It Happened Last Night— After Laughter? Read 'em, Sleep Wilson Collects a Few Jokes And Offers Them for a Chuckle

By Earl Wilson
NEW YORK, Oct. 12—Claudette Colbert told me she often travels by air when her husband pilots his own small plane—but shrinks from the big airline planes.
"Why?" I asked her.
"Well," she said, "if you're riding in a small plane, you can always say to the pilot, 'I've had enough, let's go down'—if the pilot's your husband."

TALLULAH BANKHEAD and LYNN FONTANNE feuded for a long time—but recently Noel Coward got them to make up. Everything went smoothly until Miss Bankhead began emphasizing her admiration for Alfred E. Smith, Miss Fontanne's husband.
"He helps you so much," Tallulah tallu-lahed. "He writes for you, directs for you, does everything for you. What would you do without him?"
"Probably 'Private Lives,' like you're doing," said Miss Fontanne.

I THINK THE SHEER NYLON costumes worn by the Latin Quarter lovelies in Lou Walters' new Frank Libuse-Alex D'Arcy show (staged by Fred Kelley, Gene's brother) will be the sensation of the cafe season.
The nylon costumes worn by Linda Lombard, Baby Lake, Bette Sherry, Dawn McInerney, Dorothy Ree, and others, have absolutely nothing under the nylon—except girl.
Comedienne Gloria Leroy, in her act, says, "There's a new perfume on the market called 'Nothing.' Ladies, if you want to be a big hit tonight when you go out, wear 'Nothing.'"

THE VERY PROUD FATHER of a struggling B'way actress met Jack Pearl in Lindy's, introduced his daughter, and asked, "Isn't she pretty?"

"She's beautiful!" rhapsodized Jack.
"You think SHE'S beautiful?" exclaimed her pop. "You oughta see her photograph!"

HOWARD HUGHES' party-finger, Johnny Meyer, was in El Morocco, when an impolite-type fellow said to Johnny's gal, Patsy Lydon, "Why do you go around with a guy like Johnny? With him you'll have absolutely no future."
"No," said Patsy, "but I'll have a hell of a past!"

HEY, THERE, gag thief Milton Berle! W. C. Fields stole, too. Robert Lewis Taylor's book.

Earl's Pearls

Jane Russell is a big singing hit in England. I guess those British just can't take their eyes off her voice. . . . Max Asaas, the delicate-sen dean, has a new complaint against Sunday drivers. They've started driving weekdays.

which calls Fields "the greatest comic artist ever known," quotes Fields' director, Gregory LaCava: "He would steal any act he could get away with, but if somebody tried to borrow from him, he went crazy."
That's Berle, brother!

GIRLS DON'T have to neck to have fun. For example, just the other night, all the girls in N. Y. who don't pet had a wonderful time, sitting home with her mother.

The Midnight Earl

B'WAY BULLETINS: Diana Barrymore—on her own sponsored CBS TV show—will quiz celebs and tell "nasty gossip." She has a published phone number; explains, "I can't get in the Social Register, so I settled for the Phone Directory." . . . Hand-some Johnny Johnston's here Miss Barrymore resuming his crooning career. He phones his B. W. Kathryn Grayson, in Hollywood almost every night. . . . Edio Pinza succumbed to nylon shirts. . . . Stan Shaw now conducts WINA interviews at Jack Silverman's Old Romanian. . . . Dutch singer Leo Fuld, of B'way, is a bit hit now in London.

What's Hot:

ANNA MAGNANI, the Rossellini reject, arriving with her child, will go to Hollywood as house guest of director William Dieterle. . . . Toots Shor, who missed the Yankee pennant-winning celebration at his place because of Yom Kippur, missed the series celebration when he flew to St. Louis for the Robert Hagan funeral. . . . Nick Schenck's daughter, Marti, went to Hollywood to study singing. . . . Lena Horne rushed in to attend the last of the World Series. Poor gal, she got there just in time to attend games 6 and 7.

Taffy Tuttle, the dumb blond, didn't hold her job as bank clerk very long. When the circus two-headed man wanted to cash a check, she asked if he had any identification. . . . That's Earl, brother.
