SWING ROUND AND ROUND AND JUMP UP AND DOWN
A favorite activity for sessions at outdoor or indoor meetings of scout troops, camps and clubs is the game of tanglefoot. This game provides plenty of action and fun for intermediates through to adult groups.

The equipment necessary can be assembled in a very short time. A 15 to 20-foot section of clothes line is needed, but the weighted ball that is swung on the end of the rope can be made from several objects. The most simple is to wrap an old soft baseball in a square of lightweight canvas, and tie the rope around the gathered ends of the material. If this is not available, an old baseball mitt or tennis shoe may be tied to the end of the rope.

The swinger in the center of the circle of players swings the object at the end of the rope so that it skims the floor as it circles under the feet of the jumpers. Each player touched by the swinging rope or ball is out of the game; and the final player becomes the winner. TOMORROW—Roll a Wheel With a Pusher.
