

Accuse Russ Of Drugging Tito Aid

Yugoslavia Sends Soviet Blunt Note of Warning

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Oct. 1 (UP)—Yugoslavia sent a blunt note to the Soviets today warning them that they would have to assume responsibility for the "consequences" of their anti-Yugoslav activities.

A second note made public tonight charged Czechoslovakia with drugging and threatening a Yugoslav diplomat in Bratislava in an unsuccessful attempt to get him to join anti-Tito forces in Czechoslovakia.

This note, delivered in Prague and released here, said Oren Runic, in charge of the Yugoslav consulate general there, was kidnapped on Sept. 17 and charged the act had the "direct support of organs of the Czechoslovak authorities."

The note said it held the Czech government "fully responsible for the... violation of diplomatic immunity generally accepted and respected in international relations" and demanded concrete legal measures against the assailants.

At the same time, the official Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba said that the Yugoslav army now has enough arms to "give worthy answer to all who would attempt to endanger the freedom of our homeland."

These developments came as a third Russian satellite followed the Soviet Union in denouncing its friendship treaty with Yugoslavia. Bulgaria was the latest to follow in the footsteps of Russia itself, Hungary and Poland.

Charge Blackmail
The Bulgarian note, delivered to the Yugoslav Charge d'Affaires in Sofia, accused Yugoslav leaders of "threatening" Bulgaria, claiming Bulgarian territory, and sending spies into Bulgaria to undermine its government.

Romania and Czechoslovakia also are expected to denounce their friendship pacts with Yugoslavia.

Yugoslavia's 2000-word note to Russia, handed to the Soviet Charge d'Affaires here, answered the brief Russian notification Wednesday that the 20-year Soviet-Yugoslav pact was being scrapped. It accused the Soviets of using "demonstrative" troop movements and "blackmail" to frighten the Yugoslav people.

Mary Edith Sutton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sutton, 1910 Ludlow Ave., was sprayed by gasoline leaking from a car being pushed by a taxicab, witnesses said. It ignited immediately, a neighbor, Mrs. Thelma, Rutter, 1912 Ludlow, told police.

Another neighbor, Mrs. Ann Proffitt, 1920 Ludlow, grabbed a pillow from her front porch, ran to Mary Edith, rolled her on the ground and smothered the flames, police said.

Hospital officials said severe burns covered nearly half of the girl's body.

Police said the child in some manner became entangled in a cloth belt which was hanging from a clothesline. Her father saw her dangling from the line with one foot touching the ground and darted out into the yard to release her.

The police squad, summoned by the frantic parents said she was barely breathing when they arrived.

TV Bankrupts Bars, Makes Two-Drink Drunks, Is Wail

NEW YORK, Oct. 1 (UP)—Television is bankrupting the barroom business and making a lot of fellows two-drink drunks, Archie Dunn, the "Mayor of Delancey Street," complained today.

People are all wet, he said, when they think that television is a boon to bars.

IT'S SAD, but true, he explained, but the condition of the customers isn't reflected in the condition of the cash register any more.

What people see on the TV screen hypnotizes them, so that they get drunk sipping one or two drinks, instead of the usual dozen or so.

Howard is alleged to have been a policy wheel operator. The shooting occurred in the hotel's cocktail lounge. Cole said that Howard made a move like reaching for a gun. Cole said he drew his gun and fired six shots. Five struck Howard in the chest.

Police said they found no weapon on Howard's body.

Young men — clothes-wise you need — need only to see a "Cinema Fifty" and get a try-on and then comes the query— "How soon can I get it from your Tailor Shop!"
