Children once again held the spotlight at the Indiana State Fair today on the Education Day program.

Top event of the day was to be the annual Hoosier high school band contest. Twenty-four bands from throughout the state were scheduled to compete for $425 in prizes.

A crowd of 61,847 persons yesterday brought the total paid attendance up to 403,026 for the first six days of the exposition. Somewhat larger crowds were expected for the remainder of the Fair.

Leading the Grand Circuit harness-racing card today was to be the 234 running of the Fox Stake for 2-year-old pacers. A purse of approximately $30,000 has been offered.

Farmers' Day

Miss Carolyn Rudy of Bluffton, 1949 Junior Miss of America, was to present a wreath of roses to the State winner. Miss Rudy was guest of the Fair yesterday and today.

Tomorrow's Fair program will honor farmers and farm organizations. The annual Farmers' Day parade will be held at 11 a. m. with floats and bands competing for $1,000 in prizes.

Competitive floats will represent Hoosier communities, counties and townships. A third-class in the parade will be a hobby contest. Anson Thomas of the Indiana Farm Bureau will serve as parade marshal.

4th Day Events

Other top events tomorrow include the fourth day of Grand Circuit harness racing, the State Fair Follies and the Horse Show with Wayne King's Orchestra. Judging of horses, cattle, sheep and swine also will be held.

Barkley Gives the Press A Polite, Firm Bum's Rush

12 Waiters, Journalists on Verge of Fight As Dear Alben Mourns His Shattered Privacy

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7 (UPI)—Former Alben W. Barkley made it clear today that he wants newsmen to stop cramping his style while he was Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, St. Louis widow who is 35 years his junior.

The 72-year-old "Veep" had three reporters and five photographers given a polite but firm bum's rush from the starlight roof of the Chase Hotel where he took Mrs. Hadley, who is 37, dancing last night.

"This is my private life, and I don't want you to interfere with it," Mr. Barkley told one photographer.

At one point the newsmen engaged in an argument with 12 waiters who laid hands on some of them while threatening to eject. His tools of the trade usually consist of a strong screwdriver.

The scene stole attention from the with which he pries open a window show. Mr. Barkley, who has visited the widow since Sunday, will driven through one end, The planned to leave this afternoon with a list of articles from Springfield, Ill., where he will unveil a bust of Benjamin Franklin tomorrow. It was understood that Mrs. Hadley would not accompany him.

Couple First in Public

Last night was the couple's first date in public during his current visit here. Mr. Barkley himself made the arrangements to spend the evening with a group of friends at the night spot.

The couple slipped up to the roof by a rear elevator. Mr. Barkley had asked the orchestra to play certain numbers upon their entrance, but he was thwarted because they entered while the floor show was on.

The couple found a side window had been forced open, and a child's purse stolen from the bed. The purse and stick were found near the open window, police said.
