anderson's favor at the half, and 38-to-28 at the third-quarter pole.

Then, Anderson's defense collapsed and Center Dick Mills sparked his mates in a spirited rally which took the Tribesmen by complete surprise. Mills contributed 14 timely points to free the attack. His under-the-basket shot in the last minute of play broke a 43-43 deadlock and broke Anderson.

Anderson's prolific Bob Rousey, who led NCC shotmakers with a per-game average of 15.6, had to settle for 13 points.

Thus, Anderson became the first finalist of last year's state tourney to be ousted. The Indians lost to Lafayette Jefferson in the afternoon final last time. This year, they were tops in seven of 10 U. P. weekly state-wide rankings of the prep powers.

256 Semi-Finalists

Meanwhile, the other members of the elite guard came through as the field was chopped to 256 semi-finalists. They'll square off in 1 p. m. and 2:15 p. m. games, with the 64 sectional titlists to be determined in tonight's 8:15 p. m. games.

Of last year's 64 sectional winners, 24 hit the dust by last night. Most noteworthy were the defeats of former state champs Crawfordville and Franklin.

The Athenians of Crawfordville, winners of the first state tourney in 1911, lost to Westland, 40 to 37. Franklin, the only club to win three state titles in a row, was ousted by Johnson County campus Union Township of Bargersville, 46 to 37.

New Albany's high-flying Bulldogs moved into today's semi-finals against Corydon by besting city rival Spencer, 49 to 26. Jeffersonville, which must host Lanesville, 66 to 21, must beat Little Silver Creek at 2:15 p. m. before getting a chance at New Albany for the sectional title tonight.

Lafayette Jefferson's Broncos roared into the semi-finals with a 47 to 33 victory over Dayton and will meet Shadeland in the second afternoon session.

Muncie Central and Evansville Central, who completed the "big four" at last year's state finals, also remained in the running.

Muncie's Bearcats romped over Royerton, 67 to 37, while the Pocket City aggregation edged city rival, Memorial, 51 to 48. Bill Phillips' 21 points were the difference.

Of the other big shots, Hunt-

ingburg's Southern Conference champs had the closest call.

The Hunters barely managed to withstand a last-period rally by little Spurgeon to win, 40 to 39, after going into the last stanza with a 10-point advantage.

Tom Smith racked up 22 points for the winners, but Don Sakel's free throw in the last 30 seconds provided the margin of victory.

The Hunters have a 2.15 p. m. date with Jasper's tourney-wise Wildcats.

Frankfort Keeps Going

Stalling tactics, first employed in this year's tourney against Wabash, also failed to stop Frankfort's four-time champs and Shelbyville's 1947 state titlists.

Frankfort won from Colfax, 38 to 20, after going into a 7 to 3 halftime lead. The Clinton boys held the ball for the greater part of the game.

Waldron employed the same strategy against Shelby's Golden Bears, but lost, 23 to 16. After a seven-all first half, the Bears, coached by Clifford, 61 to 34, Monte roville, the third perfect record team, still in the running, advanced at Ft. Wayne in Wednesday's preliminaries.

Nets 26 Points

Earl Karowsky netted 26 points as Peru's Central Indiana Conference champs bumped Macy, 66 to 34, and Terre Haute State Western Indiana titlist, dropped Terre Haute Garfield, a powerhouse two years ago, 49 to 41.

Here's the lineup of other afternoon games involving first-line teams:

1 P. M.—Gary Mann vs. Gary Proehl; Hammond vs. Hammond; Clark; Winslow vs. Petersburg; Madison vs. Scottsburg; Muncie Central vs. Albany; Fairland vs. Columbus; South Bend Central vs. South Bend Washington; Ft. Wayne North vs. Coesse.

2:15 P. M.—Lawrenceburg vs. Patriot; Tell City vs. Dale; Evansville Central vs. Evansville Central; Jeffersonville vs. Ft. Wayne Central; Frankfort vs. Michigan; Indianapolis Tech vs. Indianapolis Crispus Attucks.

Hungary Cleric Begs for Life At Spy Trial

'I Have Sinned, I Repent,' He Cries, After Plot of Guilty.

By EDWARD M. KERRY

SOFIA, Feb. 26.—The Rev. Vasily Zypakov, head of the Congregational Church in Bulgaria, confessed his guilt, proclaimed repentance and pleaded tearfully for his life today at the mass trial of 15 Protestant ministers.

Pastor Zypakov was the third of the defendants to have his say in district court. Like the others, he pleaded guilty. But his confession was the most abject of the three.

For 30 minutes he declaimed to the three-man court trying the ministers on charges of treason, black marketing and espionage for the United States and Great Britain.

'I Have Sinned'

At times his voice rose to a shriek. At others it dropped to a hoarse whisper. He waved his arms, and tears rolled down his cheeks.

"I have sinned," he cried. "I repent. I repent. I repent." He threw himself on the mercy of the court, begging the judges not to sentence him to become a "heap of earth."

Pastor Zypakov was a member of the Bulgarian delegation at the peace conference in 1946. A government "yellow book" on the current case called him the architect of the clerical group on trial.

The indictment charges Pastor Zypakov was a spy for the Western powers even at the peace conference.

Indictment Set Forth

"Instead of honestly doing his duty to his motherland," the indictment said, "he carried out the instructions of foreign intelligence."

"All decisions taken at the sittings of the delegation were relayed to the delegations of England and America. In this way Pastor Zypakov has clearly harmed the Bulgarian cause and facilitated the plans of the western imperialists."

At the opening of the second day of the trial, Yanko Nikolov Ivanov, Methodist church supervisor in Bulgaria, testified he supplied Soviet military information to American officials.

Pastor Ivanov testified for two hours today in addition to two hours and 50 minutes of testimony yesterday which was started off with what appeared to be a qualification.

Details Activities

He detailed how he organized intelligence activities at the request of Cyril Black, former U. S. legation staff member, in 1945.

Pastor Ivanov was the second defendant called and the second to plead guilty. Pastor Nicola Naumov, president of the supreme council of the United Evangelical Churches of Bulgaria and secretary of the Baptist church union board, was the first to testify yesterday, 16 to 20, pleaded guilty.

Pastor Ivanov testified today that, beginning in September, 1945, he began collecting information from all over Bulgaria on the numbers and location of Soviet troops, the arrival of Russian families, the strength of possible opposition to the Bulgarian government and economic data.

He said he toured the country several times collecting information which he passed on to Miss Melany Turner, principal of the American college at Lovetch, and later to her successor, Miss Helen Cooper.

He said he had hoped for the postponement of elections in August, 1945, which was ordered by the government. He said many peasants supported Nikola Petkov, Agrarian Party leader who was later executed, but that these peasants "expressed fear that America would abandon us at the crucial moment because the Soviet Union was behind the Communists."

He said he received one letter from one of his Bulgarian informants, saying "we can struggle against communism but not against the Soviet Union."

In connection with the election postponement, Ivanov said, "I proposed that the church remain far from political life."

"I told my pastors to campaign in the elections, but privately, not as part of the church."

Hope to Avert Strike

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 (UP)—Mediators in the city's threatened power strike reported the possibility of a settlement today as union officials agreed to consider new proposals of the Consolidated Edison System. Union employees voted 279 to 373 for a strike call sometime after midnight Tuesday. They are demanding a 15-cent hourly wage increase.

Flaming Reprisal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (UP)—Eddie Brady, 50, had an argument with his wife and four sons, and they wouldn't let him come into the house, so he soaked the front porch with gasoline and set it on fire. The damage was about $100. Eddie was charged with arson.

Commissioner Finds Seat Occupied, But Not for Long

Young Fan Makes Hurried Exodus

Youth is enthusiastic, but sometimes enthusiasm can be embarrassing, too.

Yesterday at the Fieldhouse as the Crispus Attucks-Ben Davis game was about to start, High School Basketball Commissioner L. V. Phillips looked for his seat. A young gentleman from one of the city or county schools, however, had firm possession of it.

"Son," said Earl Ensinger, press section chief, "May I see your ticket?" The young man got up. "Do I have to leave this seat?" he asked.

"Son," gently said Mr. Ensinger, who also is golf coach at Tech, "You wouldn't want to keep the commissioner's seat, would you?"

"I would if I could," cheerfully said the boy. Then, his eyes popping, he saw the high commissioner himself at his side.

"Up," he gurgled as he shot up the aisle.

"The principal wrote back, protested he had only heard that such a situation existed. That was all."

Mr. Phillips was beaming yesterday as he watched the afternoon games because everybody was happy. There haven't been any complaints about the officiating, no fights on the floor or among the spectators, the ticket division has been to everyone's satisfaction and there wasn't a gambler in sight of the Fieldhouse.

Mr. Phillips gets around places where there might be ticket scalping if there were any, but so far he hasn't detected a thing out of the way.

"It looks like another great sectional and another great state basketball tournament—the best in the world," he said.

Bill Passes House to Give Legislators 'Per Diem' Pay

Senate to Vote on Measure Next Week; Minority Members Offer Token Resistance

State representatives have made another tentative grab into the state's coffers.

This time, however, it was a mere $56,730—expense money for themselves.

Whether or not the "no sale" bell rings depends on action taken by the Senate which is expected to consider the measure early next week.

In spite of a token resistance offered by a generous portion of minority members and weak-voiced opposition from some Democrats, the bill yesterday passed by a 52 to 36 vote. It would give legislators $620 per diem for each day of the 61-day session.

The one serious note struck in debate was offered by Rep. Russell I. Richardson (R., Lebanon), who said that since he voted against payment of the administration's bonus bill, he had to be consistent and deny his support to this raid on the state treasury.

He said although he only received $1200 for his service, he would gladly have accepted half the amount since he received more than $1000 worth of experience.

Youthful Judson F. Haggerty, Indianapolis Democrat, also voiced an opinion against passage of the bill.

He offered to turn his expense money over to the state general fund if the measure passed and eventually becomes law.

"I am not wealthy," Mr. Haggerty told the House. "I live here in Indianapolis and my expenses are not too great. The men from the outlying sections of Indiana face great expense to come here to make law. But if those who live nearby follow my example, I'll donate my money toward payment of the soldiers' bonus."

Warner to Fight For Firm's Theaters

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 26 (UP)—President Harry M. Warner of Warner Brothers movie studio said today he will not give up the firm's theaters "without a court fight."

The Justice Department announced yesterday that Paramount Pictures has agreed to split its production and exhibition interests, making it the second major studio to do so after 11 years of litigation.

Mr. Warner said he does not believe the courts would order a break-up of his organization.

YMCA Enrolls 1174 In Member Drive

Lucas Doubts Early OK of New Labor Bill

Senate Talk Unlikely Before Next Friday On Truman's Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (UP)—An administration spokesman in the Senate conceded today that Congress will not pass President Truman's new labor law by the target date of April 1.

Senate Democratic Leader Scott W. Lucas of Illinois refused to say exactly how soon he believes the measure would be enacted. But he made it plain that he doubted Congress would approve a new law to replace the Taft-Hartley law by early Spring, when many union contracts expire.

Therefore, Sen. Lucas said he probably will not urge the Senate Labor Committee to start voting on the administration bill before next Friday, the date tentatively set by Chairman Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah.

He said, however, that the bill would have high priority for Senate debate as soon as the committee acts.

Sen. Claude E. Pepper, D., Fla., said he hoped the committee could complete action at its next meeting, but there was little chance Republicans would agree to that proposal without a fight. Other Congressional developments:

Pact

Sen. Walter F. George (D., Ga.), called on the State Department to make "crystal clear" what this nation's obligations will be under the North Atlantic defense pact. Sen. George, a ranking member of the Foreign Relations committee, said he had suggested several top-secret changes in the U. S. treaty draft and had been assured the changes were under consideration.

Court Test

Sen. Guy Cordon (R., Ore.), said it might be a good idea for Congress to permit a court test of some of the federal power projects it has authorized. He made the statement after a debate yesterday with Raymond P. Jackson, a lawyer for the National Association of Electric Companies. Mr. Jackson claimed that a proposed $2 million steam plant for the Tennessee Valley Authority at New Johnsonville, Tenn., would be unconstitutional. Sen. Cordon said he disagreed.

Underdeveloped

A group of six Democratic Senators have introduced a bill to give Federal aid to "underdeveloped" areas of the United States. The program calls for the Secretaries of Agriculture, Labor, Interior and Commerce to co-operate in helping local governments build up private industries.

Filibuster

Senate Democratic leaders hope that Vice President Alben W. Barkley will reverse last year's ruling by then Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg (R., Mich.), that debate cannot be limited on mere motions to take up bills.

If he does, they said, they can effectively cut off a threatened filibuster by Southerners against the proposed change in present Senate rules of unlimited debate.

3 Hurt as Speeding Train Explodes

Steep Bank Prevents More Serious Accident

NIAGARA, Mo., Feb. 26 (UP)—Three crewmen were injured and five baggage cars were derailed and up-ended one and one-fourth miles east of here early today when a Frisco passenger train locomotive exploded.

Observers said the mishap occurred in a deep cut through a hill, and that the walls of the cut prevented a more serious wreck. The six passenger cars on the train did not leave the track.

Engineer Loses Arm

Engineer Frank C. Fulton, 60, Newberg, Mo., lost his right arm in the blast. L. E. Breezyfreeman, Bolivar, Mo., 50-year-old fireman, suffered burns about the face and chest. An unidentified mail clerk in one of the derailed cars was injured less seriously.

The Frisco passenger train, No. 3, was due here at 4:16 a. m. en route from St. Louis to Springfield, Mo. It exploded about one minute before it reached town.

Residents said the train would have been out of the cut and on a dangerous curve if the blast had occurred seconds later.

The train was traveling about 50 miles an hour when the steam boiler exploded. The engine and five baggage cars left the track. Railroad buses were sent here from Springfield to take 120 passengers on to the southwestern Missouri city. Frisco officials said a special train would take them on to their Oklahoma destinations.

House Votes Cent Gas Tax Increase

State Representatives today voted a 1-cent tax increase in Indiana gasoline.

The measure, to raise the gas tax from 4 cents to 5 cents, was passed by a vote of 51 to 39, a bare constitutional majority. It now goes to the Senate for approval.

The bill is part of the administration's plan for raising additional funds with which to repair Indiana highways.
