

Gas Utility Pledges Rate Reduction 'If'

Firm Officials Plead Case for Panhandle Deal

By DAN KIDNEY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—A $2 1/2 million rate reduction was promised Indianapolis gas consumers in 1951-52, provided Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. is ordered to deliver natural gas to the Citizens' Gas and Coke Utility.

The promise was made by Elliott G. Peabody, assistant to Citizens' General Manager Thomas L. Kemp, in the Federal Power Commission hearing which resumed here today. The FPC hearing is on a petition of the city to bring natural gas to Indianapolis for distribution by the Citizens' Gas and Coke Utility.

Rate Hike Possible

If natural gas isn't obtained the rates will go up instead of down, due to necessary capital investments for manufactured gas, Mr. Peabody said. Under the projected plan the natural gas would be mixed with manufactured gas and be named four companies as possible suppliers. Panhandle would effect the greatest savings, he sought to show by exhibits presented to FPC Examiner Edwin B. Marsh.

The Indianapolis case is under jurisdiction of Commissioner Harrington Wimberly.

Lots of Protesting

Panhandle has protested inability to give Indianapolis the requested 10 million cubic feet of gas daily and the other companies and their present customers also are protesting. Other producers named in the case are Texas Gas Transmission, Texas Eastern (Big and Little lines) and the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co.

Presents Figures

Mr. Peabody presented seven studies showing the capital investment costs of various production plans. They ranged from $27,158,593 for manufactured gas down to $9,130,539 for the least expensive natural installation for mixed gas service. The figures represented an estimated expenditure over five years starting in 1949.

He estimated that the 26-mile hook-up to Panhandle's main line would cost $1,335,000 and a 55-mile line to Texas Eastern $2,933,000 for a 16-inch pipe.

Under the municipal trusteeship of the board of directors determines gas company policy and has promised the rate cut if FPC acts favorably on the petition, Mr. Peabody declared.

Eric Larsen, consulting engineer with Peabody, Easton and Davis, New York City, and former FPC natural gas expert, testified that Mr. Kemp and other company officials had talked with Panhandle, Texas Eastern and the others but that no agreement to bring natural gas into the Indianapolis market could be reached in 1947 and 1948. He will seek to show that only an order from FPC can cause any of the companies to do so and exhibits offered will try to prove that this is possible.

Farm Price Index Down 4 Per Cent

Indiana farmers received 4 per cent less for their products in February than January, Purdue University and federal statisticians announced today.

The farm price index stood at 226 (1935-39=100), marking the seventh straight month of decline. Purchasing power of Hoosier farm products was down 11 per cent from a year ago.

Hogs were up ($19.70 to $20.40) in February and apples rose from $2.75 to $2.85.

Milk, eggs, corn, calves, turkeys took an abnormal drop for the season. Cattle, butterfat and oats fell instead of rising. Soybeans, wheat and chickens also dropped.

Women's Democrat Club Officers to Meet

Red Cross Lends a Hand at Billings

Red Cross volunteer, Mrs. Howard Pope, 705 E. 44th St., assists Billings Veterans Hospital patient Larry Thesing with rug weaving as her organization prepares for its first campaign report, to be returned Thursday. Hundreds of volunteers are ringing doorbells in Indianapolis and Marion County to raise funds to continue Red Cross work in disasters and mercy missions.

Hogs Off as Much as $1; Steers Steady but Sluggish

Hog prices suffered a 50 to 75-cent, and instances, $1 loss today in the Indianapolis Stockyards in comparison to yesterday's early and best prices.

Good to choice hogs in the 160-225-pound class moved at $20.75 to $21.25 with a top of $21.50 paid sparingly. A few lots brought $20.50 per hundredweight.

Good to choice 225-250 pounders sold at $20 to $20.75 and a few brought $21. Weights 260-290 pounds sold at $19 to $20.50. One lot of big weight 400-pounders brought $17.25.

Lightweight 100-160 pounders brought $17 to $19.50.

Sows Weak

Sows sold weak to 50 cents lower at $15.50 to $17. Scattered big weights did not move at bids of $15.25 or less. Stags were in scarce supply.

Uniform lower bids forced sellers to open sluggish and early sales were at prices steady to 50 cents lower. Steers weighing more than 1000 pounds suffered the full 50-cent loss. Several loads of average good to high good steers in the 1000-1150 pound class sold at $24.50 to $25.50.

Several loads of good to choice steers held steady at $26 and a few sales of medium to good brought $23 to $24.

Scattered good mixed yearlings and heifers moved at $24 to $25. Common to medium lightweight native yearlings were scarce.

Cow prices held fully steady in an active session. A few good beef cows brought $17.50 to $18.50, while common to medium moved largely at $16.25 to $17. Canners and cutters brought $14 to $16.

Bulls Steady

Bull prices were about steady with good heavy-sausage bulls bringing up to $22. Good beef cows moved mostly at $20 and down. Medium-sausage bulls brought $20 to $21.

Calves' prices advanced $1 in an active session. Good to choice calves moved at $27 to $29.50, common to medium at $17.50 to $27.50 and culls mostly brought $12 to $18.

All classes of sheep were active and fat lambs gained fully $1.25. Good to choice native lambs of mixed weights brought $27 to $28. Medium to good moved at $24.75 to $27 and common head sold at prices down to $21.75.

Ewes Also Steady

One lot of good to choice Western, average 102 pounds, sold at $28.25. A short deck of good 88-pound Westerns brought $27 per hundredweight.

Slaughter ewes sold at steady to $1 higher prices and good to $1 higher prices and good to $1 higher prices.

Earlham Lists Faculty Changes

2 Professors Retire; One Hired at School

RICHMOND, Mar. 8.—Earlham College today announced faculty changes including the retirement of two professors and the employment of a new one.

Clara Comstock will retire at the end of this year with the title of "dean of women and professor of physical education emerita." She has been dean of women since 1929 and professor of physical education since 1915.

Dr. William E. Berry, now head of the department of religion and Greek, will receive the title of "professor of religion emeritus" and teach next year on a part-time basis.

Heads Department

Thomas Shipley Brown of Westtown School has been appointed new assistant professor of religion in the combined department of religion and philosophy. Dr. D. Elton Trueblood will head the department.

Paul Hastings, who taught at Earlham from 1946 to 1948, is returning from a leave of study to be reappointed assistant professor of business administration.

Minton Urges Extra Judge

WASHINGTON, Mar. 8.—Judge Sherman Minton, New Albany, member of the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals in Chicago, testified before a House Judiciary Subcommittee here in favor of adding an additional judge to the court.

Cases are sent there from the Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin Federal District Courts and the docket is overcrowded, Judge Minton told the committee.

Rep. Winfield K. Denton, Evansville Democrat, is a member of the House Judiciary Committee which will act in the matter.

Should a new judge be added, it is likely that the appointment would go to an Indiana Democrat. Those mentioned previously for a seat before a House Judiciary Subcommittee are: Judge William L. Sparks, Indiana Republican, included Democrats Nathan Swaim, former State Supreme Court Justice, Howard Coughran, U. S. Attorney at Indianapolis, and Roger Brannigan, Lafayette.

City's '49 Traffic Toll Mounts to 8

Trolley Kills Woman Downtown

The city's 1949 traffic death toll stood at eight today, the latest victim a woman pedestrian who stepped in front of a trackless trolley in midday downtown traffic yesterday.

The victim, Mrs. Sarah Baer, 62, of 3021 N. Delaware St., died en route to General Hospital shortly before 2 p. m.

She was injured east of the intersection of Meridian and Washington Sts. as she stepped from behind a west-bound trackless trolley into the path of an eastbound Brightwood trolley. The operator was William Radford, 4012 1/2 E. 31st St.

The fatal accident was one of three pedestrian mishaps within a few minutes of each other in the mile square yesterday.

24 Trolley Mishap

At Illinois and Market Sts., Mrs. Margaret Turner, 26, 743 N. New Jersey St., was struck by a trolley operated by Everett Evans, 638 Madison Ave. She was treated at General Hospital.

Another pedestrian, Ray Millikan, 246 1/2 E. St. Clair St., escaped serious injury at St. Clair and Alabama Sts. when two cars collided and one car struck the pedestrian.

Melvin M. Parr, 52, of 2503 W. Howard St. and Delmar Hillard, 26, 810 S. Pershing Ave., were injured when their two cars collided at Howard St. and Pershing Ave. Parr was taken to General Hospital in fair condition. Hillard was treated for shoulder injuries.

18th in County

The latest traffic fatality, Mrs. Baer, was Marion County's 18th traffic death in 1949. A native of Lithuania, she had lived in Indianapolis 55 years.

Surviving are her husband, Oscar, two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Goldstein, Indianapolis and Mrs. Sylvia Abramson, Los Angeles; two sons, Joe Baer, San Francisco; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Sachs and Mrs. Sadie Robinson; and a brother, Max (Red) Sachs, all of Indianapolis, and seven grandchildren.

Plane to Return Mrs. Ball's Body

Husband Aboard Craft on Stretcher

A chartered plane was scheduled to fly to Muncie, Ind., returning the body of Mrs. Edmond F. Ball, second victim of a fishing boat explosion who died last night in a Ft. Myers, Fla., hospital.

Mrs. Ball, 41-year-old social and civic leader, was fatally injured in the explosion of the cruiser Osprey in which Mrs. Kathryn Applegate, 51, another Muncie social leader, was killed instantly. Mrs. Applegate's body was returned to Muncie earlier.

Scheduled to return on the same plane with Mrs. Ball's body were the husbands of the two victims, Ray Applegate, advertising executive, and Mr. Ball, president of Ball Brothers Co. of Muncie. Both men received severe burns and broken bones in the blast. They were to be brought aboard the plane on stretchers.

All Blown in Water

Other passengers on the plane were to be Mrs. E. B. Ball, mother of Mr. Ball and Mrs. Frederick Urban, mother of Mrs. Ball. Both women flew to Ft. Myers immediately after receiving news of the accident.

The tragedy ended a fishing trip shortly after the two Muncie couples put out from Ft. Myers for a cruise in the Gulf of Mexico. All aboard were blown into the water when fumes from a leaking gasoline tank exploded. Also injured was Elmo Santini, fishing guide and owner of the boat who was released from the hospital yesterday.

3 Children Survive

Funeral services for Mrs. Applegate are scheduled at 11 a. m. tomorrow in Meeks Mortuary in Muncie. Rites for Mrs. Ball have not been set.

Mrs. Ball, the former Miss Esabelle Urban, Anderson, was a graduate of Dana Hall, Wellesley, College preparatory school and the University of Arizona.

She is survived by her husband; her mother, three children, Frank Edmund, 10; Marilyn Bertha, 6; and Frederick Crosley Ball, 3, and a brother, Harter Urban, Anderson.
