

Sanatorium Fund Cut Stirs Wide Protest

Charge Sunnyside Slash Made Without Hearing Board

A network of 102 Marion County health and welfare agencies today protested the County Commissioners' "unbusinesslike and undemocratic" slashing of Sunnyside Tuberculosis Sanatorium's budget.

In a letter to each of the county's three commissioners, the health section of the Council of Social Agencies criticized the commissioners' "rewriting of the Sunnyside budget."

The protest grew out of commissioners' slashing some $46,000 off Sunnyside's budget without consulting the hospital's board of managers, who had asked to be heard on the subject.

Loss Another $11,000
The commissioners submitted the revised budget to the County Council which subsequently lopped off another $11,000, making Sunnyside victim of a double budget cut.

The letter of protest said it did not contend the action was "contrary to law or even with other than due regard for the cost of county government."

"The planning committee of the health section does wish to point out, however," the letter continued, "that the principle of establishing a budget without giving a hearing to the board which has legal responsibility for administration of the institution is considered unbusinesslike and undemocratic."

"Sunnyside is a vital link of Marion County's program of tuberculosis control. As a protection to the health of the citizens of Marion County we believe that before the budget for the institution is established, the board of managers and the general public should be granted the courtesy of a hearing."

Confirms Slash
County Commissioner William Bosson Jr. confirmed the slash but said he did not know the institution had asked a hearing.

A Sunnyside representative, however, said that the president of the board had requested a hearing from Mr. Bosson and had believed it was forthcoming until hearing of the cut.

The commissioners slashed two items, $28,000 off the personnel budget, bringing it down to last

Veterans Oppose Pelley's Release

American Legion posts of Hamilton County were on record today as being unanimously opposed to the parole from the Federal Penitentiary of William Dudley Pelley, prewar leader of the Silver Shirts of America.

In a resolution passed at last night's meeting in Arcadia, legionnaires bitterly opposed efforts of Sen. Langer (R. N. D.)

to get a Senate Judiciary Committee investigation of the Federal Parole Board's "stubborn refusal" to parole the former Noblesville magazine publisher.

The Legion posts were unanimous in urging that "Pelley pay the full penalty for the addition of which he was found guilty."

Pelley was convicted and sentenced to 15 years at his sedition trial in Indianapolis Federal Court on Aug. 12, 1942. District Judge Robert C. Baltzell.

year's sum, and a $17,000 sum requested to set up a pension plan.

The additional $11,000 cut by the council brought Sunnyside's budget to within a few dollars of their allocation for this year.

3 Children Hurt In Traffic Mishaps

Boy Hurl'd Off Cycle In 3-Way Accident

Three children and a 67-year-old man were recovering today from injuries received in Indianapolis traffic accidents.

Twelve-year-old Leroy Williams, of 3109 E. St. Clair St., was treated in St. Vincent's Hospital after being knocked from his bicycle in a three-way accident yesterday.

The mishap came after a motorcycle, operated by Thomas W. Gray, 40, of 3034 Broadway, collided with a small truck at 10th and Dearborn Sts. The bicyclist crashed into the truck when it suddenly stopped.

Girl, 10, Hurt

Napile R. Rice, 10, of 2260 Hillside Ave., was treated and released at General Hospital after being struck by a car in front of her home yesterday. Police said she ran into the side of the car.

David Morris, 4-year-old son of Mrs. Alice Morris, 37, 831 E. Morris St., was struck by an automobile operated by Wilmer Coffin, 42, of Spiceland, yesterday afternoon.

He was treated and released at Methodist Hospital. Police said the driver was blameless.

Ernest Connor, 67, of 2829 E. New York St., was in a critical condition in General Hospital of injuries suffered last night when he walked into the side of an automobile on New York St., near his home.

Police said John J. Kruge, 1110 Tecumseh St., was blameless. Hospital attaches said the victim suffered from deep scalp lacerations and a possible skull fracture.

Woman, 48, Nears Wheelbarrow Goal With Child

MONROE, Mich., Sept. 20 (UP)

Mrs. Julia St. Clair, wheelbarrow-pushing "Miss Hungary of 1918," trudged along within 40 miles of her Detroit goal today still passing up all offers of marriage.

"Most men of 48 act like there's 90," she said.

The deeply-tanned ex-beauty queen, who started from Jacksonville, Fla., with her 7-year-old son in a wheelbarrow, expects to arrive in Detroit tomorrow.

HER ARRIVAL was timed at exactly three months from the day her son, Dolphie, climbed aboard the wheelbarrow to start the 1400-mile trip to see his grandmother.

"Someone said I'd return to Jacksonville riding in the wheelbarrow myself with a man pushing it," the 48-year-old woman said.

"Well, you can see I'm not married yet and I don't intend to be. Men my marrying age are too soft," she said.

Surviving are another daughter, Miss Irma Lantz, Indianapolis; two sons, Harry Lantz, Indianapolis, and Alfred Lantz, Danville; seven grandchildren, and five great-grandchildren.

Parking Meters Yawn for Coins

Ordinance Becomes Effective Tomorrow

By DAVID WATSON

Tomorrow is M-day in Indianapolis—Parking Meter Day. Slots in 542 newly installed parking meters will be ready to receive "donations" from motorists in return for parking time.

But within the ranks of city officials there is a difference of opinion on maximum time to be "sold" each motorist for continuous parking.

Mayor Feeney has said that parking longer than the maximum prescribed for downtown areas by motorists who "feed" coins to the meter slots will defeat the purpose of the devices.

Split on Key Issue
City councilmen, however, were split on the issue raised last night at their regular session. Some thought it illegal to prevent drivers from parking as long as they liked if they inserted enough coins in the meters.

Other council members contended that meters were installed to increase the turnover in downtown parking spaces and were not set up to increase the city's income.

Backers of the meter installation have favored time limits ranging between 12 minutes in the most congested areas and one hour in less crowded zones.

Statements by councilmen that city income from traffic stickers would drop if meters were exempted were countered with declarations that any reduction would be balanced by savings in time by police officers and income from the meters.

Mayor Feeney said today the question of time limit will be left up to the city legal department.

"We will go along with their decision and the desire of the City Council," he said.

Truman to Attend Boyle Celebration

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (UP)

President Truman and other big administration figures will go to Kansas City next week for a homecoming celebration honoring the newest member of the Democratic high command.

The honor guest will be Chairman William M. Boyle Jr., of the Democratic National Committee. Vice President Alben W. Barkley, Speaker Sam Rayburn and other Democratic big shots are on the program with Mr. Truman. The date is Sept. 29.

There will be a $15-a-plate testimonial dinner for Mr. Boyle. Its sponsors already are fearful that Kansas City's big municipal auditorium will not hold all those who want to dine with the new chairman.

Mr. Boyle is the 47-year-old, 190-pound Missourian who took over control of White House and national committee patronage last February. He succeeded J. Howard McGrath last month as national chairman when the latter left the Senate to become Attorney General.

Purdue Fraternity Sets Farm Frolic
LAFAYETTE, Sept. 20 — The Purdue University chapter of Sigma Chi Fraternity will present its first annual "Farm Frolic" tonight in the fraternity yard.

Farm implements, corn, hay and pumpkins will be the background for several contests, including ice cream eating contests between faculty and students and egg-throwing competition.

Civilians Capture Burglar Suspect

Two civilians captured a burglar suspect early today in responding to a woman's screams and police investigated two other burglaries and house-breaking attempts in which nothing was stolen.

Seize Man After Woman Screams

Cleveland Smith, 40, who refused to give police an address, was caught after a short chase on W. 11th St. after Mrs. Pearl Hallen of 107 W. 11th St., awakened to find a man in her apartment and screamed.

Claude S. Campbell, 27, of 41 W. 11th St., told police they saw Smith jump from an apartment window and run. They ran him down and notified police.

Surprises Burglar

Mrs. Georgia Hill, of 1232 Fayette St., reported she surprised a burglar crouched in her bedroom doorway last night. He escaped through a kitchen window as Mrs. Hill sounded an alarm.

Four men in an automobile escaped early this morning after being discovered in the act of breaking a plate glass window of the L & H Hardware Co., 1424 S. East St.

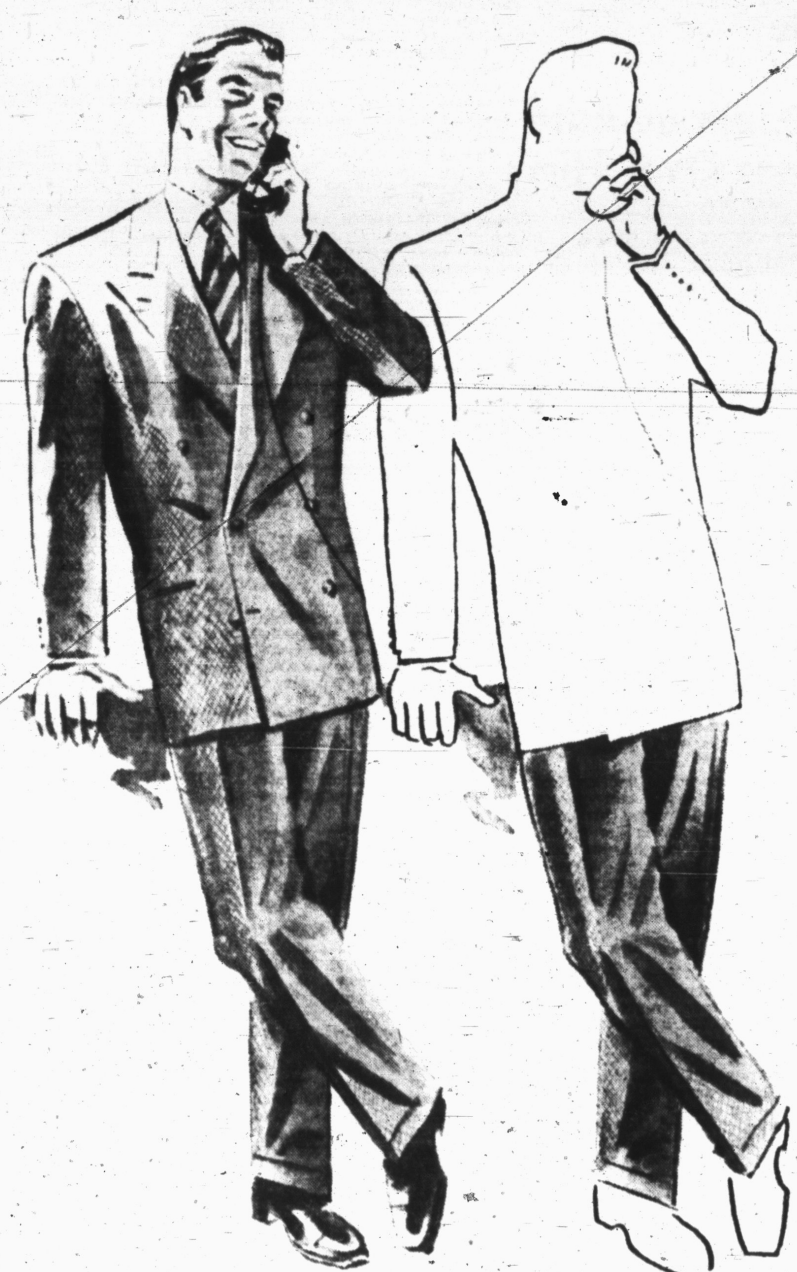

Harry Nelson Jr., 21, of 1425 S. East St., told police he saw a man hurl a brick through the window as he passed the hardware store. He turned his car around and the four men in the other car dashed away.

Earl Miller, of 333 Beauty Ave., told police he saw a man in a car who was missing from the window.
