Teen Problems—
Boy Should Write First
By JEAN
SOME OF your best friends are going away to boarding school or college this fall, aren't they? So-o, will you write to them?

Well, naturally! But who should take the initiative? In boy-to-boy or girl-to-girl correspondence, it doesn't matter. But between a lad and a lass, it's up to the boy to make the first move.

A guy may line up his pen partners ahead of time or he may simply write when the spirit moves him. But a gal should never take it on herself to start a correspondence—that's an age-old rule.

THEY SAY absence makes the heart grow fonder. So watch your words, kids. Don't let home-sickness or loneliness lead you astray.

In the first place, it's cruel to write affectionately if you don't mean it. But look at it from your own point of view: mushy, gooey letters will be embarrassing when your attack of the lonesome blues is over. No doubt about it! Meanwhile, they may seem funny to the recipient. And who wants to be laughed at?

Even if your loving letters come from the heart, it's foolish to write 'em. You and your honey will change with the years, you know.

MURPHY GOOBY LETTERS MAY SEEM FUNNY TO THE RECIPIENT, AND WHO WANTS TO BE LAUGHED AT?

Try Recipe For Stuffed Peppers

Ideal Dish For Cool Nights

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Time now to begin collecting recipes for cooler nights. Let's begin with stuffed green peppers and Brazil nut cookies.

CREOLE STUFFED PEPPERS
Six medium green peppers, 1 small onion, chopped, 1 cup ground cooked ham (or 1/2 pound dried beef), 3 tablespoons fat, melted, one 10 1/2-ounce can condensed tomato soup, 1/2 cup cornmeal, 1 egg, slightly beaten. Heat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderate). Remove seeds and tops from peppers. Combine remaining ingredients, mixing well. Stuff peppers. Place upright in greased 2-quart baking dish; add water to cover bottom of dish. Cover and bake one hour at 375 degrees F. Makes six servings.

Thursday's Menu

BREAKFAST: Canned blended orange and grapefruit juice, ready-to-eat cereal, soft-cooked eggs, enriched toast, applesauce, cake, tea, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tuna fish salad with lettuce, sliced tomatoes and cucumbers, hot buttered toast, applesauce, cake, tea, milk.

DINNER: Creole stuffed peppers, steamed rice, corn on cob, enriched soft rolls, butter or fortified margarine, romaine and onion salad, fruit bowl (grapes and fresh prunes), cheese, coffee, milk.

Dishing the Dirt—
By MARGUERITE SMITH
I have an azalea plant that is barely alive but I'd love to save it. It was a gift to me nearly three years ago. I set it outside the first year and although it was fairly healthy it never bloomed. This year it looked dry but finally had three or four bunches of leaves. I trimmed it back early this spring—A Dishing the Dirt Fan.

A—Maybe your poor plant really is dry. Azaleas are hard drinkers. Try keeping the pot in a deep saucer. Fill the saucer with water each morning. Other essentials—a temperature not too high (that means no hot living room but a cool unheated bedroom or enclosed porch for its winter quarters); also not too much sun (try east or west window).

Blackwood on Bridge—

Play Called 'Lucky Shot In the Dark'

'It Wasn't Dark,' Says Old Master

By FASLEY BLACKWOOD

IT IRRITATES Mr. Champion when his opponents hold several good hands in succession. (An independent survey indicates Mr. Champion isn't the only one who feels this way.) However, his irritation rates above the average. In the rubber in which this hand was played, Mr. Dale and Mr. Muzzy had already held two big hands. On one they had set

South dealer North-South vulnerable

Mr. Dale S-A K 9 5 4 3 H-Q 9 8 D-10 3 C-K Q

Mr. Champion S-10 8 3 H-4 D-K Q J 7 5 D-9 4 C-A 8 7 3 C-10 9 5 4 3

Mr. Muzzy S-7 H-A K J 7 4 3 D-A 8 6 3 C-J 6

The bidding: South West North East 1 H Pass 1 S Pass 3 H Pass 4 H All Pass

Mr. Champion 300 points off a sacrifice bid. On the next deal they had bid and made a game. Then this hand came along.

Note Mr. Dale's cautious bidding. Surely he had enough to probe for a slam after his partner opened the bidding and then made a jump rebid. But it was a good thing he didn't.

Wins Opening Lead

Mr. Muzzy won the opening lead of the king of diamonds with the ace. Now there are two things Mr. Muzzy likes to do. One of them is to finesse. The other is to ruff losers in dummy. Through the years he has stubbornly resisted the temptation of learning anything about side suit establishment, even in its simplest forms.

As trick two he led a second diamond. Mr. Champion won with the jack, cashed the ace of clubs and led another club to dummy's king. Now Mr. Muzzy came to his hand with the ace of hearts, led a third diamond and ruffed with dummy's nine of hearts. Mr. Abel over-ruffed with the 10 and led a trump. Mr. Muzzy took the rest, discarding his last diamond on the second high spade from the board. Thus he barely made four-odd.

As you see, if Mr. Muzzy had set up dummy's spade suit by ruffing out one round; he could have made six on the hand—throwing all of his losing diamonds on the set up spades.

Mr. Champion was sore because Mr. Dale had soft-pedaled his good hand and stayed out of trouble. "You should have been in six and down-two," he snarled. "Quitting at four-odd was just a lucky shot in the dark."

"It wasn't dark where I was sitting," replied the old master tolerantly. "I could see fine."
